Dear Barry, Elizabeth, Justin, and Lori,

The first part of this e-mail is to confirm that on Tuesday, February 23, the Arts and Humanities Panel of the ASC Curriculum Committee reconsidered a proposal to revise the BA Religious Studies and fully approved the changes. This information has already been communicated to Barry and he will attend the full ASC Curriculum Committee meeting tomorrow morning.

On Tuesday, both the Arts and Humanities Panel & the Honors Panel also considered proposals to renumber Religious Studies/Hebrew/Jewish Studies 2210 (H) to 3210 (H). (Those are all cross-listed courses with GE Cultures and Ideas & GE Diversity-Global Studies.) All those requests were unanimously approved. The Honors Panel did have a few recommendations about the H syllabus, which I here report:

- The course requirements section states that there are 4 quizzes but 5 are listed in the class schedule.
- Clearly explain the distinction between the presentation and the paper assignment & the expectation for the length of the presentation.
- Provide a clear grading scale.

Should you have any questions about the feedback above, please feel free to contact either Janice Aski (Faculty Chair of the Arts and Humanities Panel) or Alex Burry (Faculty Chair of the Honors Panel).

My best,
Bernadette
