Comments

- The tech feasibility report states that this DL course is numbered 1102.51 (like the "regular" individualized course), which is because our first submission was a course change request to allow a DL version of 1102.51. We have since decided to give the DL version a different number altogether, so we are now submitting this new course request, for 1102.61. (by Willging, Jennifer on 02/02/2017 03:51 PM)

GE Goals:

Students demonstrate skills in communication across ethnic, cultural, ideological, and national boundaries, and appreciate other cultures and patterns of thought.

GE Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Students employ communicative skills (e.g. speaking, listening, reading, and/or writing) in a language other than their native language.

Course description

French 1102.51 is an Individualized Instruction version of the classroom course for French 1102.01. French Individualized Instruction is a self-paced, mastery-based program that is designed to mirror the courses offered in the classroom. Both Individualized Instruction and the classroom track aim to help students achieve a certain level of proficiency. Individualized Instruction differs from the classroom track in the following ways:

French Individualized Instruction is mastery-based: Because of the independent nature of language learning in the program, we require that students perform at the level of 80% or better on each module. If you are not able to score at least an 80% on the exam at the end of the chapter after 3 attempts, we will ask you to drop the course so that you do not receive an E in the course.

French Individualized Instruction offers:

Flexible credit: One complete course is four credits. Unlike the classroom, you can complete four credits in one semester or spread them out over two semesters.

Flexible meeting times: We have appointments available in the mornings and evenings at least two days a week and we offer times on Saturdays as well. Appointments are made on Carmen.

One-on-one instruction: You will complete the majority of your learning on your own by completing the work in each unit's learning packet, but you will make appointments with instructors to demonstrate mastery of the material.

Student autonomy: You are in charge of your learning in that you decide how many credits you would like to take in a given term. You schedule appointment times and decide when you are ready to take tests.

Course Learning Outcomes:

At the end of French 1102, you should be able to:

- pick out familiar words and phrases from French songs, videos and films to be able to comprehend the overall message of what is communicated in these mediums;
- understand presentations by the instructor on French and Francophone cultures with frequent explanations and clarifications;
- read and understand short, authentic texts and dialogues;
- engage in brief conversations and complete simple tasks with your classmates, the instructor, and native speakers who are sympathetic to the communicative needs of language learners;
- write essays on topics related to readings or material used in class using the structures and vocabulary you have learned in both 1101 and 1102;
- understand different aspects of French and Francophone cultures;
- discuss competently (in English) a variety of topics related to French and Francophone culture and society and make contrasts and comparisons with your own culture.
- Write short paragraphs and description, and develop competence in pronunciation.

More information can be found on Carmen. Please see the student orientation video and Start Here page. In-person orientation times and dates TBA.

- Notes: In the course technology section of the syllabus you reference Carmen Connect as one of the baseline technical skills needed by the students but you do not reference using this tool anywhere in the syllabus. If you are planning to use the Carmen Connect tool, please include a link to the technical support being offered by the university for the tool. If you are not planning to use the tool, I would recommend that Carmen Connect be removed from the course technology section of the syllabus.
