Date: March 30, 2022
RE: English 3305 (Technical Writing) DL Proposal

The Department of English is requesting approval for offering at least one section per semester of English 3304 (Business & Professional Writing) as a 100% digital learning course. Such a proposal was in the works prior to the pandemic, but now that we've gathered data on how the course can be effectively offered online, we're ready to move forward with a request for permanent DL status.

By way of background: In 2017, the course director, Christa Teston, won an ALX Grant to help redesign the course so that it better speaks to the nuances of business and professional writing in this day and age and so that all course materials could be provided free of charge via Carmen. Then, in 2020-2021, we had the opportunity to pilot that new curriculum during the pandemic when we were forced online and learned that, in fact, the course can be offered just as well when offered 100% online. This proposal does not mean we will only offer the course online; rather, we're hoping to reach new audiences, within and beyond the university, by offering that as an option (i.e. in addition to the option to take the class in person).

We are excited to expand the audience for this course to include those who may want to continue to hone their skills as writers but for one reason or another cannot make it to the Columbus campus. The possibility of offering this course online will also accommodate the needs of instructors who may be away from campus. And ultimately, we hope to be able to offer more of our business, professional, and technical writing courses online toward a future certificate or degree program that could, once developed, generate new revenue.

Because the course will include both synchronous and asynchronous content, students will still be able to write collaboratively, engage in active class discussion, and receive/provide real-time feedback on one another's writing. Employing digital technologies throughout the semester will also help students to become more familiar with relying on such technologies for project management, collaborative writing, and the display of professional preparation.

Our department already has success with offering English 1110 and other writing-specific courses in online formats. Adding this course to the rich slate of courses we hope to provide to students will make writing instruction more accessible to students across the campus and beyond.

Attached is a sample syllabus of English 3304 as it would be delivered using a synchronous digital learning modality. Also attached is evidence that the Office of Distance Education has reviewed and approved the syllabus.

- Office location: 506 Denney Hall (Columbus Campus)
- Office hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
- Preferred means of communication:
  - My preferred method of communication for questions is email.

Course Prerequisites

English 1110 or equiv.

Course Description

Mindful of the ways market logics condition writing practices, cultures, and genres, students will practice strategies and tactics for the following:

- Attuning and responding ethically to business and/or professional rhetorical situations;
- Mobilizing communicating genres common to contemporary business and/or professional situations;
- Creating inclusive, sustainable, and socially just professional environments.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

- Produce professional communication genres.
- Understand professional settings' rhetorical situations and know how to respond to those situations.
- Enact processes for developing effective professional documents.
- Practice (and critique) "professional" behavior.

How This Online Course Works

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% online. There is a required synchronous (real-time) session in Zoom each week on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10:20 a.m.-11:15 a.m. The rest of your work is found in Carmen and can be completed around your own schedule during the week.

Pace of activities: This course is divided into weekly modules that are released one week ahead of time. Students are expected to keep pace with weekly deadlines but may schedule their efforts freely within that time frame.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3 credit-hour course. According to Ohio State bylaws on instruction (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of [C] average.

Attendance and participation requirements: Research shows regular participation is one of the highest predictors of success. With that in mind, I have the following expectations for everyone's participation:

- Participating in online activities and synchronous Zoom meetings for attendance: at least twice per week
You are expected to log in to the course in Carmen twice per week. During most weeks you will probably log in many times. If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.
- Zoom office hours: optional
Attending Zoom office hours is optional.
- Participating in discussion forums: once per week
As part of your participation, each week you can expect to post at least once as part of our substantive class discussion on the week's topics.

Descriptions of Major Course Assignments

Writing Project #1: Message-Testing Report

Description: A brief, data-based report that presents results of your collaborative investigation into readers' responses to images related to plastic use, disuse, and reuse (i.e. "message-testing"). This involves familiarizing yourself with Ohio Sea Grant & Stone Lab's (OSG/SL) "Plastic Free July" Campaign as well as the myriad audiences they hope to motivate to reduce single-use plastics. You'll design and execute a survey with participants you recruit. Results of the survey (i.e. descriptive statistical analysis and qualitative content analysis) will help you make an argument about what images are more or less effective for OSG/SL's "Plastic Free Great Lakes" Campaign.

Writing Project #2: Displayable Media Design

Description: Building on the arguments you make in Writing Project #1, you will design a displayable artifact (e.g. a 34x34" infographic) that will physically hang in a display case at Ohio Sea Grant & Stone Lab on South Bass and Gibraltar Islands. The artifact should educate and motivate audiences of various ages who possess different literacies, forms of expertise, and abilities to reduce single-use plastics.

Writing Project #3: Emergent Media Design

Description: Expanding on what you've accomplished in Writing Projects #1 and 2, you will develop an emerging media plan that will help Ohio Sea Grant & Stone Lab generate awareness about their "Plastic-Free Great Lakes" Campaign via social media, websites, or other digital platforms.

Final Formal Marketing proposal

Description: After revising Writing Projects 1, 2, and 3, you will compose a formal marketing proposal prepared for Ohio Sea Grant & Stone Lab (OSG/SL) executives that will assist their "Plastic Free Great Lakes" Campaign. The proposal should make a persuasive case to OSG/SL to use the materials you've prepared for their campaign, including revised versions of the three major writing projects above. See page 4 of the Kitty Locker Contest CFP for a full list of the contents that must be included in your formal proposal. Your proposal will include a table of contents, abstract, cover letter, the body of the report, and backmatter (e.g. appendices and bibliography).

Academic integrity and collaboration: Your written assignments, including discussion posts, should be your own original work. In formal assignments, you should follow APA or MLA style to cite the ideas and words of your research sources. You are encouraged to ask a trusted person to proofread your assignments before you turn them in but no one else should revise or rewrite your work.

Late Assignments

Please refer to Carmen for due dates. Due dates are set to help you stay on pace and to allow timely feedback that will help you complete subsequent assignments. Due to the collaborative nature of class discussions, I am not able to grade posts submitted after the final weekly deadline for this assignment type.]

Instructor Feedback and Response Time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course. Remember that you can call 614-688-4357 \(HELP\) at any time if you have a technical problem.

- Preferred contact method: If you have a question, please contact me first through my Ohio State email address. I will reply to emails within 24 hours on days when class is in session at the university.

- Discussion board: I will check and reply to messages in the discussion boards once mid-week and once at the end of the week.
- Grading and feedback: For assignments submitted before the due date, I will try to provide feedback and grades within seven days. Assignments submitted after the due date may have reduced feedback, and grades may take longer to be posted.

Other Course Policies

Discussion and Communication Guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper; you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. A more conversational tone is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online. I will provide specific guidance for discussions on controversial or personal topics.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.
- Synchronous sessions: During our Zoom sessions I ask you to use your real name and a clear photo of your face in your Carmen profile. During our full-group lecture time, you may turn your camera off if you choose. When in breakout rooms or other small-group discussions, having cameras and mics on as often as possible will help you get the most out of activities. You are always welcome to use the free, Ohio State-themed virtual backgrounds (go.osu.edu/zoom-backgrounds). Remember that Zoom and the Zoom chat are our classroom space where respectful interactions are expected.

Academic Integrity Policy

See Descriptions of Major Course Assignments for specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

Ohio State's Academic Integrity Policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the university's Code of Student Conduct (studentconduct.osu.edu), and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the university's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the university or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the university's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university. If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

Creating an Environment Free from Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Misconduct

The Ohio State University is committed to building and maintaining a community to reflect diversity and to improve opportunities for all. All Buckeyes have the right to be free from harassment, discrimination, and sexual misconduct. Ohio State does not discriminate on the basis of age, ancestry, color, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, pregnancy (childbirth, false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, or recovery therefrom), race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or protected veteran status, or any other bases under the law, in its activities, academic programs, admission, and employment. Members of the university community also have the right to be free from all forms of sexual misconduct: sexual harassment, sexual assault, relationship violence, stalking, and sexual exploitation.

To report harassment, discrimination, sexual misconduct, or retaliation and/or seek confidential and non-confidential resources and supportive measures, contact the Office of Institutional Equity:

1. Online reporting form at equity.osu.edu,
2. Call 614-247-5838 or TTY 614-688-8605,
3. Or email equity@osu.edu

The university is committed to stopping sexual misconduct, preventing its recurrence, eliminating any hostile environment, and remedying its discriminatory effects. All university employees have reporting responsibilities to the Office of Institutional Equity to ensure the university can take appropriate action:

- All university employees, except those exempted by legal privilege of confidentiality or expressly identified as a confidential reporter, have an obligation to report incidents of sexual assault immediately.
- The following employees have an obligation to report all other forms of sexual misconduct as soon as practicable but at most within five workdays of becoming aware of such information: 1. Any human resource professional (HRP); 2. Anyone who supervises faculty, staff, students, or volunteers; 3. Chair/director; and 4. Faculty member.

Your Mental Health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. No matter where you are engaged in distance learning, The Ohio State University's Student Life Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) is here to support you. If you find yourself feeling isolated, anxious or overwhelmed, on-demand mental health resources (go.osu.edu/ccsondemand) are available. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at 614- 292-5766. 24-hour emergency help is available through the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline website (suicidepreventionlifeline.org) or by calling 1-800-273-8255\(TALK\). The Ohio State Wellness app (go.osu.edu/wellnessapp) is also a great resource.

Accessibility Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

Requesting Accommodations

The university strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions, please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services \(SLDS\). After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. In light of the current pandemic, students seeking to request COVID-related accommodations may do so through the university's request process, managed by Student Life Disability Services.

Business & Professional Writing

English 3304 | Fall 2019
312 Denney Hall
T/R 11:10-12:30

THE COURSE DESCRIPTION

This class will teach you how to analyze and compose deliverables typical of a contemporary professional organization or workplace. Importantly, it will do that without sacrificing attention to the ways market-based values affect how we practice inclusion, sustainability, and social justice in our writing.

Through individual and collaborative projects, you will develop tactics for crafting ethical messages that respond to the needs of multiple audiences. You'll also gain experience with navigating material, stylistic, and social complexities associated with various media, genres, and situations.

Genres you'll learn in this class include: letters, memoranda, presentations, proposals, social media plans, and other forms of displaying information visually. Many 3304 instructors build their classes around the Kitty O. Locker Undergraduate Professional Writing Contest. The contest project invites students to produce materials for a local nonprofit organization.

OUR LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Mindful of the ways market logics condition writing practices, cultures, and genres, students will practice strategies and tactics for—

- attuning and responding ethically to business and/or professional rhetorical situations;
- mobilizing communicative genres common to contemporary business and/or professional situations;
- creating inclusive, sustainable, and socially just professional environments.

land acknowledgement

I would like to acknowledge that the land we meet on has long served as a site of meeting and exchange amongst Indigenous peoples, specifically the Shawnee, Miami, Wyandot and Delaware Nations. I honor and respect the diverse Indigenous peoples connected to this territory on which we gather. For more information please visit our Multicultural Center website (<http://mcc.osu.edu/resources/american-indian-indigenous/>).

course policies

Come to class prepared. Don't be late. Be kind. Do your best. Ask for help.

Attendance

If you miss more than three class meetings, you should not expect to pass this course. Unless you've made arrangements with OSU's Student Advocacy Center, for every class you miss after your third absence, your grade will suffer a 10% reduction.

Class Cancelations

In the unlikely event of class cancelation due to emergency, I will request a note be placed on our classroom's door and I will email you. Following the cancelation, I will contact you via email as soon as possible to let you know what will be expected of you for our next class meeting.

Academic Misconduct

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct (http://studentaffairs.osu.edu/info\_for\_students/csc.asp).

Distance Approval Cover Sheet

For Permanent DL/DH Approval | College of Arts and Sciences

Course Number and Title: _____

Carmen Use

Please use the required ASC's distance learning course template. For more on use of Carmen: Common Sense Best Practices.

A Carmen site will be created for the course, including a syllabus and gradebook at minimum.

If no, why not?

Syllabus

Proposed syllabus uses the ASC distance learning syllabus template, includes boilerplate language where required, as well as a clear description of the technical and academic support services offered, and how learners can obtain them.

Syllabus is consistent and is easy to understand from the student perspective.

Syllabus includes a schedule with dates and/or a description of what constitutes the beginning and end of a week or module.

If there are required synchronous sessions, the syllabus clearly states when they will happen and how to access them.

Additional comments (optional):

Instructor Presence

For more on instructor presence: About Online Instructor Presence.

Students should have opportunities for regular and substantive academic interactions with the course instructor. Some ways to achieve this objective:

Regular instructor communications with the class via announcements or weekly check-ins.

Instructional content, such as video, audio, or interactive lessons, that is visibly created or mediated by the instructor.

Regular participation in class discussion, such as in Carmen discussions or synchronous sessions.

Regular opportunities for students to receive personal instructor feedback on assignments.

Please comment on this dimension of the proposed course (or select/explain methods above):

Delivery Well-Suited to DL/DH Environment

Technology questions adapted from the Quality Matters rubric. For information about Ohio State learning technologies: Toolsets.

The tools used in the course support the learning outcomes and competencies.

Course tools promote learner engagement and active learning.

Technologies required in the course are current and readily obtainable.

Links are provided to privacy policies for all external tools required in the course.

Additional technology comments:

Which components of this course are planned for synchronous delivery and which for asynchronous delivery? (For DH, address what is planned for in-person meetings as well.)

If you believe further explanation would be helpful, please comment on how course activities have been adjusted for distance learning:

Workload Estimation

For more information about calculating online instruction time: ODEE Credit Hour Estimation.

Course credit hours align with estimated average weekly time to complete the course successfully.

Course includes direct (equivalent of “in-class”) and indirect (equivalent of “out-of-class”) instruction at a ratio of about 1:2.

Provide a brief outline of a typical course week, categorizing course activities and estimating the approximate time to complete them or participate:

In the case of course delivery change requests, the course demonstrates comparable rigor in meeting course learning outcomes.

Accessibility

For more information or a further conversation, contact the accessibility coordinator for the College of Arts and Sciences. For tools and training on accessibility: Digital Accessibility Services.

Instructor(s) teaching the course will have taken Digital Accessibility training (starting in 2022) and will ensure all course materials and activities meet requirements for diverse learners, including alternate means of accessing course materials when appropriate.

Information is provided about the accessibility of all technologies required in the course. All third-party tools (tools without campus-wide license agreements) have their accessibility statements included.

Description of any anticipated accommodation requests and how they have been/will be addressed.

Additional comments:

Academic Integrity

For more information: Academic Integrity.

The course syllabus includes online-specific policies about academic integrity, including specific parameters for each major assignment:

Assignments are designed to deter cheating and plagiarism and/or course technologies such as online proctoring or plagiarism check or other strategies are in place to deter cheating.

Additional comments:

Frequent, Varied Assignments/Assessments

For more information: Designing Assessments for Students.

Student success in online courses is maximized when there are frequent, varied learning activities. Possible approaches:

Opportunities for students to receive course information through a variety of different sources, including indirect sources, such as textbooks and lectures, and direct sources, such as scholarly resources and field observation.

Variety of assignment formats to provide students with multiple means of demonstrating learning.

Opportunities for students to apply course knowledge and skills to authentic, real-world tasks in assignments.

Comment briefly on the frequency and variety of assignment types and assessment approaches used in this course (or select methods above):

Community Building

For more information: *Student Interaction Online*.

Students engage more fully in courses when they have an opportunity to interact with their peers and feel they are part of a community of learners. Possible approaches:

Opportunities for students to interact academically with classmates through regular class discussion or group assignments.

Opportunities for students to interact socially with classmates, such as through video conference sessions or a course Q&A forum.

Attention is paid to other ways to minimize transactional distance (psychological and communicative gaps between students and their peers, instructor, course content, and institution).

Please comment on this dimension of the proposed course (or select methods above):

Transparency and Metacognitive Explanations

For more information: *Supporting Student Learning*.

Students have successful, meaningful experiences when they understand how the components of a course connect together, when they have guidance on how to study, and when they are encouraged to take ownership of their learning. Possible approaches:

Instructor explanations about the learning goals and overall design or organization of the course.

Context or rationale to explain the purpose and relevance of major tasks and assignments.

Guidance or resources for ancillary skills necessary to complete assignments, such as conducting library research or using technology tools.

Opportunities for students to take ownership or leadership in their learning, such as by choosing topics of interest for an assignment or leading a group discussion or meeting.

Opportunities for students to reflect on their learning process, including their goals, study strategies, and progress.

Opportunities for students to provide feedback on the course.

Please comment on this dimension of the proposed course (or select methods above):

Additional Considerations

Comment on any other aspects of the online delivery not addressed above:

Syllabus and cover sheet reviewed by Jeremie Smith on _____.

Additional resources and examples can be found on ASC's Office of Distance Education website.

Reviewer Comments:

In the Descriptions of Major Course Assignments section of the syllabus (pages 6-7), I think it would improve the transparency and facilitate student metacognitive reflection if you provided a bit more information on some of the assignments not specifically mentioned:

o I recommend adding more information about how participation will be assessed. It is especially recommended to provide some expectations for the use of discussion boards as students have by now seen a vast array of models and uses for these. Since the participation component of the grade includes aspects of participating synchronously (during synchronous course sessions) and asynchronously (in discussion boards), it may be worth breaking this into two categories to emphasize this expectation.

o What are Module assignments? A sentence or two to summarize what these are would provide additional transparency to the syllabus. I surmise from the very detailed schedule that these vary depending on the content of the module. However, a summative explanation of what these are and why they are part of the class plan would add metacognitive value as students think through the rhythm of how to be successful in the course.

o The Cover Letter and Resume assignment could also use a quick explanation here. It seems there are (commendably) several milestones in the assignment, including drafts and peer reviews. Are the 100 points for this assignment divided into assignment categories in which each step in the process is graded/assigned points?
