Program Learning Goals

Note: these are required for all undergraduate degree programs and majors now, and will be required for all graduate and professional degree programs in 2012. Nonetheless, all programs are encouraged to complete these now.

Program Learning Goals

- Demonstrate possession of the critical vocabulary needed for literary & cultural analysis in Spanish; students will understand specialized critical vocabulary in works of theory & criticism, & employ appropriate terminology when analyzing texts.
- Exhibit familiarity with some of the most significant literary and cultural expressions of Spain and/or Latin America in the appropriate socio-historical context.
- Demonstrate a critical understanding of the works they have read and studied, and discuss intelligently themes, meanings, and language of the works studied.
- Relate works studied to the artistic, social, or political movements to which they pertain, and to relate the concerns and issues present in the works studied to the concerns and issues present in the society of which they are a part.
- Write clear, effective analytical papers in Spanish relating to the works & issues that they have studied.
- Write papers of substantial length with good organization, minimal errors in grammar, good choice of vocabulary, and utilize appropriate research skills.
- Argue persuasively and with some sophistication about the topic that forms the basis of their essays.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how the sounds & grammatical structures of Spanish are organized into the phonological & syntactic systems of the language.
- Recognize and describe the phonemic and allophonic inventory of the Spanish sound system as well as basic phonological processes within that system.
- Do basic linguistic analysis in several subfields.
- Describe linguistic phenomena using appropriate terminology in Spanish, and apply methodologies appropriate to a specific subfield, accessing the tools & resources available to them for linguistic and/or for laboratory or field work.
- Appreciate the linguistic and cultural perspective of native speakers; they will be able to recognize and describe the errors of English-speaking learners of Spanish.
- Demonstrate familiarity with the diversity of the Spanish language as it is spoken throughout the Hispanic world.
- Understand the main ideas of most speech in a standard dialect of Spanish, comprehend & give appropriate feedback to a variety of oral texts, including interviews, lectures on familiar topics, and news items.
- Demonstrate awareness of culturally implied meanings beyond the surface meaning of oral texts.
- Engage in conversations in most informal and some formal settings on topics of personal & public interest.
- Narrate orally, to describe in major time frames with good control of aspect, and to sustain communication with suitable accuracy and confidence.
- Write routine informal and some formal correspondence, narratives, descriptions, and summaries of a factual nature, narrate and describe in major time frames, paraphrase and elaborate to provide clarity in connected discourse.
- Express meaning that is comprehensible to those unaccustomed to the writing of non-natives with good control of the most frequently used structures.

Assessment

Assessment plan includes student learning goals, how those goals are evaluated, and how the information collected is used to improve student learning. An assessment plan is required for undergraduate majors and degrees. Graduate and professional degree programs are encouraged to complete this now, but will not be required to do so until 2012.

Is this a degree program (undergraduate, graduate, or professional) or major proposal? Yes

Does the degree program or major have an assessment plan on file with the university Office of Academic Affairs? Yes

Summarize how the program's current quarter-based assessment practices will be modified, if necessary, to fit the semester calendar.

Pending.

Program Specializations/Sub-Plans

If you do not specify a program specialization/sub-plan it will be assumed you are submitting this program for all program specializations/sub-plans.

Pre-Major

Does this Program have a Pre-Major? No
