Course Description:

Sandwiched between World War II and the Vietnam War, the Korean War is often overlooked. Yet, as this course will show, the conflict proved to be a critical moment in modern world history. Millions of Korean lives were forever altered, if not destroyed, by the conflict. New political institutions and ideologies emerged on the peninsula. American military, diplomatic, and political history shifted as the force of the Cold War collided with long standing pre-World War II trends in the region. It also had long term implications for participants in East Asia, shaping the trajectory of Chinese history in both domestic and foreign policy. Rooted in themes in Asian and American history from before the 20th century, this course pushes outside of the bounds of the 1950-1953 periodization of the conflict and instead places it within a longer framework of East Asian struggles against western influence and within a broader international context. Perceiving the conflict in these ways challenges how we understand global history in the 20th century.

GE Historical Study

Goals

Students recognize how past events are studied and how they influence today's society and the human condition.

Expected Learning Outcomes

- Students construct an integrated perspective on history and the factors that shape human activity.
- Students describe and analyze the origins and nature of contemporary issues.
- Students speak and write critically about primary and secondary historical sources by examining diverse interpretations of past events and ideas in their historical contexts.

This course fulfills the Historical Study GE through the following Academic Objectives:

1. Students will gain a basic factual knowledge of this period of United States history.
2. Students will develop or improve skills in analyzing historical data and drawing informed conclusions about such material.
3. Students will gain or further develop critical skills necessary to assess arguments based on historical facts or analogies.
4. Students will cultivate the logical and persuasive communication and analytical skills that are the marks of a liberally-educated person.

Enrollment:

All students must be officially enrolled in the course by the end of the second full week of the semester. No requests to add the course will be approved by the Chair of the Department after that time. Enrolling officially and on time is solely the responsibility of the student.

Academic Misconduct:

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

Disability Services:

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS contact information: slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

Required Texts:

Steven Casey: Selling the Korean War: Propaganda, Politics, and Public Opinion
 Sheila Miyoshi Jager, Brothers at War: the Unending Conflict in Korea
 Ha Jin, War Trash
 Richard Peters and Xiaobing Li, Voices from the Korean War: Personal Stories of American, Korean, and Chinese Soldiers [Available online through the Ohio State University's Subscription to Project Muse]
 Various Readings available online (Library Reserves)

Textbookss may be purchased at OSU Barnes & Noble.

Grade Distribution:

Attendance and Participation	: 20%
Research Paper	: 30%
Paper on War Trash	: 10%
Four Response Papers	: 30%
Map Quiz	: 10%

Research Paper: You will write one 10-15 page research paper on a topic related to the Korean War., which will demonstrate your analytical and research abilities. The paper will use primary sources where possible. Your paper grade will be made up by the proposal (15%), workshop participation (15%) and final paper (70%).

The Research Proposal is due on 2/05/19. It should contain a thesis statement, a 1-2 paragraph description of the focus of the paper, and a list of primary and secondary sources you will use.

The paper workshop is on 03/28/19

The final draft is due during final exam week

War Trash Essay: You will write one essay, 5 pages in length with 1” margins on Ha Jin’s War Trash. Bring a hardcopy of your final paper to class on the due date of 03/05/19.

Four Reading Response Papers: You will write four papers responding to a question on the syllabus related to the readings. These papers may not exceed three pages.

Map Quiz: You will be tested on the locations of 20 countries in Asia.

Attendance: Attendance and participation are included in your grade. There is no way to “make up” missed in-class assignments. Know that class begins promptly at 9:30 am. Lateness is disruptive and will negatively affect your participation grade.

The Writing Center & Librarians: Feel free to make use of the assistance of the writing center. Appointments are available in-person at 4120 Smith Lab, as well as for online sessions. You may schedule an in-person or online appointment by visiting WCOOnline or by calling 614-688-4291. Please note that the Writing Center also offers daily walk-in hours—no appointment necessary—in Thompson Library.

Standards: All essays are to be typed in with one inch margins on all sides and 12-point Times New Roman font. The essays must be printed in black ink. Citations must follow the Chicago Manual of Style. They must be stapled. Papers will not be accepted via email except in emergencies and with my approval.

Cell Phones: All phones and other devices must be “silent” and remain in your bag at all times. If you are caught texting in the class you will be considered absent and your participation grade will suffer.

Details of this syllabus are subject to change. You are responsible for knowing about any changes, which will be communicated in class and/or via email.

TO: Arts and Sciences Curriculum Committee (ASCC)

FROM: Paula Baker, Chair, Undergraduate Teaching Committee, Department of History

RE: Assessment Plan for proposed GE courses: Historical Study Category, Social Diversity in the U.S., and Diversity: Global Studies

Assessment Goals and Objectives

1. Both the GE and course-specific learning objectives for all History courses might be summarized as follows:

Historical Study GE Requirements:

Goals:

Students recognize how past events are studied and how they influence today's society and the human condition.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Students construct an integrated perspective on history and the factors that shape human activity.
2. Students describe and analyze the origins and nature of contemporary issues.
3. Students speak and write critically about primary and secondary historical sources by examining diverse interpretations of past events and ideas in their historical contexts.

Goals of the courses that fulfill the GE Learning Outcomes:

History courses develop students' recognition of how past events are studied and how they influence today's society and the human condition through the following ways:

1. Critically examine theories of history, and historical methodologies
2. Engage with contemporary and historical debates on specific regions, time periods and themes of the human past.
3. Through reading in primary and secondary sources and in-depth class discussion, students will access and critically examine social, political, economic, military, gender, religious, ecological, and ethnic/racial/national movements in a wider socio- cultural context.
4. Students will carry out in-depth analysis in a final paper, exam, or project comparing distinct historical moments, social movements and their effects

2. Both the GE and course-specific learning objectives for History courses requesting Social Diversity in the U.S. might be summarized as follows:

Social Diversity GE Requirements:

Goals:

Courses in social diversity will foster students' understanding of the pluralistic nature of institutions, society, and culture in the United States in order to become educated, productive, and principled citizens.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Students describe and evaluate the roles of such categories as race, gender and sexuality, disability, class, ethnicity, and religion in the pluralistic institutions and cultures of the United States.
2. Students recognize the role of social diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values regarding appreciation, tolerance, and equality of others.

Goals of the course that fulfill the GE Learning Outcomes: Students will achieve the social diversity goals and learning outcomes by

1. Completing readings, attending lectures, and participating in class discussions and in-class assignments that will help students understand how the categories of race, gender, class, ethnicity, religion, and nation have shaped peoples' identities and the distribution of power and resources in the U.S. and elsewhere
 2. Describe theories of racial, ethnic, class, national, gender, and religious formation on exams and written assignments.
 3. Critically examine theories of race, gender, class, ethnicity, religion, and nation
 4. Engage with contemporary and historical debates on race, gender, class, ethnicity, religion, and nation.
 5. Access and critically examine movements framed by race, gender, class, ethnicity, religion, and/or nation in a wider socio-cultural context.
 6. Carry out in-depth analysis in a final paper, exam, or project comparing distinct moments of ethnic, racial, nationalist, gender, class, and/or religious mobilization or social movements and their effects.
3. Both the GE and course-specific learning objectives for History courses requesting Diversity: Global Studies might be summarized as follows:

Global Studies GE Requirements:

Goals:

Courses in Diversity – Global Studies will foster students' understanding of the pluralistic nature of institutions, society, and culture across the world in order to become educated, productive, and principled citizens.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Students understand some of the political, economic, cultural, physical, social, and philosophical aspects of one or more of the world's nations, peoples and cultures outside the U.S.
2. Students recognize the role of national and international diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values as global citizens.

Goals of the course that fulfill the GE Learning Outcomes: Students will achieve the social diversity goals and learning outcomes by

1. Through reading in primary and secondary sources and in-depth class discussion, students critically examine the political, economic, social, cultural and philosophical development in the World.
2. Engage with contemporary and historical debates on the differences and similarities between cultures and peoples.
3. Access and critically examine ethnically, nationally or religiously framed movements in a wider socio-cultural and global context.
4. Carry out in-depth analysis in a final paper, exam, or project comparing distinct moments in human history and how they shaped the world in the past and today.
5. Completing readings, attending lectures, and participating in class discussions and in-class assignments that will help students understand the complexity of debates over international issues. They will describe theories of international issues on exams and written assignments.
6. Students will understand the roots and structures of today's globalized world.

II. Methods

An assessment of whether these objectives are met is effectively carried out by an examination of the work students are actually required to do for the course. Contributions in class discussions will be considered, but weighted more lightly, given the tendency for more confident students to contribute more to such discussions. Paper and exams will provide an understanding of students' abilities to think historically and to engage in analysis. This can be gauged by their responses to specific exam questions—asking students to provide a perspective on history and relate that perspective to an understanding of the factors that shape human activity. Thus, exams for Historical Study courses will have at least one question that requires students to provide a perspective on the factors that shaped an event or theory. Similarly, for courses that include Diversity in the U.S. GE requirements, we will have at least one question that requires students to provide a description of the roles of categories such as race, gender, class, ethnicity and religion and how those roles have helped shape either their perspective or the country's perspective on diversity. For courses that include Diversity: Global Studies, we will ask one question that requires students to provide an understanding of some combination of political, economic, cultural, physical, social, and philosophical differences in or among the world's nations, peoples and cultures outside the U.S. In this way, we hope to measure the courses (and the students') progress toward the multiple objectives of the GE. In this way we should be able to ascertain whether they are acquiring the desired skills and not simply learning (and regurgitating) specific information.

Summary of Data:

A committee, appointed by the UTC Chair, will be asked to evaluate a sample of questions and papers, and to gauge how well the goals of the course seem reflected in them. Assessment of Historical Study, Social Diversity, and Diversity: Global Issues from the GE goals will be carried out primarily through the evaluation of formal graded assignments and ungraded in-class assignments. The committee will rank the assignments across a four-category scale that captures students' mastery of the GE goals. Students will complete an informal feedback survey halfway through the semester to assess their own performance, the pace of the class, and the instructor's effectiveness. A brief summary report will be written by the UTC Chair, and that, as well as the sampled questions themselves, will be made available to the instructor and to the Chair of the department. We intend to insure that the proposed courses adequately articulate these goals, teach toward them, test for them, and help students realize their individual potential to meet them. Assessments will be summarized and used to alter the course for the next teaching.

Hi Mark,

Please find attached materials for a new class on the history of the Korean War, proposed by Mitch Lerner. We are requesting concurrence for the class. Mitch is keen to teach this class as soon as he can. Would it be possible for you to get the material back to me within the week?

Many thanks,

Chris

To the Curriculum Approval Committees:

The History Department is petitioning to have the new course request, History 3575, effective for Spring 2019; we understand the deadline for Spring 2019 courses was September 1. The instructor, Professor Mitchell Lerner, has the goal of building up the Korean program at OSU, and hopes to show the Korean government that interest in Korea is strong and necessitates funding for the hiring of additional faculty and staff; enrollment in this course is essential to that goal. Thus, Professor Lerner is eager to offer the course this spring, and we therefore respectfully petition that the course be approved for Spring 2019.

Sincerely,
Professor Chris Otter
Undergraduate Teaching Committee Chair
