Re: Approval of Revision of Department of Art BFA

Dear Alison,

On Tuesday, October 8, 2019, the Arts and Humanities Panel 1 of the ASCC reviewed and approved a proposed revision from the Department of Art regarding their BFA.

The BFA revision is based on feedback and recommendations that the program received from Peer Review, NASAD, and Arts and Humanities division revealing that the BFA comprised of too many total numbers of credit hour. The revision primarily involved reviewing the curriculum and reassessing course numbers, levels, and sequencing. This resulted in redefining one of the courses, adjusting their credit hours, sequencing of courses, merging courses, and creating one new course, all of which allowed for reduction in their credit hours from 125-127 to a total 121.

The panel agreed that the proposed BFA revision enables the program to align their credit hours to what is appropriate. The BFA revision was unanimously approved by our committee with a few recommended changes, which have been made. We now advance the proposed revision to the Arts and Sciences Curriculum Committee with a motion to approve.

Sincerely,
