Course Change Information

What change is being proposed? (If more than one, what changes are being proposed?)
Reducing the credit hours for the pre-departure course from 3 credits to 2 credits.

What is the rationale for the proposed change(s)?
The goal is to make the whole experience (pre-departure 2CR + in-country 1CR) 3 credits. We hope this will allow more UG students to enroll and stay at or below the current 18 credit maximum. We also hope meeting once a week will fit better into already full student schedules and appeal to students in and beyond the Theatre Department.

What are the programmatic implications of the proposed change(s)?
(e.g. program requirements to be added or removed, changes to be made in available resources, effect on other programs that use the course)?
Make this exciting, elective, international experience accessible to more students. To that end we’ve reduced contact hours, required readings/films and trimmed assignments to fit an abbreviated calendar, without sacrificing the scope of the course.

Is approval of the request contingent upon the approval of other course or curricular program request? No

Is this a request to withdraw the course? No

Attendance Policy
Discussion of readings and experiences is at the core of this course. You are permitted one (1) unexcused absence. If you miss more than three additional classes, you will fail the course. Excused absences fall into three categories: 1) absences as a result of illness (a doctor's note must be provided within one week of return to class); 2) absences as a result of a death in the family; 3) absences as a result of major religious holidays. Any test or project due date missed due to an excused absence must be made up at the next regular class that student attends unless special arrangements have been made with instructor.

Participation
Prompt reading of assignments and screening of films and documentaries is crucial to the in-class discussions that will take place on a weekly basis. Due to the range of materials and resources studied, it is imperative that you check the syllabus carefully and regularly in order to be prepared. You are expected to regularly contribute to class discussions.

_Havana is Waiting_ production approach (~4 pages + visuals)
Consider this play from a point of view that reflects your position as a student and your declared major. If your study area is theatre, devise a production conceptual approach statement (~75 words) from your theatre emphasis area(s) plus a minimum of three inspiration images or drawings that convey your first response to a theoretical production for the play. If you are not a theatre major, compile a series of images (8-10 total) with commentary that responds to each setting described by the playwright.

_Cuba Inside Out_ chapter review (~4 pages)
Select a chapter (other than chapter 2 which we will discuss in class) from Yael Prizant’s book, _Cuba Inside Out: Revolution and Contemporary Theatre_. Write a chapter review, addressing the following questions: What is the author’s thesis, or main argument? If there is one central idea the author is trying to convey, what is it? What has the reading accomplished? Identify the topic of the reading. Does the author cover all aspects of the topic in a balanced fashion? What is the author’s approach (analytical, chronological, descriptive, or topical)? How does the author support her argument? What evidence is used to prove her point, and is the evidence convincing? How has the reading helped you understand the subject? Would you recommend the reading to peers?

Cuban Theater Digital Archive research (~4 pages)
Research and provide a comprehensive overview of a Cuban theatre company, performer, designer or playwright. Your subject can be contemporary or a historical figure/group that influenced contemporary practice. Please answer the following questions in detail: Why is this artist/group significant to Cuban Theatre? How long have they been making work? How did they get started? Do they work in a particular style/expression that sets them off from other artists? Who do they cite as influences?

Pizzuti Collection Response Paper (~4 pages)
The class will visit the Ron and Ann Pizzuti Collection at 632 North Park Street in Columbus Identify two Cuban artists and specific artwork (drawing, painting, sculpture, etc.) you are drawn to and explain why. For each artist, select one piece from the materials viewed for examination. If permissible, obtain a photograph of the artwork, and include it with your essay. Describe the artwork in detail, when it was created, and complete information about the artist and use of use of media, approach, style, and application of materials.
Film Response – Class Discussion (~15-20 minutes, w/Q&A)
In addition to studying visual and performing arts, this course examines artistic expression in Cuban filmmaking since the 1950s. The films selected cover a wide range of filmmakers, topics and genres (see this site for a comprehensive list and description of genres and sub-genres: https://www.nyfa.edu/student-resources/ultimate-list-of-film-sub-genres/). You will craft a film response that also engages a class discussion. Include the following points in your approach and conversation: an overview of the storyline or plot and what you understand the filmmaker wanted to reveal, allude to, contradict, etc. in making the film. Who are the characters and what are their relationships? What is setting and timeline and how does it support the narrative? Which characters are fictional? Which ones represent real people that are or were central to Cuba’s artistic, economic, social, and/or political landscape? What is the emotional impact of the film?
Following your presentation and the class conversation, add a summation paragraph, reflecting on the discussion and any significant points that were discussed, debated, and/or unresolved. This is a group assignment; 2 persons per group.

Research Paper / Presentation (~15 minutes)
Prepare a visual and text-based presentation on a theme related to performance and culture in Cuba. It will engage deeper research and study on aspects of literature, theatre, film, art, dance, or music that are introduced in the course. For your assistance, a list of suggested resources and links is available. Develop a research question that may be examined in detail through further study, and create an abstract and research plan for instructor review and comment. Given the course emphasis, the presentation content should contain a balance of visual and text elements. A Q&A session will follow each presentation.

Due to the range of materials and resources studied, it is imperative that you check the syllabus carefully and regularly in order to be prepared. You are expected to regularly contribute to class discussions.

Procedure for Assignments – submit all to a pre-departure visual & text eJournal
A visual and text eJournal is the place where you bring together comprehension, analysis, and synthesis of the course content. Since the heart of this course is the study of Cuba performance and culture as it responds to a rich and complex history, the journal format (electronic) will combine visual and aural imagery you discover and create, as well as text-based analysis and interpretation. The journal format may be docx, PDF, PowerPoint presentations, or a dedicated website, so long as it functions as a “live” document you construct and organize, and readily allows for ongoing entries and instructor comment. Date and title all entries, to align with each assignment.

Journal Entries (30 points total)
Journal Entry #1: review three Cuban websites that feature performance and culture (5 pts)
For each: include the full URL and a concise but comprehensive discussion of the site content as it relates to one or more of the course learning objectives. Explain why you chose each site. Select one artist featured that interests you and discuss in detail.

Journal Entry #2: Havana is Waiting, production approach (5 pts)
Consider this play from a point of view that reflects your position as a student and your declared major. If your study area is theatre, devise a production conceptual approach statement (~75 words) from your theatre emphasis area(s) plus a minimum of three inspiration images or drawings that convey your first response to a theoretical production for the play. If you are not a theatre major, compile a series of images (8-10 total) with commentary that responds to each setting described by the playwright.

Journal Entry #3: Cuban Revolution response (5 pts)
Reflect on the documentary Cuban Revolution as screened in class. Capture one image from the video you found to be compelling. Discuss the image in detail and how it fits into the documentary’s context. What is taking place at this moment in the political history of Cuba? What aspects were a revelation for you? What other observations can you make?
Journal Entry #4: (1) Theatre Company in Cuba (5 pts)
Research and provide a comprehensive overview on one Cuban theatre company, from the past or presently in operation. Who were the founders and how long were/are they in operation? Did they have a particular mission? Did it function with a resident company of playwrights, actors, technicians or was there another configuration? What sort of style and expression was at the center of the company?

Journal Entry #5: Resources and Links / your choice (10 pts, ~4 pages)
Select one or more of the Resources and Links, as noted in the syllabus, and prepare a report on topics related specifically to your academic research concentration. Include URLs and visual images as possible. Provide an in-depth written analysis of the material, illustrating the resource features. Depending on the resource type, analysis will vary. Confirm the scope of this assignment with one of the instructors as content varies significantly among the resources available for study. The report should address topics, opinions, other points of view as held by other scholars, etc. How does the author/filmmaker, etc. construct and present the material? What new information did you glean from the reading and images? Where does the information fall in the often contradictory positions held on Cuba? Complete the report with a clear conclusion about your discoveries.

Pizzuti Collection Response Paper (10 pts, ~4 pages)
The class will visit the Ron and Ann Pizzuti Collection at 632 North Park Street in Columbus, and Cuban Forever Revisited, on exhibition in autumn 2016. Begin the response essay with a description of the museum or gallery's architectural features, interior and exterior. Identify two Cuban artist and specific artwork (drawing, painting, sculpture, etc.) you are drawn to and explain why. For each artist, select one piece from the exhibit for examination. If permissible, obtain a photograph of the artwork, and include it with your essay. Describe the artwork in detail, when it was created, and complete information about the artist and use of use of media, approach, style, and application of materials.

Film Response – Class Discussion (10 pts, ~20-25 minutes)
In addition to studying visual and performing arts, this course examines artistic expression in Cuban filmmaking since the 1950s. The films selected cover a wide range of filmmakers, topics and genres (see this site for a comprehensive list and description of genres and sub-genres: https://www.nyfa.edu/student-resources/ultimate-list-of-film-sub-genres/). You will craft a film response that also engages a class discussion. Include the following points in your approach and conversation: an overview of the storyline or plot and what you understand the filmmaker wanted to reveal, allude to, contradict, etc. in making the film. Who are the characters and what are their relationships? What is setting and timeline and how does it support the narrative? Which characters are fictional? Which ones represent real people that are or were central to Cuba's artistic, economic, social, and/or political landscape? What is the emotional impact of the film? Following your presentation and the class conversation, add a summation paragraph, reflecting on the discussion and any significant points that were discussed, debated, and/or unresolved. This is a group assignment; 2 persons per group.
Research Paper / Presentation (20 pts, ~15 minutes)
Prepare a visual and text-based presentation on a theme related to performance and culture in Cuba. It will engage deeper research and study on aspects of literature, theatre, film, art, dance, or music that are introduced in the course. For your assistance, a list of suggested resources and links is available. Develop a research question that may be examined in detail through further study, and create an abstract and research plan for instructor review and comment.
