Hello Andrea

Just 314 will be fine. The .01 was put in preparation for an eventual series down the road (this will probably not happen anyway until semesters take over), and there is nothing currently in the development stages. So we're okay with just 314.

Please let me know if you need need more information from me.

Danny

It is not recommended to make a .01 course offering unless the course is part of a subset of an umbrella topic or series. I do not have any other approvals for 314 at this time, so I suggest changing the approved number to 314 in order to comply with numbering guidelines.
