SYLLABUS SPAN 4556: Latin American Literatures Fall 2020 – Online

COURSE OVERVIEW

Instructor: Ana Elena Puga Email address: puga.5@osu.edu Office hours: by Zoom appointment

Course description

This introduction to modern and contemporary Latin American literature will explore the theme of travel, including in-person tourism to foreign countries, excursions to unfamiliar areas of one's own city, virtual travel, and forced migration due to poverty, violence, and natural disasters. We will read both non-fiction and fictional narratives, with a focus on five genres: essays, short stories, films, plays, and a novel. The essays will provide theoretical grounding for analysis of the themes encountered in the fiction. Some of the questions that this course addresses include: In what variety of ways do Latin American authors and filmmakers represent travel? What do the works we study suggest about how travel differs for different groups of people, depending on economic status, gender, sexual orientation, nationality, and race? How can we fruitfully compare different works to notice elements of each work that we might not otherwise have perceived? What specific aesthetic strategies do the works deploy to depict social, political, and psychological phenomena related to human mobility? How are accounts of travel linked to themes such as freedom, adventure, danger, inequality, and the American Dream? How are accounts of travel linked to emotional states such as joy, fear, guilt, excitement, and sexual arousal?

Course learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

- Identify recurring themes in Latin American writing about travel and human mobility.
- Analyze how specific aesthetic strategies create social, political, and psychological effects.
- Compare how different works address similar themes.
- Read and understand complex texts in Spanish language with greater facility.
- Express themselves more fluently in written Spanish.

• Better comprehend spoken Spanish and express themselves more fluently in oral Spanish.

HOW THIS COURSE WORKS

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% online. You must log in to Carmen at least twice per week: on Tuesdays before noon to post to the discussion board, and Tuesdays by midnight to post a second time to the discussion board. Guidelines for discussion posts will be posted on Carmen, and the instructor will provide discussion prompts.

On Thursdays, the class is taught synchronously from 11:10 am to 12:30 pm, to have face-to-face Zoom discussions in Spanish. When you participate in the Zoom discussions, you must have your camera and microphone on. Each student is expected to contribute to the oral discussion at least once per session. The Zoom discussions are optional yet are highly recommended to improve skills in oral communication and may add ten points to your overall grade.

Pace of online activities: This course is divided into three units, with weekly assignments. Students are expected to keep pace with weekly readings, post twice by the deadlines, and meet the essay deadlines at the end of each unit.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy, students should expect to spend at least about 3 hours per week on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to at least 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example).

Attendance and participation requirements: Your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of expected participation:

• Participate in online discussion forums: AT LEAST TWICE PER WEEK You are expected to log in to the course in Carmen at least twice per week, by Tuesday at noon and by Tuesday at midnight, to post to the discussion forum. During most weeks you will probably log in many times, to read announcements, access readings, review assignment guidelines, etc.

Live discussion: OPTIONAL BUT HIGHLY RECOMMENDED ONCE PER WEEK It is highly recommended that you log in on Thursday to participate in live discussion from 11:10 am-12:30 pm. Students who attend and contribute to at least 10 oral discussions on Zoom during the semester will have 10 extra-credit points added to their final grade – 1 point for each discussion.

• Zoom office hours: OPTIONAL, yet always happy to discuss any questions or concerns you may have.

OHIO STATE'S ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct, and code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

The Ohio State University's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process." Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University's Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Course evaluation

Attendance and Participation	15%
Homework	15%
Oral presentation	10%
Exams/essays (2)	30% (15% each)
Final paper proposal	5%
Final paper	20%

Attendance and Participation (15%)

Class attendance is required. Students should arrive to class on time and stay until the end of class. Late arrival or early departure by 10+ minutes will result in a .5 unexcused absence.

Each student is permitted 2 unexcused absences. Each additional unexcused absence will result in a 2% reduction in the final grade calculation, and 6 total (2 permitted + 4 additional) unexcused absences will result in a failing grade. Excused absences will require documentation provided to the instructor. No documentation will be accepted after the last day of regularly scheduled classes.

Class discussion is required. As such, it is expected that students will not only attend class, but actively participate in discussion surrounding course readings and materials. In order to actively participate, students will need to have read the assigned materials. Students will need to bring printed copies to class, along with notes and completed homework. Not doing this will have a negative effect on your participation grade. It is expected that all students be proactive and complete research on the course material (beyond the basic book themes!).

Be prepared for in class quizzes over the readings. Absent students cannot make up quizzes.

Each student will self-evaluate their participation at the end of the course. The instructor will review the self-evaluations and consider it before assigning a final grade.

Homework (15%)

Students should read assigned materials before class and be prepared to participate and ask relevant questions during course lectures and discussions. Each student will select one passage / part of one of the assigned texts and right a short analysis (150-200 words). The analysis should concentrate on literary form (genre, stylistics, language use), content (text ideas / themes); and/or (con)text comparision (text to author, text to historical moment, text to personal life of the author, etc.)

Students will submit homework via Carmen Canvas by 11am the same day of the course. Late submissions will not be accepted.

Homework will be evaluated on a 1-10 point basis:

- 6 points will be allocated to evaluation of the concepts you employed in your short analysis.
- 4 points will be allocated to the write-up and grammar points of your analysis.

Each student may skip two written homework assignments without penalty. However, it is expected that they still participate in class discussion(s).

The instructor will check and grade all homework, but will only occasionally offer individual oral / written feedback.

Oral Presentaion (10%)

Each student will do one short presentation of 5-7 minutes. The presentation should include a brief summary of the assigned reading for that day; the significant formal aspects; draw attention to the most relevant textual themes presented; and pose 1-2 questions for class discussion. You may use visuals such as PPT, Prezi, handouts, etc.to add depth and creativity to the presentation.

To prepare for your presentation, it will be necessary to complete some research on the author and the text using secondary sources. All students will hand in a summary of their presentation along with a list of the sources and/or texts referenced, citing each one correctly in MLA format.

Please choose your presentation day as soon as possible.

Midterm Exams (15% x2 = 30%)

There will be 2 midterm exams due on the following dates: October 3rd and November 26th. The exam will be provided one week before the set due date. Students will be required to choose one of several questions provided, then write a 3-page (double spaced) essay on that question in Times New Roman 12pt font.

The students should review course materials and prior homework assignments as resources to formulate the answer for their chosen question. However, it is expected that students go one step further in their research to be able to appropriately critically analyze and elaborate / flesh out their answer. The submitted exam should include a bibliography in MLA format with at least 2 critical sources.

Final Exam Proposal & Structure (5% and Final Essay Exam 20%)

The final evaluation of the course will occur through a short written essay of 5-6 pages. In the final essay, the students can work on the topic of their choice about any of the texts studied in this course or, with approval of the instructor, another Spanish American author. Further guidelines and grading rubric will be posted on Carmen.

The proposal must be at least one full page (12-point Times New Roman, double-spaced) and include a preliminary bibliography of at least 3 works. The proposal must be turned in no later than November 19th, but ideally as soon as the student has decided what theme and text they want to work on, in order to receive orientation and suggestions from the instructor. The final essay must be turned in on Carmen by December 6th, 6:00 pm.

Academic Misconduct

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expects that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/.

Examples of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to:

Violation of course rules as contained in the course syllabus or other information provided to the student;

Submitting plagiarized work for an academic requirement. Plagiarism is the representation of another's work or ideas as one's own; it includes the unacknowledged word-for-word use and/or paraphrasing of another person's work, and/or the inappropriate unacknowledged use of another person's ideas. Students must always cite sources using the MLA format;

Submitting substantially the same work to satisfy requirements for one course that has been submitted in satisfaction of requirements for another course, without permission of the instructor of the course for which the work is being submitted.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct, I am obligated by University rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the Code of Student Conduct, the sanctions for this misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.
