Dear Professor Leite,

Recently the Social and Behavioral Sciences Panel of the ASC Curriculum Committee reviewed your proposal for a new first-year seminar, "Uh-oh, are our thoughts and actions reasonable?"

I am happy to report that the proposal was unanimously approved by the faculty panel. The Panel only had one comment, and it is as follows:

- The Panel would like to suggest reevaluating the total workload of the course, given that this a course designed for first-year students and is only one credit hour. They feel as if currently the workload may be too high. Additionally, they suggest that you reach out to Mat Coleman.373 (also CC'd on this email), as he is a member of the SBS Panel and regularly teaches first-year seminars. Mat is willing to provide advice on the workload for the course, per the Panel's recommendation, if you would like any additional support.

If you have any questions about this feedback, please do not hesitate to talk to Susan Kline (faculty panel of the SBS Panel), or me.

Additionally, I am cc'ing Todd Bitters, who administers the First-Year Seminar program. He will be in touch with you for all the practical arrangements related to teaching the course in the Fall.

Congratulations on your new first-year seminar!

Best,
Michael
