1. Provide the rationale for proposing this course:

Students who are preparing fields in African American history have only one choice for a graduate-level readings course in African-American history. Even when studying different topics under that course number (752), the student can only receive credit for 10 hours toward the required departmental hours. Students, ultimately, end up with 4 or more listings of 752 on their transcript, without any indication that these are different courses. These different numbers will allow us to teach a core content to these students (based chronologically) that will not interfere with their "topics" courses.
