How This Online Course Works

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% online. There are required sessions when you must be logged in to Carmen at a scheduled time.

Pace of online activities: This course is divided into weekly modules on Carmen. The module for each week will become available at 11:59PM on the preceding Friday. Each module will contain a weekly schedule with links to daily Zoom class meetings, learning goals for the week, assignment instructions, links, and deadlines, and lecture content. It is the responsibility of each student to keep up with this weekly schedule.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 4 credit-hour course. According to Ohio State bylaws on instruction (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 4 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to [8] hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of [C] average.

The class focuses on student-centered creative activities. Students are required to participate in these activities. Some of these activities include role-playing, participating in various games, dramatizing everyday activities such as asking directions, shopping at a local market, etc. Students will prepare individual and/or group presentations. We will also have vocabulary quizzes on Tuesdays after second week. Tuesdays are generally a day for going over vocabulary and reading dialogs from the book. Additionally, Tuesdays the grammar of the week will be introduced. Please read the grammar sections in the chapter from the book before our online meeting. Wednesdays, we will read the dialogues in the book and complete exercises. Please attend our online sessions having read the dialogues and the reading sections of the chapter. On Thursdays, you will have role play exercises and present your presentation (if it is assigned for that week). We will watch a Turkish movie Kocan Kadar Konus from Netflix. Movie section is mandatory for the class. You will post your comments about the movie to the discussion page of Carmen when it is assigned.

Students are responsible for their own learning. I recommend that they keep notebook during this term and record their own progress and difficulties with the language. They can write their daily activities or keep a daily or weekly journal in Turkish. Students are also free to emphasize their own interests in the class. For example those who are interested in history may put more emphasis on their reading skills and working on speaking or writing about historical characters they are interested in. Although each student has to develop their four basic skills, they are free to work on developing their language skills in an area that interests them.

You should plan for 2 hours of homework (including active reading, listening, vocabulary learning and review, preparing and/or recording speaking tasks, writing, and grammar practice) every day.

Attendance and participation requirements: Because this is an online course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of students' expected participation:

This is a fully online 14-week Fall course beginning Tuesday, August 25th, with a mandatory synchronous element. You will attend daily required sessions on Carmen Zoom, Tuesday through Friday, 3:00-3:55 PM EST. You will also be required to attend a minimum of four 15-minute one-on-one online meetings with the instructor, which will be scheduled at the start of the course.

Students are expected to attend the entire class session. Each day of your absentee will affect your performance on the tests, quizzes and homework. If you miss a class or come to class unprepared, you will not be able to learn the material fully, which would affect your language learning goals and put your pace behind of your classmates.

You will be allowed a total of two absences during the semester without the need for official documentation. Please do not interpret these days as free days and use them wisely for unforeseeable events including non-emergency medical appointments, weddings, family plans, etc. Please inform me about your absence in advance by e-mail.

Lateness: Students who log in to Zoom 15 minutes or later after the beginning of a class will be marked as late attendance. Three late attendances will become an absence. If you pass the attendance limit, you will lose points from your attendance, which is 10% of your grade. If you are absent during quizzes, you will lose your quiz points. If you miss the final exam, you will lose all your final exam points.

Some absences may only be excused for an acceptable, verifiable reason including medical emergencies, family emergencies, or officially excused university related absences (conference attendances, athlete's practices). Official documentation must be presented to the instructor for the absence to be excused. It is your responsibility to contact me in a timely manner to make up tests or quizzes, if you miss the class.

Descriptions of Major Course Assignments

You should plan for approximately two (2) hours of homework and independent preparation for every hour of class time. This means that in a typical week, you should expect to spend at least twenty (8) hours doing your Turkish assignments. Homework will be a significant part of instruction. It is important that you complete your assignments in a timely fashion. When new information is presented in class that will be reinforced through homework.

Written Assignments

All written homework will be submitted online, through the course Carmen site, unless otherwise noted in the instructions for the assignment. Assignments submitted by email will generally not be accepted. The homework schedule for each week will become available at 11:59PM on the preceding Friday.

Written assignments (essays, grammar and vocabulary practice, scripts, etc.) can be submitted in MS Word or PDF formats. Some of your written assignments will be typed (you will receive instruction on typing in Turkish) while others can be handwritten and scanned or photographed for upload. All written assignments should be formatted as follows:

- Type or write your name at the top of each page.
- Leave at least 1-inch margins on all sides.
- Skip every other line (leave enough space between lines for corrections and comments).

Online Speaking Assignments

You will complete several types of speaking tasks as part of this course: daily prompts, daily Zoom conversations, and six presentations.

Daily Zoom Conversations

You will be expected to participate in whole-class, small group, or pair conversations during daily Zoom sessions. Please use the conversation time actively to practice new vocabulary and grammar rules that we focus on that day or week.

Presentations

You will prepare and deliver a total of six (4) in-class presentations during this course. A sign-up sheet, detailed instructions, and Grading Rubric for the presentations will be posted in the Welcome Module on Carmen. Your presentations will be on a topic of chapter that is studied, 2-5 minutes in length. You may include slides, images, or demonstrations, depending on the topic. You will be required to submit your topic and written script for your presentations at least three (3) days before your scheduled presentation slot in order to receive my feedback. Your lowest presentation score will be dropped.

Quizzes and Exams

There will be three types of assessments in this course online vocabulary quizzes, and two (2) take-home written tests and two (2) and a final exam.

In-Class Vocabulary Quizzes

During daily Zoom class session (each Tuesday after second week), first part of the class for 5 to 10 minutes students will take their quiz. They will complete these short vocabulary quizzes during class, on camera, and will share their answers with the class afterwards. We will discuss the answers as a group and correct mistakes right away. These quizzes will be graded on completion.

Online Quizzes

Daily short quizzes on Carmen will assess ongoing learning and comprehension of the material besides vocabularies. You will be allowed unlimited attempts on these quizzes and will be encouraged to keep retaking them until your score reaches at minimum 85-90%. Only your highest grade will be recorded.

Take-Home Written Tests

There will be two small take home exams during the term. Take-home written tests will be given on weeks 7 and 11. The lowest score will be dropped. The take home exams will be a performance test, which will assess students in the four major proficiency areas: speaking, listening, reading and writing. These tests will be posted on Carmen at 11:59PM on Friday and will be due before class on the following Tuesday.

Final Exam

Take-home written exam will be given during the exam week. You will have three hours to complete the exam and submit immediately when you finish the exam. The final exam covers the materials presented from chapter 1 through chapter 10. Since this is a language class, we cannot omit any kind of information that is studied previously. Students are responsible from the assigned units and all handout assignments that will be studied in the class. There will be no make-up for the final exam.

Academic integrity and collaboration: It is expected from you to complete homework assignments, tests, and final exam yourself, without any external help or communication. The use of Google Translate or similar online translation tools is prohibited. However, you can use online dictionaries such as seslisozluk.com or tureng.com while you are working on your assignments, but not tests and final exam. All of your written assignments should be your own original work. This class will provide you opportunities to collaborate with your classmates to complete group study assignments. However, working with classmates to complete quizzes and tests are not permitted.

Other Course Policies

Discussion and Communication Guidelines

Example: The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. A more conversational tone is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Academic Integrity Policy

See Descriptions of Major Course Assignments for specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

Ohio State's Academic Integrity Policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the university's Code of Student Conduct (studentconduct.osu.edu), and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the university's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the university or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the university's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc>.

Copyright for Instructional Materials

The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

Statement on Title IX

All students and employees at Ohio State have the right to work and learn in an environment free from harassment and discrimination based on sex or gender, and the university can arrange interim measures, provide support resources, and explain investigation options, including referral to confidential resources.

If you or someone you know has been harassed or discriminated against based on your sex or gender, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, relationship violence, stalking, or sexual exploitation, you may find information about your rights and options on Ohio State’s Title IX website (titleix.osu.edu) or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator at titleix@osu.edu. Title IX is part of the Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) at Ohio State, which responds to all bias-motivated incidents of harassment and discrimination, such as race, religion, national origin and disability. For more information, visit the OIE website (equity.osu.edu) or email equity@osu.edu.

Commitment to a Diverse and Inclusive Learning Environment

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach their own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Your Mental Health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. No matter where you are engaged in distance learning, The Ohio State University's Student Life Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) is here to support you. If you find yourself feeling isolated, anxious or overwhelmed, on-demand mental health resources (go.osu.edu/ccsondemand) are available. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at 614- 292-5766. 24-hour emergency help is available through the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline website (suicidepreventionlifeline.org) or by calling 1-800-273-8255\(TALK\). The Ohio State Wellness app (go.osu.edu/wellnessapp) is also a great resource.

Elementary Turkish Book 1: Units 1 -10

CLASS STRUCTURE

Classes will include introduction topic/function based lessons, grammar reviews, classroom activities and speaking sessions. We will use various online materials including Turkish music videos, geographical maps, and video clips.

We will read the dialogs from the units, answer the questions, watch video clips and listen the audio recordings related to the weekly unit's topic. I will go over the grammar points of the Unit each week on Tuesdays. Students will be responsible to complete the introduced unit's exercises for the next class (Wednesdays). On Wednesdays, we will practice the newly introduced grammar points, complete exercises of the unit, begin to write a paragraph of essay related to the grammar and the topic of the unit. Students will complete their own paragraph on Friday or over the weekend and read in the classroom when we meet on Tuesday. We will have group activities and role plays both on Wednesdays and Thursdays such as introducing yourself in Turkish, asking directions, shopping at the bazaar, introducing family members, talking about summer plans, and etc.

The class focuses on student centered creative activities. Students are required to participate in these activities. Some of these activities include role-playing, participating in various games such as "who am I?" and "Charade", dramatizing everyday activities such as asking directions, shopping at a local market, etc.

Homework will be a significant part of the class. It is important that you complete your assignments in a timely fashion. When new information is presented in class, you must complete the assignments of the grammar topic from the unit. The assignments of the class will be reviewed each class by instructor. Students are responsible to learn the vocabularies of the unit. The vocabularies are listed on the first page of each unit (the new edition of the book) and on the last page of each unit (the old edition of the book).

There will be regular vocabulary and dictation quizzes. Please see the detailed weekly course chart for the exact quiz dates. You will have two midterms and one final exam. The midterm exam will be a performance test, which will assess students in the four major proficiency areas: speaking, listening, reading and writing. During the final exam, there will be a proficiency exam in addition to the written final exam. In other words, there will be oral interviews at the end of the term. Oral interviews will be evaluated on the basis of the following criteria: Vocabulary, pronunciation, syntax, comprehensibility, and fluency. Students will have also two speaking exams as part of their written midterm exams.

ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to attend the entire class session. Three late attendances will become an absence. You will be allowed a total of two absences during the semester. Please inform me about your absence in advance by e-mail. If you pass the attendance limit, you will lose points from your attendance, which is %10 of your grade. If you are absent during quizzes, you will lose your quiz points. If you miss a mid-term or final exam, you will lose all your mid-term or final exam points.

CLASS PARTICIPATION

Class participation includes preparation of oral/written projects and their presentation in class. Students are responsible for making an effort to participate all class activities, and conversations. It is expected to be respectful to other students and be a constructive participant in the class environment.
