State the need and purpose of the course. Indicate how the course relates to the primary goals of the academic unit/school/college/university.

The seventeenth century saw a radical transformation of European science and philosophy. These developments in natural philosophy are commonly referred to as "the scientific revolution". The aim of the course is to illuminate the seventeenth century scientific revolution by putting it in its intellectual context.

Indicate the nature of the program adjustments, new funding, and/or withdrawals that make possible the implementation of this new course. Evidence must be given of whether the budget support will come from reallocation of existing resources or from new program funds.

There are currently five faculty who have the expertise to teach this course. We should have no trouble offering this course regularly while maintaining the usual course offerings for which these faculty are responsible.

Is approval of this request contingent upon the approval of other course or curricular requests? Yes No
