Hello George,

On Monday, March 22, the Arts and Humanities 2 Panel reviewed a proposal to make credit hour changes to the Art BFA.

The Panel did not vote on the proposal but would like some points addressed first:

- The Panel would like the information regarding the BA removed, as it is not being changed and only the BFA information is relevant for this proposal. The BA is a separate degree. In the proposal, please remove pp. 6-7 & change the title of p. 8 to BFA studio electives.
- The Panel would also like to see the current advising sheet (as well as the proposed advising sheet) to be able to properly evaluate the change in credit hour proposal. (George, if necessary, I can supply you with the current advising sheet, which includes the BFA area requirements with 27 credits for each area and the current BFA studio electives.)
- Make sure to double-check the credit hour categories. The hours in the area requirements should add up to the new total of 18 credits. However, the following areas actually add up to 21 credits: Art & Technology, Ceramics, and Glass. That means that in each one of those areas, one more course needs to be removed. Furthermore, the three courses that have been removed from each area requirement (compared to the current 27 credits area requirements) would presumably now be in the electives (e.g., Art 3004—currently in the Drawing and Painting area requirement—would likely be in the electives in the future). However, the proposal does not say where the courses taken out are going in the program (and, for example, Art 3004 is not in the list of electives—ditto for some other courses).

Feel free to email me the revised proposal when it is ready. I will then submit it again to the A&H2 Panel.

Should you have any questions about the feedback of the Panel, please feel free to contact Luke Wilson, or me.

Best,

Bernadette
