Subject: RE: Concurrence for Sociology of Food and Inequality course

Dear Claudia,

Please accept this email as support for your Sociology of Food and Inequality course. I reviewed the course with Dr. Michelle Kaiser, our faculty member who teaches the Social Work 5026 Food Insecurities course, and we think it would be wonderful if both departments encouraged these complementary courses!

Please let me know if you need any additional information.

Take care,
Jennie

Subject: Concurrence for Sociology of Food and Inequality course

Dear Jennie:

I write to request concurrence from the School of Social Work for a new course, Sociology 4463 Food and Inequality in the United States. We anticipate that this course will serve students who have an interest in issues related to food access and inequality. Kara Young, the professor who designed (and will teach the course) is part of the Ohio State Initiative for Food and AgriCultural Transformation (InFACT).

Attached please find both the sample syllabus and concurrence form for you to review.

Please let me know if you have any questions and respond either by completing the attached form or simply via email at your earliest convenience.

Thanks,
Claudia
