Program Learning Goals

Note: these are required for all undergraduate degree programs and majors now, and will be required for all graduate and professional degree programs in 2012. Nonetheless, all programs are encouraged to complete these now.

Program Learning Goals

- a. Language Proficiency: minors will be able to perform at a minimum at the Novice High and preferably at the Intermediate Low level of proficiency, according to the American Council for the Teaching of Foreign Languages Proficiency Guidelines.
- b. Analytic Skills: Russian minors will develop analytic skills needed to discuss, analyze, and conduct research on Russian media, texts and other cultural artifacts.
- c. Cultural Appreciation: Russian minors will demonstrate a critical understanding and appreciation of Russian literature, culture, history, traditions, etc.
- d. Pragmatic Knowledge: Russian minors will demonstrate some experiential and pragmatic knowledge of Russian culture that will assist them in simple communications with native speaker of Russian.
- e. Internationalization: Russian minors will demonstrate an awareness of international issues and an international outlook.

Assessment

Assessment plan includes student learning goals, how those goals are evaluated, and how the information collected is used to improve student learning. An assessment plan is required for undergraduate majors and degrees. Graduate and professional degree programs are encouraged to complete this now, but will not be required to do so until 2012.

Is this a degree program (undergraduate, graduate, or professional) or major proposal? No

Program Specializations/Sub-Plans

If you do not specify a program specialization/sub-plan it will be assumed you are submitting this program for all program specializations/sub-plans.

Pre-Major

Does this Program have a Pre-Major? Yes

Prerequisite: Russian 1101, 1102, 1103 (12 cr)

Lawrence Krissek, Professor of Earth Sciences Faculty Chair, Committee on Curriculum and Instruction College of Arts and Sciences

Dear Larry,

The Department of Slavic and Eastern European Languages and Literatures has completed its proposal for semester versions of its undergraduate programs:

Undergraduate Major: BA in Russian

Minor Programs: Minor in Romanian Minor in Russian Minor in Slavic

The Arts and Humanities Disciplinary Advisory Panel for Curriculum within the College of Arts and Sciences reviewed and approved the undergraduate programs from Slavic and Eastern European Languages and Literatures during meetings in early December 2010 and early January 2011. All undergraduate programs are converting with minimal change, with the request to deactivate the Minor in Romanian. The BA in Russian has an assessment plan on file with OAA, verified October 15, 2010.

Most specifically, I have highlighted the important changes for each program below:

Bachelor of Arts in Russian: The BA in Russian was last revised and approved by CAA on June 3, 2009. The quarter-based degree is a minimum of 50 credit hours with 25 credit hours in pre-requisites, and its semester-based version is 31-33 credit hours with 15 credit hours of pre-requisites. The department has provided a detailed transition plan for students beginning the pre-requisite course-work in Russian and for those in the major course-work.

There are two specializations that are transcriptable.

• Specialization in Russian Language: The quarter-based degree is a minimum of 50 credit hours with 25 credit hours in pre-requisites (proficiency through 104 plus one culture course), and its semester-based version is 33 credit hours plus the 15 credit hours of pre-requisites. The program is retaining its pre-requisite requirements of fulfilling through 1103 (previously 104) and the one culture course. The Russian Language Specialization retains its second and third year requirements in the Russian Language and now requires a Capstone Russian 4575 for its majors. Russian 675, the Writing Seminar, is no longer required. The Language Electives are the same as on the quarter-system with students gaining proficiency at the fourth-year level, and the Literature/Culture Electives remain the same with the option for students to select from a list of courses that focus on linguistic aspects of the language.

• Specialization in Literature, Culture, and Film: The quarter-based degree is a minimum of 50 credit hours with 25 credit hours in pre-requisites (proficiency through 104 plus one culture course), and its semester-based version is 31 credit hours plus the 15 credit hours of pre-requisites. The program is retaining its pre-requisite requirements of fulfilling through 1103 (previously 104) and the one culture course. The Literature, Culture, and Film Specialization retains its second year requirements in the Russian Language along with its advanced reading requirement in Russian. It now also requires the Capstone course, Russian 4575 for its majors. Russian 675, the Writing Seminar, is no longer required. The Literature, Culture, and Film Electives remain the same as on the quarter-system.

Minor Programs:

- Minor in Russian: The Minor in Russian was last revised in 1990s. The quarter-based program is 20 credit hours with 20 credit hours of pre-requisites. The semester-based program is 13 credit hours (one 4-credit hour core course and 9 credit hours of elective course work) with twelve credit hours of pre-requisites (1101-1103). The minor is a course-to-course translation: 4 courses required in the minor course work in quarters, and still 4 courses required in the minor on semesters. With the revisions to the GE language requirements, and the re-envisioning of the GE language course offerings of reducing 20 quarter-credit hours to 12 semester-credit hours, students will take courses that are approximately 4 semester-credits in work-load. With the skills mastered in 1103, and an additional year of Russian language courses, students' time in the language will still be two years—the same as it was on quarters.
- Minor in Slavic Languages and Literatures: The Minor in Slavic Languages and Literatures was last revised in 1990s. The quarter-based program is 25 credit hours with 20 credit hours of pre-requisites. The semester-based program is 12 credit hours (four 3-credit hour courses) with twelve credit hours of pre-requisites (1101-1103). The minor is reducing its offerings by one course going from five on quarters to four on semesters. The significant change is the removal of the outside department requirement and the option for students to select second-year language as an option, but not a requirement.
- Minor in Romanian: The Minor in Romanian was also last revised in the 1990s, and with the departure of faculty member Rodica Botoman, the department has been unable to offer sufficient course work in the minor. However, pending future hires or interest from students, the unit would like to retain the option of reviving the minor in the future.

We are sending these undergraduate programs forward for review and approval in the next stage of curricular review at the Arts and Sciences Committee on Curriculum and Instruction.

The courses that are specific to all of the programs are listed under multiple Book 3 Listings of Slavic, Eastern European Languages and Literatures, Russian, Romanian, Bosnian, Bulgarian, Croatian, Serbian, Czech, Georgian, Hungarian, Ukrainian, and Polish. All programs from Slavic and Eastern European Languages and Literatures have the approval of Arts and Humanities. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to call or email me at 292-5727 or williams.1415@osu.edu.

Thank you for your consideration of these proposals,

Re: Semester Conversion: Russian Minor

The proposed changes to the structure of the Russian Minor were recommended by a faculty subcommittee and discussed at full faculty meetings in Spring and early Autumn 2010. During those plenary meetings, the changes were approved in accordance with our standard policy for curricular change, i.e., by majority vote. (The proposed changes were, in fact, carried by full consensus.) The Department proposal was submitted to Valarie Williams, Associate Dean of Arts and Humanities, for college-level review in Autumn 2010.

The rationale for the proposed program changes is laid out in section 10 of the proposal. Please note that the proposal has been updated to clarify the changes in the minor. The GEC sequence (prerequisite to the minor) has been changed from four courses to three by agreement of the chairs of the foreign language departments; however, the material covered will be fully equivalent to our four-course quarter-system sequence. Likewise, the two second-year courses of the quarter-system sequence (Russian 401/405 and 402/407) have been collapsed into one semester-system course, Russian 2104. After completing 2104, students will have covered the same amount of material as the two courses of the quarter-system sequence. However, the merged second-year course represents 4 semester hours—one third of a semester-system minor—whereas Russian 401/405 and 402/407 give 10 credits—one half of a quarter-system minor. To compensate for the discrepancy of three credits (10 quarter credits times 0.67 = 6.7 semester hours, not 4), we have proposed adding one additional literature or culture course to the minor. This will enrich minor programs without diminishing the language curriculum required for the minor.

The transition policy that I have approved is given in section 13 of the proposal.

Thank you very much for your consideration; please let me know if you need further information.

Helena Goscilo, Chair and Professor

Minoring in Russian

We are glad you are thinking of minoring in Russian! The minor aims at developing your language proficiency so that you can handle survival topics and a range of everyday communicative tasks in straightforward social situations. In addition, you will take coursework to increase your appreciation and understanding of Russian culture, develop your analytical skills, and give you an international outlook. The minor consists of four classes (13 credits)—second-year Russian 2 and 3 electives selected from a menu of literature and culture courses.

Prerequisites (12 cr)

•	Russian 1101	1st-Year Russian 1 (.01 classroom, .51 self-paced) (4 cr)
•	Russian 1102	1st-Year Russian 2 (.01 classroom, .51 self-paced) (4 cr)

Occasionally, other courses may be offered in the Slavic Department or in other departments that can fit into a Russian minor. Such substitutions require the approval of the program's Undergraduate Coordinating Advisor.

9. Curriculum Map

10. Rationale for proposed program changes

The Russian minor was last revised in the 1990s. In its quarter-system form, it requires second-year Russian (401/405, 402/407) plus two elective courses. The proposed semester conversion of the minor takes into account that the two previous second-year courses will be covered in part by the prerequisite third course in the GEC sequence (Russian 1103.01 or 1103.51) and in part by the one remaining second-year course, Russian 2101.01 or 2101.51. While capturing the spirit of the previous minor, this plan entails a reduction in the required language units from 10 qtr cr to 4 sem cr (rather than the straightforward semester equivalent of 7 sem cr). To compensate for this, one additional 3 cr elective course will be required. As a "content" rather than "skills" course, this addition will allow for minors with greater focus.

The courses included in the list of electives are mostly taken from the previous minor:

- Straightforward conversions: MRS 213 > MRS 2213; Russian 360 > 3360; Russian 3544 > 3644; Russian 694 > 4694.
- Merged courses: Russian 135 + 235 > 2335; Russian 250 + 251 > 2250; Russian 250H + 251H > 2250H; Russian 520 + 521 > 4220; Russian 522 + 523 > 4221; Russian 650 + 651 > 5250.
- Courses dropped from minor: semester equivalents of Russian 653, 656 (converted to graduate level)

The following courses are to be added in order to give students greater flexibility in tailoring their minors to their interests:

- Existing courses added to minor: Russian 631 > 4600 (converted to lower level), Slavic 130 > 2330 (raised to higher level), Slavic 360 > Slavic 3360, Slavic 583H > 4560H; Slavic 584H > 4260H; Slavic 760 > 4600 (converted to lower level)
- New courses added to minor: Russian 3535, 4597, Slavic 3320, Slavic 4597

TRANSITION POLICY

13. Policy statement from the chair of the department

Students who have completed the first quarter of second-year Russian (401.01/405.01 or 401.51/405.51), but not the second quarter required for the minor under the quarter-system program, will be credited with the completion of one of the four courses for the minor under the semester system. To replace the old Russian 402.01/407.01 or 402.51/407.51, they will be allowed to use one non-language course from the list of electives. Alternatively, they may be allowed to substitute Russian 2201.01 or 2201.51 upon the recommendation of the Director of the Language Programs.

Students who have completed both quarters of second-year Russian will be credited with the completion of two of the four courses for the minor under the semester system.

Students who have two quarter-system electives that have been merged in the semester system (Russian 135 and 235, Russian 250 and 251) will be credited with the completion of  $\underline{\text{two}}$  of the four courses for the minor under the semester system.
