Program Learning Goals

Note: these are required for all undergraduate degree programs and majors now, and will be required for all graduate and professional degree programs in 2012. Nonetheless, all programs are encouraged to complete these now.

Program Learning Goals

Assessment

Assessment plan includes student learning goals, how those goals are evaluated, and how the information collected is used to improve student learning. An assessment plan is required for undergraduate majors and degrees. Graduate and professional degree programs are encouraged to complete this now, but will not be required to do so until 2012.

Is this a degree program (undergraduate, graduate, or professional) or major proposal? No

Program Specializations/Sub-Plans

If you do not specify a program specialization/sub-plan it will be assumed you are submitting this program for all program specializations/sub-plans.

Pre-Major

Does this Program have a Pre-Major? No

Professor Larry Krissek
Chair, Arts and Sciences CCI

Dear Professor Krissek:

At the undergraduate level the Department of Psychology has two major programs:

The Bachelor of Arts Psychology major
The Bachelor of Science Psychology major.

In his cover letter, Department Chair Richard Petty has detailed the careful consideration given by the Department to the semester conversion plans for these two majors. In light of its evaluation of the two majors, the Department characterizes the conversions of the two majors as "Re-envisioned with significant changes.." While this is an apt characterization of the conversions, the plans are well executed reductions in required field coverage and addition of elective choices that allow students to explore areas of interest in more depth. These conversion plans were reviewed by me and the Social Sciences Disciplinary Advisory Panel (SS DAP).

The SS DAP found the conversion plans to be very well constructed, as do I. As a result SS DAP and I support Psychology's conversion plans and submit them to you for CCI's consideration.

At the undergraduate level Psychology also has seven minors. In addition to the General Psychology minor, there are six specialized minors:

A) Clinical and Individual Differences;
B) Developmental Psychology;
C) Organization and Performance;
D) Social Psychology and Personality;
E) Biological Basis of Behavior;
F) Psychology Research.

The General Psychology minor was significantly revised and the six specialized minors were developed in the last couple of years and all were approved in Winter 2010. The semester versions are straight conversions of the recently approved quarter versions. The SS DAP has endorsed the semester versions and I have approved them and submit them for CCI's consideration.

Sincerely,

Gene E. Mumy

RE: Cover letter for semester conversion

Attached please find all materials for the psychology department program conversion from quarters to semesters.

With respect to converting our undergraduate program, the Psychology Department took advantage of the conversion process to engage in a complete reassessment of our major and minor programs. Initially, then department's Undergraduate Studies Committee (USC) explored semester psychology programs at benchmark institutions, and then relayed the findings to the faculty as a starting point for re-envisioning our curriculum. Based on faculty input, the USC proposed revised BA and BS versions of the major. These proposals were approved in modified form by the faculty as a whole. Subsequently, the USC reviewed all undergraduate courses, evaluating everything from our course numbering system, to prerequisite structure, sequencing, course content and learning goals for our students. The end result is the major attached.

With respect to converting our graduate program, the department is organized into seven graduate training areas (behavioral neuroscience, clinical, cognitive, developmental, IDD, quantitative, and social). Each program area worked out a converted area of concentration, and the department's Graduate Studies Committee (GSC) reviewed our overall department Ph.D. requirements as well as those of the seven areas of concentration. All proposed changes were carefully reviewed, discussed and subsequently approved by the full GSC.

As chair of the department, I can attest to the rigor with which the conversion process was undertaken and I approve of all of the proposed changes to our undergraduate and graduate programs.

Below, all current programs in the department are listed:

1. Undergraduate bachelors degree programs and/or majors: The Department of Psychology offers both a Bachelor of Arts (BA) and a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree program.
2. Undergraduate minors: The Department of Psychology has six specialized minor programs: A) General psychology minor, B) Clinical & Individual Differences Minor, C) Developmental Psychology Minor, D) Organizational & Performance Minor, E) Social and Personality Minor, and F) Biological Bases of Behavior Minor.

3. Graduate degree programs: The Department of Psychology has a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) program. Doctoral students in psychology typically complete a Masters of Arts degree as part of the doctoral program but the department does not have a separate MA program track.

All of these programs are proposed to continue under semesters. No program is being withdrawn. All necessary materials for the semester conversion are attached.

Sincerely,

Richard E. Petty
Distinguished University Professor and Chair
Department of Psychology

Rationale for proposed specialized (track) minor program changes:

A significant revision to the psychology minor was approved in winter, 2010 which allows us to better serve the educational and career goals of the larger student population. Not only did we revise our general psychology minor at that time, but we also developed six additional minor tracks, designed to provide the opportunity for more in depth study of a particular area of interest for students within the Colleges of the Arts and Sciences and beyond. We have applied the 2/3 rule and maintained the same structure and requirements for each of the seven minor tracks. We propose that in the revised specialized minors, students will continue to complete introductory psychology (1100), data analysis (2220), and research methods (2300), and complete the minor by taking three additional courses specific to the track.

Rationale for credit hours changes:

As noted above we utilized the recommended 3 to 2 conversion ratio that resulted in a reduction from 20-24 to 15 credit hours for a minor. The faculty agreed that all of the minors would maintain essentially the same characteristics with requirements of 5 courses of three credits each.

Minors available within the Psychology Department

Department of Psychology, 15 Psychology Building
1835 Neil Avenue, Columbus, OH 433210-1222
614-292-5750; http://undergrad.psy.ohio-state.edu/

The minor in psychology is 15 credit hours.

You are strongly encouraged to meet with a psychology advisor early to discuss your course selection and the Minor option best suited for your future goals. Honors students must meet with the psychology honors advisor (292-5750).

Requirements for all Psychology Minors

Psychology 1100*, Psychology 2220 (or equivalent determined by the Department of Psychology), Psychology 2300, and three additional courses specific to the chosen minor are required of all psychology minors. Psychology 2220 and Psychology 2300 should be taken as early as possible.

*Note: Because Psychology 1100 is a 1000-level course, students must take at least 18 credit hours total. See ASC rules 1 and 2 under ASC Minor Guidelines.

Note: If using preapproved equivalent to Psychology 2220, an additional psychology minor course must be taken. Please see psychology advisor for course options.

General Psychology Minor

The general psychology minor is intended to accommodate the interests and the needs of students from a variety of majors who want to develop a basic, foundational perspective in the field of psychology. The minor provides introductory coursework in fundamental psychological issues of behavior, cognition, development, and individual differences.

Complete one course from two of the four core areas (A-D) listed below. Complete one course from the Advanced Requirements.

Area A: Brain and Behavior
Psychology 2305, 2313, 2513

Area B: Cognitive Psychology
Psychology 2302, 2310, 2312

Area C: Clinical and Developmental Psychology
Psychology 2331(H), 2335, 2340(H), 2530, 2550(H), 2551

Area D: Social Psychology
Psychology 2325(H), 2367*, 2375*

Clinical & Individual Differences Minor

The minor in Clinical and Individual Differences considers the intellectual, emotional, biological, psychological, social, and behavioral aspects of human functioning in an effort to reduce discomfort and promote adaptation and personal adjustment. This minor will provide students with knowledge about current perspectives and research in the areas of abnormal psychology, adjustment, testing, health psychology, and diversity issues.

Complete three courses, at least two at the 3000+ level.

Psychology 2331, 2335, 2530, 3511, 3531, 3543, 3545, 4532, 4540, 4597.01*, 5613H, 5681, 5684

Developmental Psychology Minor

Developmental Psychology considers fundamental questions in the field of psychology from the perspective of developmental change, utilizing a cognitive, social, physical, emotional, and moral lens. This minor will provide students with broad exposure to human development across the lifespan, as well as to developmental issues with special populations, such as adolescents, individuals with developmental disabilities, and delinquents.

Complete three courses, at least two at the 3000+ level.

Psychology 2340, 2340H, 2350, 2550(H), 2551, 3552, 3555, 3571, 4554, 4681, 4684

Organization & Performance Minor

The minor in Organization and Performance provides students with knowledge of issues on both an individual and group basis, such as motivation, decision-making, leadership, creativity, and attitude formation, that impact performance on multiple levels.

Complete three courses, at least two at the 3000+ level.

Psychology 2311, 2325(H), 2367*, 2375*, 2530, 3321, 3508(H), 3511, 3521, 3522, 3545, 4597.02*

Social Psychology and Personality Minor

Social and Personality is a subfield of psychology that studies how people think about, influence, and relate to one another. This minor will provide students with knowledge about personality theory, attitudes and attitude formation, stereotyping and prejudice, and decision-making.

Complete three courses, at least two at the 3000+ level.

Psychology 2325(H), 2367*, 2375*, 2376, 2530, 3508H, 3515, 3525, 3543, 3545, 4475, 4518, 4520, 4630

Biological Bases of Behavior Minor

Biological Psychology explores the relationship between the brain and behavior. The Biological Bases of Behavior minor will allow students to study behavior specifically from a physiological perspective.

Psychology 2313 and complete two additional courses.

Psychology 2305, 2513, 3515, 4501, 5601, 5613H

Psychology Research Minor

The Psychology Research minor is designed to accommodate students with an interest in honing their analytical and quantitative skills. This minor will provide students with knowledge of advanced research methods, psychometrics, and modeling that can be applied to any number of fields, including the social sciences, business, medicine, and law.

Complete three courses.

Psychology 3321, 3321H, 4510, 3511, 4520, 4532 OR 2301, 4998 (at least 3 credit hours)

*Indicates courses that can also be used to meet GE Requirements

Overlap with the GEC
Permitted

Overlap with the major:
• Not permitted
• The minor must be in a different subject than the major.
• The same courses cannot count on the minor and major.

Overlap between minors
Each minor completed must contain 12 unique hours.

1000-level course
For every three credit hours of 1000-level course work on the minor, the minimum total required for the minor is increased by three.

Psychology 2220
If using a preapproved equivalent to Psychology 2220, an additional psychology minor course must be taken. Please see a psychology advisor for course options.

Grades required
• Minimum C- for a course to be listed on the minor.
• Minimum 2.00 cumulative point-hour ratio required minor.
• Course work graded Pass/Non-Pass cannot count.

Approval required
The minor course work must be approved by the Psychology Undergraduate Advising Office.

Filing the minor program form
The minor program form must be approved by Psychology Undergraduate Advising and then filed with college or school counselor at least by the time the graduation application is submitted.

Changing the minor
Once the minor program is filed in the college office, any changes must be approved by the Psychology Undergraduate Advising Office.

Transition policy:

The Department of Psychology is committed to partnering with students who will complete their degrees under two different calendar systems to minimize the impact of the conversion process on progress to completion of the Psychology minor. Prior to the transition, the department is committed to offering additional sections of required courses to facilitate progress through each of our seven minors. In summer 2011 and in December, 2011, psychology advisors will monitor the progress of psychology minors and make recommendations for additional scheduling as needed.
