Program Learning Goals

Note: these are required for all undergraduate degree programs and majors now, and will be required for all graduate and professional degree programs in 2012. Nonetheless, all programs are encouraged to complete these now.

Program Learning Goals

- Students articulate an understanding of the history, society, and cultures associated with the South Asia region.

- Students identify and understand the religions associated with the South Asia region and their impact on the peoples living there.

- Students recognize and analyze the arts and literatures associated with the South Asia region.

Assessment

Assessment plan includes student learning goals, how those goals are evaluated, and how the information collected is used to improve student learning. An assessment plan is required for undergraduate majors and degrees. Graduate and professional degree programs are encouraged to complete this now, but will not be required to do so until 2012.

Is this a degree program (undergraduate, graduate, or professional) or major proposal? No

Program Specializations/Sub-Plans

If you do not specify a program specialization/sub-plan it will be assumed you are submitting this program for all program specializations/sub-plans.

Pre-Major

Does this Program have a Pre-Major? No

Comments

- The South Asia Studies minor is not a "new" program, but one converted with minimal changes. It is entered as "new" rather than converted only because it is being moved from Arts and Sciences administration to Near Eastern Languages and Cultures. A Quarter system ASC advising sheet is included. (by Lynd,Margaret Elizabeth on 05/19/2011 02:30 PM)

Faculty Chair, CCI
College of Arts and Sciences

Dear Larry,

The Oversight Committee for the South Asian Studies Minor has completed and submitted its proposal for the semester version of its interdisciplinary minor: Minor in South Asian Studies. The Arts and Humanities Disciplinary Advisory Panel for Curriculum within the College of Arts and Sciences reviewed and unanimously approved the undergraduate minor during its meeting on May 11, 2011, provided feedback to the oversight committee, and is now forwarding it for review at full CCI. Please note that since this program crosses multiple units, only the first line on the PACER chart has been completed.

Most specifically, I have highlighted the important change for the program below:

Minor in South Asian Studies: The Minor in South Asian Studies was approved by CAA on February 3, 2010. The minor is changing with minimal conversion since it was just approved a little over a year ago. Currently there are no students in the minor as it was just approved for student matriculation in Au 2011. There were five courses required on the quarter version for a total of 25 credit hours, and there are five courses required on the semester version for a total of 15 credit hours. The core course remains the same: ASC 265 Introduction to South Asia became Comparative Studies 2220 Introduction to South Asia. Additional course work is selected from the same course list, with one History of Art course blending two courses into one.

We are sending this undergraduate minor program forward for review and approval in the next stage of curricular review at the Arts and Sciences Committee on Curriculum and Instruction. The courses that are specific to all of the programs are listed under multiple Book 3 Listings across different colleges. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to call or email me at 292-5727 or williams.1415@osu.edu.

Thank you for your consideration of these proposals,

Valarie Williams, M.F.A., Ph.D., Professor of Dance
Associate Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Arts and Humanities

South Asia Studies Minor Program

PROGRAM LEARNING GOALS

1. Students articulate an understanding of the history, society, and cultures associated with the South Asia region.
2. Students identify and understand the religions associated with the South Asia region and their impact on the peoples living there.
3. Students recognize and analyze the arts and literatures associated with the South Asia region.

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE WITH MINIMAL CONVERSION

This newly-approved minor program will undergo minimal changes in the semester conversion process. The overall credit- and distribution-requirements will be converted to accord with new distributions of credits under semesters. For example: 5-credit courses will become 3-credit courses; the current minimum of 25 credits for completion of the minor will become 15 credits. As under quarters, students will be able to overlap their minor credits with GEC/GE credits. Minor changes in individual student's programs will track departments' and college-wide changes in GE-requirements, course-levels, etc., and will continue to provide under semesters a coherent and in-depth education in South Asian studies.

TRANSITION POLICY

This minor is based on completion of courses with South Asia-related content in an array of departments within the College of Arts and Sciences, and has only one prerequisite. The vast majority of electives within the minor will be offered with substantially similar content in semester format. In the event of an individual student encountering difficulties related to semester-transition, we are willing to entertain petitions to count courses toward the minor which are not currently listed in the array of electives, and in exigent circumstances will arrange to complete the one requirement via independent study. The South Asia Studies Minor faculty are committed to individually advising students and helping them receive a South Asia Studies Minor.
