CCI Subcommittee Review for English 367s
Arts and Sciences Committee on Curriculum and Instruction
Smith Lab
CAMPUS

Dear Committee Members,

The Department of English has spent the past year revising and reshaping its 367 series. Within the ten-course set, all of the core 367s currently have second level writing status. All the core 367s, but 367.04, currently have Social Diversity status. These are course change requests for the core English 367s, and English 367.04 is requesting Social Diversity (it did not have it before) therefore, Manny Martinez addressed his rationale for that course independently. The current honors version of 367.01 has both second level writing and Social Diversity status. The honors versions 367.02-367.05 are new course requests for fulfilling both categories.

Course Change Requests:

- 367.01 currently has 2nd level writing and social diversity status
- 367.02 currently has 2nd level writing and social diversity status, literature status for BS students
- 367.03 currently has 2nd level writing and social diversity status
- 367.04 currently has 2nd level writing status, requesting social diversity status
- 367.05 currently has 2nd level writing and social diversity status
- 367.01H currently has 2nd level writing and social diversity status

New Course Requests:

- 367.02H seeking 2nd level writing and social diversity status, literature status for BS students
- 367.03H seeking 2nd level writing and social diversity status

367.04H seeking 2nd level writing status, requesting social diversity status

367.05H seeking 2nd level writing and social diversity status

Attached are the correct syllabi for the core English 367s. We thank you in advance for moving this course set through the next appropriate steps, and look forward to its ultimate approval and hopeful implementation for autumn of 2010. If you have questions about the proposal please feel free to contact me at 292-4063 or through email, williams.1415.

Thank you for considering this request,
