ITALIAN 1103

Hybrid Course

A note from the directors of the Italian Language Program:

Welcome to the Hybrid version of Italian 1103, the third course in the language sequence 1101-1103. In this course you will continue to develop your abilities to speak, write, read, and understand Italian. Although this course meets in a classroom two days/week, it is the equivalent of the four-day-a-week version of 1103 in terms of the amount of work. This course is designed for motivated students who are organized and have good time management skills, since the work you will complete outside of the classroom follows strict deadlines. Here are some helpful hints for a successful outcome in this course:

- 1) Read the syllabus carefully and understand the expectations of the course. Also, understand the homework assignment for each day. If you have questions, ask your instructor. The computer platform that we are using (Connect) keeps track of your assignments and will deduct points for missing assignments.
- 2) This hybrid course covers the same material as a traditional course, so students will be expected to spend the same amount of time in this course as they would in a traditional course that meets four days per week; the only difference is that the hybrid course allows more flexibility in when you do the course work. This means that the two days you are not in class, you will be doing work on-line which is the equivalent of two 55 minute classes and the hour of homework that would normally be assigned for each. In short, do not expect to spend less time doing the required work for this course than you would in a non-hybrid course. The two courses are the same in terms of amount and type of material covered.

3) Do all of your assignments and attend class regularly. Your instructor will assume that you have read and understood the material, so class time will stress communication and interaction. However, if you do not understand an assignment, when you come to class use the Italian expressions at the beginning of your textbook to ask questions or ask for clarification.

4) As in Italian 1101 and 1102, your instructor will make every effort to speak exclusively in Italian and you will be expected to do the same. Your instructor will use hand gestures, facial expressions, and visuals to help make concepts clear. If you are having difficulty understanding or following along, again, use the Italian expressions at the beginning of your textbook to ask for clarification. Remember: Use Italian whenever possible. You will not learn the language without using it!

We are sure that you will continue to find your Italian courses interesting, engaging, and fun! For those who are interested in developing their language skills beyond the 1100-level, information about the Italian major and minor are included at the end of this syllabus. Now is also the time to start thinking about studying Italian in Italy. Information about the OSU study abroad programs is also included with this syllabus. If you would like to practice your Italian outside of the classroom, check out our website (<http://frit.osu.edu/>) for the schedule of activities planned for Fall and Spring semester by the Italian Club, for the meeting times of the conversation group, Tavola Italiana, and for tutoring support (under 'Student Clubs and Conversation tables'). On behalf of the faculty and staff of the Italian program, we wish you a wonderful semester! If at any time you have any questions, comments, or concerns, feel free to contact the Director of the Italian Language Program, Prof. Janice M. Aski (aski.1@osu.edu) or the Assistant Director of the Italian Elementary Language Program, Ms. Carla Onorato (onorato.carla@gmail.com) at any time. Buon proseguimento!

GE Goals:

Students demonstrate skills in communication across ethnic, cultural, ideological, and national boundaries, and appreciate other cultures and patterns of thought.

GE Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Students employ communicative skills (e.g. speaking, listening, reading, and/or writing) in a language other than their native language.
2. Students describe and analyze the cultural contexts and manifestations of the peoples who speak the language that they are studying.
3. Students compare and contrast the cultures and communities of the language that they are studying with their own.

Course Enrollment

All students must be officially enrolled in the course by the end of the second full week of the quarter. Enrolling officially and on time is solely the responsibility of the student.

Course objectives

Italian 1103 is the third course of a sequence (1101, 1102, 1103) that leads to fulfillment of the general education requirement (GE). The Italian elementary language sequence is designed for students who wish to develop the skills necessary to interact in the language and learn about Italian contemporary culture and society as well as Italy's rich history. As in Italian 1101 and 1102, this course satisfies the expected learning outcomes for the GE in a variety of ways. You will refine your speaking skills in pair and small-group activities and you will continue to analyze and imitate models of native speakers presented on video. You will develop reading and writing skills by reading more elaborate authentic texts and writing related, reaction essays, and your listening skills will be cultivated by completing on-line listening activities, viewing and analyzing short clips from Italian movies, and listening to short lectures on topics in Italian culture, such as Italian pop music and opera, fashion, Italian holidays and traditions, and the Italian school system. Throughout this course you will compare and contrast Italian culture with your own.

At the end of Italian 1103 you should be able to:

- understand brief discussions by native speakers on familiar topics and presentations by the instructor on Italian culture with frequent explanations/clarifications
- read and understand short authentic texts, such as magazine articles

- engage in brief conversations with native speakers who are sympathetic to the communicative needs of foreign language learners
- write essays on topics related to readings or material used in class using the structures and vocabulary you have learned in both 1101, 1102 and 1103
- demonstrate a broad understanding of a variety of topics related to Italian culture, society, and history and be able to compare and contrast them to features of your own culture

COURSE EVALUATION:

Attendance and performance	15%
(5) quizzes	35%
Final exam	15%
Homework (assignments, videos)	25%
Oral exam	10%

Grading Scale:

A 93-100	B+ 88-89	B- 80-82	C 73-77	D+ 68-69	E 64-0
A- 90-92	B 83-87	C+ 78-79	C- 70-72	D 65-67

Attendance and performance: Regular attendance and participation in class activities are essential for learning a foreign language. In order to make progress in understanding and speaking Italian, students must hear and speak it on a daily basis. Therefore, prepare carefully for class by completing all assignments, and be ready to participate in class. If you have to be absent or are ill, contact a classmate to find out the assignments that you missed. If you bring a valid excuse to your instructor, s/he will give you access to the online assignments that you missed and give you a new deadline. You will be permitted two unexcused absences during the semester (Note: Summer has only one unexcused absence), which is the equivalent of a full week of class in the hybrid course. Other absences are only excused with a valid, written excuse. Repeated and/or lengthy absences, as well as lack of quality participation and interaction will affect your course grade. Attendance and participation grades are assigned weekly. Each day is worth 3 points. If you attend all days and participate and interact in class, you will receive 6 points for the week. For each day that you attend but do not participate and/or are disruptive or disengaged, you will lose points. Tardiness will also lower your participation grade.

After your 2 “grace days” (Note: Summer has only one grace day) if you have 2 more unexcused absences, you will lose your participation points for those 2 days. After this total of 4 unexcused absences (2 “grace days” plus 2 more unexcused absences), EACH additional unexcused absence will result in the loss of your participation points for those days and a deduction of 1% from your overall final grade. For example, if you miss a total of 6 classes without a medical excuse (including your 2 “grace days” and 2 more unexcused absences), you will lose the participation points and your overall final grade will be reduced by 2 percentage points (i.e. if your overall final grade is 91%, it will be lowered to 89%.)

NOTE:

- For Summer, after the 1 “grace day” plus 1 more unexcused absence, for a total of 2 unexcused absences, each additional unexcused absence will result in the loss of your participation points for those days and a deduction of 1% from your overall final grade.
- Absences are counted from the second week of the semester. Repeated unexcused absences will result in the filing of a “Student Absence Form” with your college office.

NOTE:

- The Absence Excuse Form downloaded from the “Advice Nurse” page is not accepted as a medical excuse. Minute Clinic is also not accepted as a medical excuse.
- Medical certificates must show the exact dates you are excused for.

- If you have a chronic illness that may cause recurrent absences or tardiness, it must be certified by a medical doctor or the Office of Disability Services.
- During class you must turn off and put away cell phones, I-pods and laptops. No text messaging is allowed.

Quizzes: There are five quizzes (each approximately 30 minutes in length) in this course. They will cover Strategie, Lessico, Strutture and Cultura. The Cultura section of the quiz will include questions from Ascoltiamo!, Leggiamo! Retro and all culture activities. You cannot use a dictionary for the Quizzes. Do not miss the quizzes. You will only be allowed a make-up if you contact your instructor beforehand and provide a valid written excuse. Any make-ups will be scheduled at the convenience of your instructor. A missed quiz without prior notification or a medical excuse will count as a zero. QUIZZES MUST BE TAKEN AT THE TESTING CENTER. Ask the Center for proof of attendance to show to your instructor.

Final Exam: The final exam will test the abilities to read and write in Italian that you will work on during the semester. You will be given two readings with comprehension activities that are similar to the readings in your text and workbook/laboratory manual. There will be two compositions. For the final exam only, you will be allowed to consult a dictionary during the exam.

The date of the final exam is in the Master Schedule. The date and time of your final exam are determined by the university and cannot be changed. You should not have any conflicts with exams in other courses.

Homework: Homework is assigned daily whether you meet with the instructor in a classroom or not. Remember, in the hybrid course you cover and complete the same amount of work as in the four-day-a-week 1103 course, which means that on the days that you do not meet in the classroom, you do the same classwork AND homework completed by students in the four-day-a-week class. Activities will be assigned from the Connect website (www.connectitalian.com). Follow the instructions on your syllabus carefully and pay attention to the deadline of each assignment. Note: After the first week, the homework deadline is often the next day by 8 am. You can do the assignments ahead of time, if you want, but they will be submitted “as is” on the due date and time.

You can access the Connect activities by going to www.connectitalian.com. Log in with the Connect access code you purchased and the Section Web Address provided by your instructor on the first day of class. If you have any problems with your account or your computer please call the Connect Helpline at (800) 331-5094, use the live chat or visit <http://www.mhhe.com/support>

Be sure to complete ALL items in ALL the Connect activities. If there are any unanswered items, any activities that are completely blank, or if incomprehensible responses are given for open-ended questions, points will be deducted accordingly. You will have three attempts to complete each assignment. After you have finished and submitted your first attempt, your score and any errors will be indicated. After the second attempt, the errors are indicated and the correct answers. We strongly recommend that you go over the correct answers and re-enter them in order to achieve a higher score. Remember: Practice makes perfect! especially when learning a foreign language.

Review: additional practice exercises can be found at radiodante.it and <http://www.dienneti.it/italiano/stranieri.htm>

Temino (45-50 word essay): They are part of Homework and are intended as practice for the final exam. The first 3 will have a ‘peer review’ feature, and the last 2 will only have one draft. Peer review: submit your Temino on the due date (or before), then one or two of your classmates will write his/her comments on it, and you will do the same on his/her Temino. After you review the comments, submit your final corrected draft by the second due date. You can submit the final draft even if no one commented on the first one. Your classmates delay or fail to comment on your essay should not affect you submitting your Temino on the second due date.

A special note about all video activities. There are a variety of activities that require you to watch a video and answer comprehension questions (Strategie, Grammatica dal vivo, Il blog di..., Ascoltiamo). Here are some tips for completing these activities:

- 1) Do NOT think that you have to understand every word in the video. Have a look at the comprehension questions and then listen for the gist.
- 2) Expect to watch videos a MINIMUM of three times, but you will most likely have to watch more to be able to respond to the questions.
- 3) Watch the first time to get a sense of what is being talked about. The next times you watch, stop the video at strategic points and replay what you watched to focus on difficult segments.
- 4) Don't get stressed. The videos are fun and interesting if you don't worry about understanding every word.

A special note about all reading activities. There are a variety of activities that ask you to read extended text in Italian and answer comprehension questions (Leggiamo! and Retro). Here are some tips for completing these activities:

- 1) Do NOT think that you have to understand every word in the reading. Have a look at the comprehension questions and then read for the gist.
- 2) Read the first time through just to get the gist. When you read the second and third time, read a short section at a time and make sure you understand the main idea before moving on to the next segment.
- 3) Expect to read the texts a MINIMUM of three times, but you will most likely need to read more times to be able to answer the questions.
- 4) Don't get stressed. The videos are fun and interesting if you don't worry about understanding every word.

Oral exams: During the last week of classes, students will take a 4-5 minute individual oral exam in class, in front of your instructor only. The exam questions will include (but may not be limited to), the same questions that appear throughout the Strategie videos that accompany Avanti! Third edition from ch. 1 to ch. 15 and "Parliamo!: La tua intervista" on pg. 426 of Avanti! Third edition, at the end of ch. 16. Students should be prepared to respond to the same questions and interact in similar situations as those in the videos. Notes/scripts will not be allowed at the exam. Points (out of 50) will be awarded based on the following rubric:

Comprehensibility:	0-10
Preparedness:	0-10
Vocabulary (accuracy and appropriateness)	0-10
Fluency (smoothness of speech)	0-10
Pronunciation (Italian-like 'accent')	0-10

How to prepare for your oral exam:

Watch the Strategie videos from ch. 1 to ch. 15 again. Prepare answers for Parliamo!: La tua intervista on p. 426 of the textbook. Practice answering the questions with another student outside of class. Listen to what your partner says and respond appropriately. Keep the conversation flowing and do not use any English. You will not be allowed to use notes at the exam, so practice responding spontaneously (and appropriately) to your partner.

Academic Integrity Statement: Students enrolled in courses at The Ohio State University are expected to adhere to the highest standards of academic conduct. All suspected cases of misconduct will be reported to the Committee on Academic Misconduct as required by University rules. Examples of academic misconduct in this course include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Copying work or otherwise turning in written work that is not original to you. Cheating in this case applies both to the copier and the person who allows his or her work to be copied.
- Having someone else do or write your assignments for you.
- Using a translator in any way to complete compositions, presentations or other assignments. (NOTE: you may use an online dictionary to look up one word at a time, but you may not use a translator to translate a series of words, entire sentences or a paragraph. If you do not understand the difference between a dictionary and a translator, ask your instructor before completing your assignment)
- Having anyone other than your instructor help you with your compositions or presentations. Tutors may answer questions about assignments from the workbook or textbook, but they may not help with compositions or presentations.
- Receiving or passing exam information to other students before, during or after the exam. Cheating in this case applies both to the receiver of the exam information and the person who gives the information.

- Alteration of university forms used to drop or add courses to a program, or unauthorized use of those forms including the forging of signatures.
- Use of any unauthorized aids on exams (e.g., cheat sheets, textbook, etc) is strictly prohibited.

Please note: Students are responsible for understanding what constitutes academic dishonesty. For more information on this topic, consult the Ohio State University's policy on Student code of conduct at:http://studentaffairs.osu.edu/pdfs/csc_12-31-07.pdf

Disability Services: Students with disabilities who require accommodations for access and participation in this course must be registered with the Office for Disability Services (ODS). Please contact ODS at (614) 292-3307 or (614) 292-0901 (TDD). Students should also contact their instructor as soon as possible to explore potential accommodations.

The Ohio State University is committed to the full inclusion of all qualified individuals. As part of this commitment, the university will ensure that persons with disabilities are provided with reasonable accommodations. For more information, see: <http://ada.osu.edu/resources/Links.htm>

These courses cover the same material as the existing, four day/week, face-to-face (F2F) courses that are currently offered as GE courses (1101.01, 1102.01, 1103.01). We are simply modifying the mode of delivery. Last year I did a research study comparing F2F 1102 to the hybrid version of 1102. We found a number of outcome differences which helped us tweak the hybrid syllabus to bring the outcomes in line. (However, I have not done a follow-up study to verify that 100% equivalency was achieved). I wrote up my findings and submitted the manuscript to Foreign Language Annals.

In order to create decimalized courses, I have submitted a course change for each of the F2F Italian courses.

GE assessment plan for the sequence: Italian 1101.01/02 – 1103.01/02 and Italian 5101: Italian for speakers of other Romance languages

1) The expectation for our students at the elementary level is that they achieve the level intermediate low/novice high according to the ACTFL standards:

Speaking

INTERMEDIATE LOW

Speakers at the Intermediate Low sublevel are able to handle successfully a limited number of uncomplicated communicative tasks by creating with the language in straightforward social situations. Conversation is restricted to some of the concrete exchanges and predictable topics necessary for survival in the target-language culture. These topics relate to basic personal information; for example, self and family, some daily activities and personal preferences, and some immediate needs, such as ordering food and making simple purchases. At the Intermediate Low sublevel, speakers are primarily reactive and struggle to answer direct questions or requests for information. They are also able to ask a few appropriate questions. Intermediate Low speakers manage to sustain the functions of the Intermediate level, although just barely.

Intermediate Low speakers express personal meaning by combining and recombining what they know and what they hear from their interlocutors into short statements and discrete sentences. Their responses are often filled with hesitancy and inaccuracies as they search for appropriate linguistic forms and vocabulary while attempting to give form to the message. Their speech is characterized by frequent pauses, ineffective reformulations and self-corrections. Their pronunciation, vocabulary and syntax are strongly influenced by their first language. In spite of frequent misunderstandings that may require repetition or rephrasing, Intermediate Low speakers can generally be understood by sympathetic interlocutors, particularly by those accustomed to dealing with non-natives.

NOVICE HIGH

Speakers at the Novice High sublevel are able to handle a variety of tasks pertaining to the Intermediate level, but are unable to sustain performance at that level. They are able to manage successfully a number of uncomplicated communicative tasks in straightforward social situations. Conversation is restricted to a few of the predictable topics necessary for survival in the target language culture, such as basic personal information, basic objects, and a limited number of activities, preferences, and immediate needs. Novice High speakers respond to simple, direct questions or requests for information. They are also able to ask a few formulaic questions.

Novice High speakers are able to express personal meaning by relying heavily on learned phrases or recombinations of these and what they hear from their interlocutor. Their language consists primarily of short and some times incomplete sentences in the present, and may be hesitant or inaccurate. On the other hand, since their language often consists of expansions of learned material and stock phrases, they may sometimes sound surprisingly fluent and accurate. Pronunciation, vocabulary, and syntax may be strongly influenced by the first language. Frequent misunderstandings may arise but, with repetition or rephrasing, Novice High speakers can generally be understood by sympathetic interlocutors used to non-natives. When called on to handle a variety of topics and perform functions pertaining to the Intermediate level, a Novice High speaker can sometimes respond in intelligible sentences, but will not be able to sustain sentence-level discourse.

Reading

INTERMEDIATE LOW

At the Intermediate Low sublevel, readers are able to understand some information from the simplest connected texts dealing with a limited number of personal and social needs, although there may be frequent misunderstandings. Readers at this level will be challenged to derive meaning from connected texts of any length.

NOVICE HIGH

At the Novice High sublevel, readers can understand, fully and with relative ease, key words and cognates, as well as formulaic phrases across a range of highly contextualized texts. Where vocabulary has been learned, they can understand predictable language and messages such as those found on train schedules, roadmaps, and street signs. Readers at the Novice High sublevel are typically able to derive meaning from short, non-complex texts that convey basic information for which there is contextual or extralinguistic support.

Writing

INTERMEDIATE LOW

Writers at the Intermediate Low sublevel are able to meet some limited practical writing needs. They can create statements and formulate questions based on familiar material. Most sentences are recombinations of learned vocabulary and structures. These are short and simple conversational-style sentences with basic word order. They are written almost exclusively in present time. Writing tends to consist of a few simple sentences, often with repetitive structure. Topics are tied to highly predictable content areas and personal information. Vocabulary is adequate to express elementary needs. There may be basic errors in grammar, word choice, punctuation, spelling, and in the formation and use of non-alphabetic symbols. Their writing is understood by natives used to the writing of non-natives, although additional effort may be required. When Intermediate Low writers attempt to perform writing tasks at the Advanced level, their writing will deteriorate significantly and their message may be left incomplete.

NOVICE HIGH

Writers at the Novice High sublevel are able to meet limited basic practical writing needs using lists, short messages, postcards, and simple notes. They are able to express themselves within the context in which the language was learned, relying mainly on practiced material. Their writing is focused on common elements of daily life. Novice High writers are able to recombine learned vocabulary and structures to create simple sentences on very familiar topics, but are not able to sustain sentence-level writing all the time. Due to inadequate vocabulary and/or grammar, writing at this level may only partially communicate the intentions of the writer. Novice High writing is often comprehensible to natives used to the writing of non-natives, but gaps in comprehension may occur.

2) The levels of achievement are test in the following ways:

a. Speaking (direct measures): All students take a final oral exam. Students will be awarded points (out of 50) based on the following rubric:

Comprehensibility: 0-10

Preparedness: 0-10

Vocabulary (accuracy and appropriateness) 0-10

Fluency (smoothness of speech) 0-10

Pronunciation (Italian-like 'accent') 0-10

A grade of 8-10 will be considered as meeting the desired level of Intermediate low/novice high. The average results of this exam from each section of 1103 will be collected and archived by the language director.

b. Writing/Reading (direct measures): The final exam in 1103 is based entirely on reading and writing. A grade range of 89-100 will be considered as meeting the desired level of intermediate low/novice high. The average results of this exam from each section of 1103 will be collected and archived by the language director.

c. Italian Culture and Cultural Comparisons (indirect/direct measures): We will add the following question to the discursive, departmental evaluations. The responses will be archived by the language director.

I am able to compare and contrast aspects of Italian culture and my own culture.

___ yes ___ no

If yes, which aspects would you compare?

3) Follow-up process: The language director will use this information to modify the courses in the sequence. We frequently refine our courses depending on technology changes, textbook changes, and reports from the instructors in the department.

Is a hybrid course right for you?

Often students enroll in a hybrid course, which requires a lot of independent work done on-line and coming to class prepared for the material to be covered, even though it is not the best environment for their learning style. The following questions will help you reflect on whether this is the right course for you.

A. When I think of other college students, I can use a computer...

1. much better than most of them
2. better than most of them
3. not as well as most of them
4. most can use it better than I can

B. Which of these statements describe you? Check all that apply:

1. I can learn grammar topics easily on my own by studying the textbook.
2. I often procrastinate.
3. I am an auditory learner – I need to hear material in order to learn it
4. I am organized and self-motivated.
5. I am comfortable with technology.
6. I like to have grammar explained to me.
7. I speak another language (other than English).
8. I usually miss more than two classes/semester.
9. I get my class work done before I go out with friends.

C. Have you ever taken a language course before?

Yes___ No___

If yes, how did you do?

1. Well (A or A-)
2. Fair (B+ or B)
3. Average (B- or C)
4. Poorly (D or F)

If you selected one or more of the following options, this course is most likely not a good fit for you.

A3, A4, B2, B3, B6, B8, C3, C4

To increase your chances of success, we suggest that you take a language class that meets four days/week.
