Bart,

History needs to provide a concurrence for this course in Near Eastern Languages and Cultures.

This should be a no-brainer. Please let me know asap so they can get it on the books for SP21.

Thanks,
Scott

Dear Dr. Levi,

The Department of Near Eastern Languages and Cultures have recently proposed a new course, Arabic 3702 Place, Space, and Migration in Arabic Literature and Film. I'm writing as the Director of Undergraduate Studies for NELC.

The College of Arts and Sciences has approved this new course (with approval for the Literature and Diversity: Global Studies GE categories). OAA requested that we request a concurrence from several departments, including Film Studies and Philosophy.

Can you please review the attached syllabus and provide a brief statement of concurrence? We have plans to run this course for the Spring '21 semester so your prompt reply would be greatly appreciated.

Morgan
