Baseline technical skills necessary for online courses, including this course:

- Basic computer and web-browsing skills
- Navigating Carmen Necessary equipment
- Computer: current Mac (OS X) or PC (Windows 7+) with high-speed internet connection
Necessary software
- No software is required for this course. You will take all quizzes and exams online in the Carmen course page and also post answers to discussion questions in the Carmen course page.
- You are required to have a web cam and microphone for course.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING

Grades are determined based on your performance on three exams, one course paper, a series of assignments, and weekly discussion posts. All assignments, exams, quizzes, and the paper will be due on Sundays @ 11:59pm est. Discussion boards must be at least 150 words in length and you are required to respond to at least two peers. APA is required for all discussions and papers.

Discussion Posts: Discussion board posts must be at least 150 words in-length and you are required to create an initial response and respond to at least two peers. APA citations are required for all discussions. There are no word length requirements on the peer responses, but you must post substantive peer responses. That includes providing additional research to examples to support your response. All discussion topics are located under both the discussion and weekly tabs in Carmen. * YOU MUST RESPOND ON AT LEAST TWO DIFFERENT DAYS OF THE WEEK. Discussion posts will make up 10% of your final grade.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Informality (including an occasional emoticon) is fine for non-academic topics.

- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.)
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Assignments: All assignments must be submitted to the dropbox or Carmen. This can be located in both the assignment and weekly tabs. The requirements for each assignment vary, so you must read all directions located on Carmen. Assignments will make up 10 percent of your final grade. There will be several worksheets that are considered assignments. These are fill in's and directly related to your readings and video clips. All worksheets are available on Carmen.

Exams: All exams will be located on Carmen and are provided by Proctorio. You are required to have a web cam to take the exam. All exams will be multiple choice, T/F, fill ins, as well as two essay questions. The exams will make up 65% of your final grade. You will have two hours to complete the exams.

Final Paper: For the final paper you will conduct research on a topic related to pop culture of your choice. For example, the influence of social media on relationships, feminism in cartoons, or how modern TV shows portray America. In 4-5 pages not including the cover page or reference list provide an evaluation of your research findings focusing on how the topic you chose influences society. Be sure to adhere to APA format. A rubric will be provided in Carmen, and your final paper will make up 15 percent of your total grade.

Zoom Meetings: Weekly Zoom lectures will be required. You are not required to attend the live session, but you must listen to the recording. All Zoom meetings will be held every Wed. @ 12:30pm

COURSE POLICIES

I reserve the right to make minor changes to the Syllabus and deadlines stated therein but will discuss them with you in advance so you may prepare accordingly. I will only make such changes when necessary due to intervening circumstances

Student Support Services: Student support services offered on the OSU main campus.

<http://ssc.osu.edu>.

Late Work/ Missed Class/ Incompletes: Students will not be penalized for late work or absences if they show documentation of a reasonable excuse for missing the class (e.g., funeral; surgery; jury duty). Documentation can be shown directly to the professor via email. I realize that sometimes students get sick but do not require a trip to the doctor's office (e.g., a bad cold or minor case of the flu). In these situations, documentation is not required, but it is important to let me know of your impending absence by phone or email prior to the lecture or exam. Taking an exam or submitting a paper late will result in a 10 percent deduction for each business day late. If you miss a lecture, get the notes from a fellow student and then see the instructor for clarification.

Logging In: You must log into Carmen at least once per week to be considered as present for attendance verification.

Contact Method and Response Time: The best way to contact me is via email or cell phone. I will respond back to you within 24 hours. If you need a Zoom meeting those will be by appointment only during regularly scheduled office hours.

Feedback: All assignments, quizzes, exams, and discussions will be graded within 7 days of the due date.

Academic Integrity. Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an "excuse" for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

Academic Policies for This Online Course:

Quizzes and exams: You must complete the weekly quizzes, and midterm and final exams yourself, without any external help or communication.

Written assignments: Your discussion posts should be your own original work. You are encouraged to ask a trusted person to proofread your assignments before you turn them in--but no one else should revise or rewrite your work.

Copywrite Disclaimer: The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

Note on Email. Try to work on professional etiquette when writing emails. That is, please write your name at the end of your email messages, identify the course in the subject line, and use proper capitalization and grammar. In short, do not write like a text message. These are good habits to develop as you prepare for the job market, and in the absence of a good faith effort to follow these guidelines I will politely reply and ask that you rewrite and resend the message using proper grammar. I appreciate your attention to these details.

Statement Regarding Disability. Some students require modifications in the learning environment. Ohio State strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your differing ability(ies) (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options, which may include providing more time to answer quiz/exam questions. You may also register with Student Life Disability Services, which will establish reasonable accommodations appropriate for you. After registration, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely manner. Student Life Disability Services may be contacted at slds@osu.edu, (614) 292-3307, 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

Students with disabilities (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions) that have been certified by the Office of Student Life Disability Services will be appropriately accommodated and should inform the instructor as soon as possible of their needs. The Office of Student Life Disability Services is located in 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue; telephone 614-292-3307, slds@osu.edu

Student Academic Services: Student academic services are offered on the OSU main campus. In general, these include academic advising, tutoring, learning support, and career counseling and support, and tips for online learning. You can access student academic services through this link:

<http://advising.osu.edu/welcome.shtml>.

Statement on Sexual Misconduct/Relationship Violence: Title IX makes clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator, Kellie Brennan, at titleix@osu.edu.

Mental Health Statement: As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to your learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273-TALK or suicidepreventionlifeline.org.

Statement on Diversity: The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

SOCIOLOGY 2300
Sociology of Culture and Popular Culture

Spring 2016
MWF 12:40-1:35
Lazenby Hall 034

Michelle Oyakawa, M.A.
Office: Townshend 165
Email: oyakawa.4@osu.edu
Office Hours: Wed 2-4 and Fri 2-4

COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES:

This course will introduce the student to study of culture from a sociological perspective, and with attention to elements of culture, culture and small groups and individuals, culture and inequality, popular culture and how to interpret it, and culture and social change. We will begin the course with a general view of what culture is and is not, how sociologists define in and how they go about studying it. The first half of the course will focus primarily on how culture is related to power, politics and social change. The second half of the course will focus on the analysis of popular culture and its relationship to social class, race, and gender. Throughout the course, readings centering on particular aspects of culture, including news media, sports, and music, will help to illustrate sociological concepts relating to culture.

By the end of the course, students should be able to understand and critically evaluate aspects of culture in their own lives and in the society they live in.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Chomsky, Noam. 2002. Media Control. Open Media Series.

Gans, Herbert. 1999. Popular Culture and High Culture: An Analysis and Evaluation of Taste.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

10% Active class participation:

Participation includes 2 things:

- (1) Attendance
- (2) Participating in class discussion by speaking in class and small group discussions

I will allow 3 “free” absences for any reason. After that, each missed class will result in a decrease in your participation grade, with very few exceptions. Therefore, if you use up your two absences early in the semester but then later in the semester you get sick/car breaks down/you need to attend a funeral, I will not excuse your later absence.

If there is an ongoing issue (health, family, athletics, etc) that affects your ability to attend this class, you need to communicate that to me in a timely manner. If you think you will miss more than 3 class sessions, I would strongly advise you to consider dropping this course.

20% Quizzes

6 quizzes will be given over the quarter. A quiz will be made up of about 7-8 questions. The questions will be multiple choice, fill in the blank, short answer, and T/F. The questions generated for the quizzes will come from 1) the material presented/assigned from the previous class session and 2) the reading assigned for the current day. QUIZZES WILL NOT BE ANNOUNCED AHEAD OF TIME. You are NOT allowed to use your notes or texts during the quiz time. Quizzes will generally occur within the first 20 minutes of a class session. My policy is that students who arrive late can take the quiz up until the allotted time has run out or the point of the last quiz being handed in by a student who showed up on time, whichever occurs first. If you arrive after all the quizzes have been handed in, you cannot take it. There will be NO MAKE UP QUIZZES, if you miss it, you miss it. The lowest quiz will be dropped.

20% Papers (10% each)

Over the course of the semester, you will be given topics for 2 short papers. These papers will be 3-4 pages in length.

50% Exams

20% Midterm exam

30% Cumulative final exam

Exams will include multiple choice, short answer and essay questions. You will be held responsible for all material covered in course readings and lectures/class discussions. I will be very transparent about what will be on the exam and will hand out a study guide a week prior to the exam that will contain 2/3 of actual exam content.

If you need to take a make-up exam and do not have a well-documented LEGITIMATE reason for needing to do so (alarm clock not going off/out of town on a pre-planned trip do not count), I will take points off to be fair to students who took the exam on time. If you would like to take an exam early let me know awhile in advance; I do not guarantee that I will be able to meet your request but I will try.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS:

What you can expect from me:

1. I care about teaching and will put in my full effort and do my best to make the class interesting and engaging.
2. I will learn your name (it may take a few weeks but I will do it!!).
3. I will treat you with respect and as adults.
4. In creating assignments/quizzes/tests, my goal is to be challenging but fair. Thus, do not expect that this will be an 'easy' class, but my goal is never to trick you or force you to do busy work/memorize things that aren't useful.
5. I will be clear about my expectations of you and provide strategies to help you succeed in meeting course requirements.
6. I will be accessible and available to help you understand the material and address any concerns.
7. I will answer emails within 8 business hours of their receipt (business hours: 9-5 M-F).
8. If changes are made to anything on the syllabus, an announcement will be made in class and on Carmen.
9. I will complete all grading in a timely manner (10 days max).

What I expect from you:

1. Be physically and mentally present in class: In order to be successful in this course, you must come to class and pay attention during class. Period. If you think you will miss more than 2 class sessions, you may want to consider dropping this course.
2. Complete the required readings before coming to class: I assign what I strongly believe is a reasonable and fair amount of reading for a 200-level college course. Most of the material covered in the class comes directly from the readings assigned. Students who do the reading will get a lot more out of this class and will be more successful on exams and assignments than students who do not. I understand that you may not be able to carefully read every page of every reading assigned, but you should put in your full effort to read as much as possible and strategically skim what you can't read closely. If you do not think you will be able to complete the majority of the readings assigned, you may want to consider dropping this course.
3. You are responsible for obtaining materials from classes you have missed: Students are responsible for obtaining notes from another student so make sure you have exchanged contact information with others in the class. I will post skeleton power points online that will likely not contain all the information. I will help any student that is struggling with the material, however I will not reteach the material (i.e. providing basic definitions, etc).
4. NO TEXTING/GOING ON THE INTERNET DURING CLASS: These things need to take place outside of the classroom. I will notice if I see you doing it (and you would be surprised how easy it is to see from my vantage point in the classroom... hiding it under the desk doesn't actually work because it is very suspicious when it looks like someone is closely examining their own crotch). Your participation grade will suffer if you are a repeat offender.
5. Keep me informed about anything that may be affecting your performance in the course. I will be flexible about course requirements ONLY to the extent that I am informed of extenuating circumstances in a timely manner with proper documentation.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY (ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT)

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process."

Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an "excuse" for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:
