Course Change Information

What change is being proposed? (If more than one, what changes are being proposed?)

Enhancing the delivery mode for this course offers an opportunity to vastly expand the potential student enrollment base beyond what has been typical in this class. Students will be able to take this class regardless of their campus affiliation and those who are not resident in Ohio will also have access to it. This change to permit full online delivery is also consistent with the History Department's goals of expanding enrollment, greater outreach to new student constituencies, and flexibility in instructional/pedagogical approaches. The shift to permit DL designation for this course will not entail any additional fiscal or logistical commitments on the part of the instructor or Department.

What is the rationale for the proposed change(s)?

The History Department would like this course to be available for fully online instruction for the Spring.

What are the programmatic implications of the proposed change(s)?

(e.g. program requirements to be added or removed, changes to be made in available resources, effect on other programs that use the course)?

N/A

Is approval of the request contingent upon the approval of other course or curricular program request? Yes

Please identify the pending request and explain its relationship to the proposed changes(s) for this course (e.g. cross listed courses, new or revised program)

History 2475 (cross listed course)

Is this a request to withdraw the course? No

Course description

This course examines one of the most horrific events in human history: the Holocaust. Between 1941 and 1945 over 6 million Jews and about 12 million people in total were systematically slaughtered by Nazi Germany and its allies during the Second World War. The “events” that took place during that time were so unprecedented and indescribable that an entirely new vocabulary had to be invented, giving rise to the term genocide to label such occurrences. We will examine the background to the Holocaust, the process whereby it transpired, and its legacy and meaning for today. A central focus of this course will be unravelling the nature of genocide, the role of the state in perpetrating the Holocaust, participation in and witnessing the Holocaust, and how the Holocaust transformed world history and even the moral compass of humanity. We will look at anti-Semitism in Germany and Europe, the rise of nationalism and extremist ideologies in 20th century Europe, and the historical context for the Holocaust. We will also explore the changes in international law, notions of humanity, and efforts to forge a world where “never again” would have meaning. This class deals with a horrific event, but it also uncovers the enduring human spirit in the struggle against oppression and for a better world. Consequently, we will not only focus on the horror of the Holocaust, but also the forms of resistance that emerged to fight the genocidal process. In the end, the Holocaust is not just a narrative of slaughter, more importantly it is the story of the triumph of humanity and solidarity in the face of the greatest oppressive force to ever become manifest in the world. The course is organized around a combination of lectures, readings, discussions, and expository exercises – exams, short writing assignments, and two papers. Attendance and participation are vital for your and the course's success. You will have to complete each module before you are able to advance to the next module. Within each module you will have to complete all the sections before you are permitted to advance to the next module. Each module will open at the start of each week and remain open throughout the course, so you can always go back and review previous material for the course.

Assignment information

Weekly Online Discussions:

Online discussions are a means to explore the course material and personal interests (as they relate to the class) in greater depth than is possible through the recorded lectures and the readings. They are designed to foster interaction and introspection on specific aspects of the course material. Each week a new subject theme will be posted on the course's Carmen website. Students are expected to participate in weekly conversations by posting reactions to that week's topic. A paragraph will be sufficient for credit although it is hoped that students will fully engage with the topics. They can also be spaces for exploring ideas about the paper, when relevant. Students may also revisit themes throughout the semester as part of on-going conversations. The subjects will be posted by Monday and students are expected to have made their interventions by the end of the day on Sunday, except for the last week since it only has one day of class and the discussions must be posted by the end of that day. Grading will be done based on whether the student has participated or not. A couple of words is NOT sufficient. You must write at least a few sentences to get credit. Retroactive credit also WILL NOT be given.

Weekly Short Writing Assignments:

The short writing assignments, due by the end of the day each Sunday for the weekly module except for the final week when the assignment will be due by the end of the day Monday since it is the last class, will be comprised of responses to questions posted that relate to the readings and lectures posted for that week. They are designed to offer in-depth analysis of core concepts explored through that week's subjects. The weekly writing assignments are building blocks for the term paper as well as preparation for the mid-term and final exams. Each week the instructor will post the guiding questions that relate to that week's material and students are expected to write a one-page paper responding to those prompts by using information from the readings and the lectures for that week. In the rare week when there is not any assigned reading, the responses will be based on material presented in the recorded lectures for that week. Grading will be based on completeness in responding to the prompts, use of the materials from the week, and quality of the analysis. Unlike the discussions, the short writing assignments will have a numerical grade associated with them.

Mid-Term and Final Exams:

The exams will include essay, matching/short answer, and map sections. Students will be expected to construct a coherent essay responding to a prompt on the exam. Students must be able to formulate a thesis statement, provide and explain evidence in support of that thesis, and furnish a summation of the argument to produce a successful essay. The matching/short answer section will involve being able to properly identify major historical figures or events including provision of their significance, geographic place, and time. The map section requires students to correctly identify countries or cities on a map of the world. The final exam is not cumulative. It will focus on material covered since the mid-term exam. However, knowledge of events/people before the mid-term may still be useful in responding to questions on the final exam. The exams are not open book.

Essay Assignments:

The essays are designed to provide for a deeper exploration of aspects of the course than is possible through the other assignments or on the exams. You will be given prompts for the essay two weeks before they are due. You should make use of the readings assigned for the class as the basis for evidence in the essays. The essays must meet the following technical requirements:

Margins: Left and Right 1.25", Top and Bottom 1"

Tabs to indent first lines of paragraphs 0.5"

All work must be Double-Spaced

Typed or computer generated

12 pt. text size

Times New Roman font

No extra spacing between paragraphs

No sub-heads

No footnotes or endnotes

All pages must be numbered at the bottom center

References (citations) formulated as: following the citation (author's last name: p. #)

Names to appear on a separate cover sheet affixed to the front of page 1 of the essay.

Length is three (3) to five (5) pages

Late assignments

Please contact me three days before an assignment is due to discuss turning it in late. I will take late work on a case-by-case basis.

Faculty feedback and response time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. (Remember that you can call 614-688-HELP at any time if you have a technical problem.)

Grading and feedback

For large weekly assignments, you can generally expect feedback within 7 days.

E-mail

I will reply to e-mails within 24 hours on school days.

Discussion board

I will check and reply to messages in the discussion boards every 24 hours on school days.

Attendance, participation, and discussions

Student participation requirements

Because this is a distance-education course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of everyone's expected participation:

- Logging in:
Be sure you are logging in to the course in Carmen each week, including weeks with holidays or weeks with minimal online course activity. (During most weeks you will probably log in many times.) If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.

- Office hours and live sessions:

All live, scheduled events for the course, including my office hours, are optional. For live presentations, I will provide a recording that you can watch later. If you are required to discuss an assignment with me, please contact me at the beginning of the week if you need a time outside my scheduled office hours.

- Participating in discussion forums:

As participation, each week you can expect to post at least four times as part of our substantive class discussion on the week's topics.

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Informality (including an occasional emoticon) is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.)
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Academic integrity policy

Policies for this online course

- Quizzes and exams: You must complete the midterm and final exams yourself, without any external help or communication. Weekly quizzes are included as self-checks without points attached.
- Written assignments: Your written assignments, including discussion posts, should be your own original work. In formal assignments, you should follow MLA style to cite the ideas and words of your research sources. You are encouraged to ask a trusted person to proofread your assignments before you turn them in--but no one else should revise or rewrite your work.
- Reusing past work: In general, you are prohibited in university courses from turning in work from a past class to your current class, even if you modify it. If you want to build on past research or revisit a topic you've explored in previous courses, please discuss the situation with me.
- Falsifying research or results: All research you will conduct in this course is intended to be a learning experience; you should never feel tempted to make your results or your library research look more successful than it was.
- Collaboration and informal peer-review: The course includes many opportunities for formal collaboration with your classmates. While study groups and peer-review of major written projects is encouraged, remember that comparing answers on a quiz or assignment is not permitted. If you're unsure about a particular situation, please feel free just to ask ahead of time.
- Group projects: This course includes group projects, which can be stressful for students when it comes to dividing work, taking credit, and receiving grades and feedback. I have attempted to make the guidelines for group work as clear as possible for each activity and assignment, but please let me know if you have any questions.

Ohio State's academic integrity policy

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

Statement on title IX

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator, Kellie Brennan, at titleix@osu.edu

Accessibility accommodations for students with disabilities

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. Your mental health!

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614- 292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273- TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org

GE ASSESSMENT PLAN

A. Historical Studies

ELO 1: Students construct an integrated perspective on history and the factors that shape human activity.

Methods of Assessment:

1. Direct Measure:

Specific Question/Assignment: There will be a short paper (3-5 pages) to assess students' ability to construct an integrated perspective on history and the factors that shape human activity.

Sample: Write an essay in which you explore the impact of the Nazis' coming to power on the Jewish community in Germany. How did their lives change between 1933 and 1938? What impact did Nazi rule have on gender relations within Jewish households and the Jewish community?

Assessment Rubric:

Excellent	Good	Fair	Poor
Demonstrates a robust, critical, integrated and self-aware understanding of history and the factors that shape human activity.	Demonstrates adequate and integrated understanding of history and the factors that shape human activity.	Demonstrates modest understanding of history and the factors that shape human activity.	Demonstrates little or no understanding of history and the factors that shape human activity.

2. Indirect measure:

Students will complete an informal feedback survey that rates their experience. They will hand these in before the final.

Directions: In order to assess the effectiveness of this General Education course, we are asking for students' input on learning objectives. Please place an X in grid below to indicate how strongly you agree that this course provided you with opportunities to meet the learning objectives. You may type in comments in the space provided. All responses are anonymous.

This course provided opportunities for me to meet this objective.

Agree Strongly	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	Disagree strongly

Please explain:

Level of student achievement expected for the ELO: Expected score: 75% of students good or better and agree or agree strongly that course meets objectives.

Assessment Evaluation Goals:

A brief summary report will be written and be made available to the Chair of the department. We intend to ensure that the proposed course adequately articulates these goals, teaches toward them, tests for them, and helps students realize their individual potential to meet them. Assessments will be summarized and used to alter the course for the next teaching.

ELO 2: Students describe and analyze the origins and nature of contemporary issues.

Methods of Assessment:

1. Direct Measure:

Specific Question/Assignment: a question will appear on the midterm or final to assess students' ability to describe and analyze the origins and nature of contemporary issues.

Sample question: While using some of the institutions and concepts developed from the Enlightenment (the modern State, citizenship, the rule of law, etc.), Nazi ideology grew out of a narrow and exclusionary understanding of belonging, the State, and the use of law in modern society. Write an essay in which you discuss the ways in which Nazi ideology borrowed from and perverted core concepts from the Enlightenment.

Assessment Rubric:

Excellent	Good	Fair	Poor
Demonstrates a robust, critical, and self-aware analysis of the origins and nature of contemporary issues.	Demonstrates adequate and critical understanding of the origins and nature of contemporary issues.	Demonstrates modest understanding of the origins and nature of contemporary issues. ELO 3: Students speak and write critically about primary and secondary historical sources by examining diverse interpretations of past events and ideas in their historical contexts.

Methods of Assessment:

1. Direct Measure:

Specific Question/Assignment: Students will write a short paper (3-5 pages) to assess students' ability to speak and write critically about primary and secondary historical sources by examining diverse interpretations of past events and ideas in their historical contexts.

Sample question: Using primary sources as well as the assigned readings write an essay in which you discuss the variety of forms of resistance adopted by the Jewish population in response to the Nazi German implementation of the Final Solution. What impact did Jewish resistance have on the Holocaust and among the Jewish population? What were the obstacles to Jewish resistance during the Holocaust?

Assessment Rubric:

Excellent	Good	Fair	Poor

ELO 2: Students recognize the role of national and international diversity in shaping their own attitudes and values as global citizens.

1. Direct Measure:

Specific Question/Assignment: a question will appear on the midterm or final to assess students' ability to be able to situate local events in their global contexts and their ability to understand their own place in this economic context both as US and as global citizens.

Sample: From the time the Nazis came to power in Germany in 1933 there was a close correlation between foreign policy aggression and domestic terror against targeted groups, especially the Jewish community. This became particularly evident after 1938 when the scale and pace of foreign aggression and domestic terror intensified. Write an essay in which you discuss the connection between Nazi foreign and domestic policy with regard to aggression abroad and oppression at home?

Assessment Rubric:
