COURSE TITLE: Adolescent Parenthood and Sexuality: An International Perspective

LEVEL OF INSTRUCTION: U/G, 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisites: Junior or Senior Standing

Course Description

This course is designed to provide a broad understanding of the biological, psychosocial and cultural forces that influence adolescent sexual behaviors and fertility patterns and family formation decisions. International comparisons will be emphasized with respect to teenage sexual trends, national policies and programs designed to control adolescent and young adult sexual adaptations and fertility. This course is a core course in the Sexuality Studies minor. Information regarding this minor and its requirements may be found at <http://artsandsciences.osu.edu/interdisciplinary>.

Social Work 3597 satisfies the General Education Cross-Disciplinary Seminar requirement. The goal of courses in this category is to help you demonstrate an understanding of a topic of interest through scholarly activities that draw upon multiple disciplines and through your interactions with students from different majors.

COURSE OUTCOMES:

Course Requirements:

WARNING! The subject matter of this course includes material considered by some individuals to be sensitive, private, overly suggestive—even offensive to their personal values and beliefs. This material may include realistic simulations of sexual interaction often seen in movies or TV programs. Consequently, learning materials may involve illustrations or images that show anatomical figures, explicit nudity, sexual play, sexual intercourse, abuse, and childbirth—since these events are considered essential to learning objectives. Very sensitive individuals may wish to bypass this course. Students will be advised in advance when explicit, potentially upsetting material is to be viewed and are always free to excuse themselves from the viewing experience.

METHOD OF EVALUATION BY STUDENTS:

Student evaluation of courses and instructors constitutes an important aspect of the College's quality review process. Students will have the opportunity to evaluate the course through the online Student Evaluation of Instruction (SEI).

COLLEGE INCOMPLETE POLICY:

"I" (Incomplete) course grades will be considered only in relation to emergency and/or hardship situations, and a request for such a grade option must be discussed with the instructor prior to final exam week. A deadline date for completion of the incomplete work will be established with you. University policies governing the circumstances under which "I" grades are given and deadlines for completion will be adhered to. However, students should note that when an "I" with an alternate grade of "E" is assigned in a course which is prerequisite to a course the student must take the next quarter, the course requirements for the "I" must be completed by the second week of the next quarter.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:

The College of Social Work supports fully the University standards on Academic Misconduct. Students are responsible to follow the Code of Student Conduct in all academic work. The Code of Student Conduct can be found in the student resources guide: http://studentaffairs.osu.edu/resource_csc.asp . This includes, but is not limited to: following course rules, no use of unauthorized information or assistance, no plagiarizing, no falsification, fabrication or dishonesty in reporting research, and no alteration of grades or University forms. Faculty are strictly bound to report suspected cases of Academic Misconduct.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

Textbooks, handouts and other materials are available in alternative format. Please contact Office of Disability Services: 614-292-3307, 150 Pomerene Hall, 1760 Neil Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43210; www.ods.ohio-state.edu.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION:

Methods of instruction will include lecture, videos, discussion board, & case analysis activities. On-line classroom experiences are designed to enhance the student's ability to think critically about concepts and apply learned principles to ethical practice problems as well as matters of policy.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS:

Students will be expected to demonstrate considerable knowledge and understanding of the concepts, principles, and information reflected in the course outline. These expectations will be evaluated through papers, examinations, and the instructor's judgment of the quality of participation and contribution to class learning through discussion by each student.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION:

Our class instruction relies heavily on active learning and is designed to encourage student participation. A high level of participation in each week's class is essential for us to function as a community of learners and is necessary to achieve the expected outcomes of this course. I view my classes as communities that provide all students the opportunity to learn in a supportive, friendly and comfortable environment. Please review these guidelines for your post:

1. When responding to one of your classmates posts- avoid offending that classmate.
2. No Yelling. Do not use capital letters to indicate strength of emotion.
3. Do not engage in sarcasm or subtleties. Remember a social worker works to understand differences among others and self. One up-manship is not helpful in a learning setting. Be straight and to the point.
4. If you do get upset, wait to process before you post. Unless the author specifically says they're angry, assume otherwise and ask for clarification of their intent.
5. Be respectful and courteous in your responses.
6. Be aware of cultural and ethnic differences. If you suspect classmates might be from other cultures, avoid unexplained references that may not be understood or cause feelings of exclusion.
7. Always enter a subject line for each posting so that the flow of conversation can be understood.
8. Make your posts not too short but not too long. Try to keep your posts to a minimum of 50 words and a maximum of 300. Now if you must write a post that is longer, remember that others will be taking their time to read this so be courteous.
9. If you are responding to another's post be sure and quote the original post, sentence, or paragraph in your post. So we can know what you are responding to rather than rely on memory or have to shift back and forth from original posts.
10. Use spell check and proper grammar.
11. Always review your post before you hit send.
12. Remember what is posted is recorded and graded.

Students are expected to complete all weekly class components (Introduction, Objectives, Tasks; Coursework; Class Discussion; Checkpoint and Weekly Wrap-Up) and to read all the assigned works. Each week's components will open at 12:01am on the Sunday of that week and will close at 11:59pm on the following Saturday.

If you have questions and concerns the most important thing is that you communicate with me. I take my role as an educator very seriously and am willing to work hard to be successful; I expect the same from each of you. Unless there is death in the family or you or your immediate family member experience a major illness or crisis, I will not accept late discussion postings/replies. Late discussion postings/replies will not be accepted without prior approval.

Week One: Introduction: Sex and Adolescents (8/23/15)

Introduction: Welcome to SWK 3597, Adolescent Parenthood and Sexuality: An International Perspective. I am excited that you have chosen to take this course on-line. It has been offered as a GEC in our college for many years. During this semester we will be examining sexual development from birth through the early 20's, We will study gender, sexual identity, sexual congress and birth as well as methods of birth control, sexually transmitted diseases, societal pressures surrounding sexual development and the strengths and weakness of parenting while still a teen. We will address how the media depicts sexuality and its role in inhibiting or pushing adolescents into sexual situations because teen viewer believe their peers are "doing it." This course will not limit itself to information pertaining to the U.S. but to countries and cultures worldwide.

Why a course on Adolescent Sexuality and Parenting? For most of the history of the world, adolescents have been having sex and having babies. It was just the natural course of life: marry young, have children, die in your 40s or 50s. People are now living much longer lives lengthening the time available for marriage, parenting and even grandparenting. Two things about that: Adolescents in our society rarely marry young anymore. If people marry at all, the age of first marriage has been rising since the 1950s. The rate of couples marrying has been declining. Many people are cohabitating. If they marry, the average age for a high school graduate to marry is 20 or 21. For a college graduate, it is 27-30.

But, adolescents are still having sex at an average age of 16 (plus or minus 2 years) and now having babies without the societal norm of marriage. Who supports these moms and babies financially if not a husband? Do single teens have the skills to parent? The natural course of sexual development in our society has not changed but the financial ability to support and parent children born to teen mothers have. Here lies the reason for this course. How do we support adolescents in their natural sexual development while limiting unplanned births? Why do adolescents in the United States have such a high birth rate compared to countries like the Netherlands, which has a much, much lower teen pregnancy rate? And what about the youth that realize they are gay, lesbian or bisexual? How do they fit in?

During this semester, we will answer these and other questions!
