Course Change Information

What change is being proposed? (If more than one, what changes are being proposed?)

1. offering this GE course at the regional campuses
2. offering this course permanently as a DL course.

What is the rationale for the proposed change(s)?

Landscape has transfer students from the regional campuses, and this add to the regional campuses would help the students. It would also make the major of Landscape Architecture more known.

Offering it online would allow to actually offer it at the regional campuses even if there are only a handful of students interested at any semester

What are the programmatic implications of the proposed change(s)?

(e.g. program requirements to be added or removed, changes to be made in available resources, effect on other programs that use the course)?

none

Is approval of the request contingent upon the approval of other course or curricular program request? No

Is this a request to withdraw the course? No

COURSE INFORMATION

DESCRIPTION

Landscape architecture's discipline operates in the realms of research, design, and advocacy for sustainable transitions between constructed and natural environments. Today many critical issues such as climate change, environmental justice, dwindling resources, and rapid urbanization sit at the forefront of many landscape architects' scope of work. Much of their work is often conducted as part of multidisciplinary teams made up of artists, architects, city planners, engineers, ecologists, environmentalists, and historians. A landscape architect's work is often conducted at various scales, in the context of urban, rural, and natural environments, and plays out across many systems, be it social, transitory, or hydrological. This course is divided into four units, History and Culture, Art and Representation, Ecology and Typology, and Design and Practice, each exploring the developing research, inventive design, and growing advocacy of landscape architecture to help (re)envision and more sustainable futures.

GOALS

*To recognize landscape architecture as a rigorous and multi-faceted discipline of design and practice.
To recognize the social and environmental benefits of well-designed landscapes.
To recognize the collaborative nature of landscape architecture.
To better perceive and evaluate engaging environments and spaces.*

COURSE FORMAT

Mode of delivery:

This course is Distanced Enhanced and will primarily utilize CarmenZoom and Miro for course activities, including critiques and reviews. When using CarmenZoom and Miro Board, you must be logged in during the scheduled class time with a video camera if available. If a situation arises during the course of the semester where the health and safety of students and faculty could be compromised, it may be necessary to modify the mode of delivery and reduce in-person activities.

Pace of online activities:

This course includes scheduled synchronous lectures, individual and group discussions, and critiques. Students are expected to keep pace with weekly deadlines and have work prepared for each class. Students will have access to all course documents and materials on CarmenCanvas.

Credit hours and work expectations:

This is a 1-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy, students should expect around 1 hour per week of time spent on direct instruction in addition to 2 hours minimum of outside work to receive a passing grade.

Attendance and participation requirements:

Although the course is taught remotely, you are expected to be available for class discussions, critiques, and other activities from 10:20 pm to 11:20 am on Monday each week. You will be expected to log into CarmenZoom and/or Miro at the appropriate time to participate. In advance of scheduled meeting times, work should be uploaded to Carmen Canvas or other advised platforms. If any problems arise relative to attendance or submission of materials, please contact the instructor as soon as possible. Questions on course material should be posted to CarmenCanvas so answers can be shared with the entire class.

COURSE TECHNOLOGY

Baseline technical skills for online courses

- Basic computer and web-browsing skills
- Navigating Carmen: for questions about specific functionality, see the Canvas Student Guide.

Required software/technologies for this course

- CarmenZoom virtual meetings (free)
- Miro Board (free)

Required equipment

- Computer: current Mac (OS X) or PC (Windows 7+) with internet connection that can support CarmenZoom calls
- Webcam: built-in or external webcam, fully installed and tested
- Microphone: built-in laptop or tablet mic or external microphone
- Other: a mobile device (smartphone or tablet) or landline to use for BuckeyePass authentication and to

Carmen access

You will need to use BuckeyePass multi-factor authentication to access your courses in Carmen. To ensure that you are able to connect to Carmen at all times, it is recommended that you take the following steps:

- Register multiple devices in case something happens to your primary device. Visit the BuckeyePass - Adding a Device help article for step-by-step instructions.
- Request passcodes to keep as a backup authentication option. When you see the Duo login screen on your computer, click Enter a Passcode and then click the Text me new codes button that appears. This will text you ten passcodes good for 365 days that can each be used once.
- Download the Duo Mobile application to all of your registered devices for the ability to generate one-time codes in the event that you lose cell, data, or Wi-Fi service.

For help with your password, university email, Carmen, or any other technology issues, questions, or requests, contact the Ohio State IT Service Desk. Standard support hours are available at ocio.osu.edu/help/hours, and support for urgent issues is available 24/7.

ASSIGNMENTS

Over the course of the semester, students will conduct a 14-week field study and will present their findings and documentation in place of a final examination. For each course unit, students will complete one corresponding assignment, each worth 20 points.

Fieldwork:	pt01 -	20 pts
	pt02 -	20 pts
	pt03 -	20 pts
	pt04 -	20 pts
	pt04 -	20 pts
	Total Points:	100 pts

CRITERIA FOR EVALUATION OR GRADING

Criteria of evaluation include not only individual design excellence, but also a student's contributions to the studio through collective research, documentation and discussions. Grading is based on a comparison with other students in the course, with students who have taken the course previously, and with the instructors' expectations relative to the objectives of the course. Projects are reviewed by a jury including instructors from other courses, other academic institutions, and professional firms.

For an "A", the student must satisfy the course objectives excellently; for a "B", meet expectations very well; for a "C" meet expectations; for a "D" meet expectations in the lowest acceptable manner. An "E" is considered a failing grade and denotes that the student has not satisfied the course objectives. An "EN" is a failing grade due to non-attendance. An "I" indicates that the student has completed a major portion of the work in the course in a satisfactory manner, but for reasons judged by the instructor to be legitimate, a portion of the course requirements remains to be completed. In this event the student and instructor must agree upon a plan and deadline for the student to complete the course. If the work is not made up by the due date, the "I" mark will be changed to an alternate grade that the instructor reported at the time the "I" was assigned.

COMMUNICATION

You are expected to check the class carmen page and email daily.

I will reply to emails within 24 hours on days when class is in session at the university.

Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably.

COURSE POLICIES

HEALTH AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS

All students, faculty and staff are required to comply with and stay up to date on all university safety and health guidance (<https://safeandhealthy.osu.edu>), which includes wearing a face mask in any indoor space and maintaining a safe physical distance at all times. Non-compliance will result in a warning first, and disciplinary actions will be taken for repeated offenses.

ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to virtually attend all scheduled class meeting times and related events as outlined in the course syllabus. As with face-to-face classes, there are five situations which constitute an "excused absence": personal illness, death of an immediate family member, military or government duty, University/Knowlton School sanctioned events, and major religious holidays. Other situations may be evaluated on a case-by-case basis and students are encouraged to discuss with the instructor as soon as a potential issue arises. Documentation may be required.

A student's grade will drop one letter grade after the second and third unexcused absences; and a student with four unexcused absences can be dropped from the course and given an "EN."

DEADLINES

Students who miss deadlines due to valid, extenuating circumstances may submit the required work at a date agreed upon with the instructor. Students should contact the instructor to arrange a discussion within one week of the missed classes and/or work.

Unexcused work will not be accepted, incomplete projects will be evaluated in relation to their degree of completion.

Students should be aware that grade records are not required to be kept longer than two terms beyond the course offering. Any issues about grades should be reported to the instructor as soon as possible, and no later than the next active term (Autumn term for spring or summer courses, spring for autumn courses.)

PROJECT DOCUMENTATION

Students must provide project documentation as requested by the instructors of the course. Failure to provide this information by the deadline may result in a grade of "Incomplete" and could result in a drop in grade.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let your instructor know immediately to privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, the instructor may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with the instructor as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS contact information: slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

STUDENT COVID-RELATED ACCOMMODATIONS

The university strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. In light of the current pandemic, students seeking to request COVID-related accommodations may do so through the university's request process, managed by Student Life Disability Services. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

DISTANCE LEARNING

All university standards and policies remain in place as related to Title IX, academic misconduct, allowances for students with disabilities, studio conduct and respect for others, and other related issues. We will be meeting and interacting in an online format, not an anonymous one. We will conduct ourselves and treat others as if we were meeting in person.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY FOR THIS COURSE

- Reusing past work: In general, you are prohibited in university courses from turning in work from a past class to your current class, even if you modify it. If you want to build on past research or revisit a topic you've explored in previous courses, please discuss the situation with me.
- Collaboration and informal peer-review: The course includes many opportunities for form5a1 and informal collaboration with your classmates. While this is encouraged, remember that representing someone else's work as your own is not permitted. If you're unsure about a particular situation, please feel free just to ask ahead of time.
- Group projects: This course may include group work, which can be stressful for students when it comes to dividing work, taking credit, and receiving grades and feedback. Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns about these issues.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

OSU's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process." Examples include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an "excuse" for academic misconduct, so it is recommended that students review the Code of Student Conduct.

If a faculty member suspects that a student has committed academic misconduct in a course, they are obligated by University Rules to report suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. If COAM determines that a student has violated the University's Code of Student Conduct, the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

COPYRIGHT DISCLAIMER

The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

GRIEVANCES

According to University Policies, if you have a problem with this class, you should seek to resolve the grievance concerning a grade or academic practice by speaking first with the instructor. Then, if necessary, take your case to the graduate or undergraduate studies chair, section head, school director, college dean or associate dean, and to the provost, in that order. Specific procedures are outlined in Faculty Rule 3335-7-23. Grievances against graduate, research, and teaching associates should be submitted first to the supervising instructor, then to the head of the associate's section.

SEXUAL HARRASSMENT: Title IX

No forms of sexual harassment or intimidation will be tolerated. Sexual Harassment includes lewd remarks and inappropriate comments made in the studio environment, classroom, and computer labs as well as the "display of inappropriate sexually oriented materials in a location where others can see it." Sexual harassment includes inappropriate behavior among two or more students; between students and/or faculty and/or staff; and within those groups. The actions can take place in physical, verbal, or written forms.

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator at titleix@osu.edu or (614) 247-5838. Also, refer to University's Code of Student Conduct 3335-23-04 (C) for additional information.

DIVERSITY

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body and the greater university community. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

The Knowlton School also values the intellectual diversity of its faculty and students, and supports diverse approaches to instruction and learning. A respect for individual rights is the foundation of an intellectual community, and all members of the community are expected to conduct themselves with the highest ethical principles and regard for others.

COUNSELING AND MENTAL HEALTH

As a student you may experience mental health concerns or stressful events such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation, etc., that cause barriers to learning, participation and performance. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of these concerns, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner and to abide by the provisions in the Code of Student Conduct. Students should represent themselves in a professional manner in forums that have public access. This includes information posted on social networking sites. Information on these sites is often screened by potential employers, and unprofessional material can have a negative impact on job or graduate school prospects.

KNOWLTON HALL BUILDING POLICIES

Students working within Knowlton Hall are expected to follow the building related policies as outlined with the KSA Student Policy Handbook: <https://knowlton.osu.edu/sites/default/files/pdf/KSA%20Policy%20Handbook%20-%20Students%202012.pdf>

DESCRIPTION

There are two major goals for this course: to give an overview of the contemporary discipline of landscape architecture, and to provide tools for appreciating and evaluating designed landscapes. In addition to introducing landscape architecture as an artistic practice, I will concentrate on landscape architecture as a professional field with conscious goals for environmental and social performance. While focusing on exemplary built projects, the course will also address the importance of applied research and theory in meeting the profession's goals for sustainability and equity. The course is structured around five questions:

- How do we define landscape architecture? What is included and what isn't? What is its heritage?
- How does landscape architecture plan the environment? How does it channel natural forces? How natural is it really?
- How does landscape architecture design sites for human activity? What can it do to help people? How does it function as an art?
- How is landscape architecture accomplished? What is the process of getting a landscape built? How does it change over time?
- What are the most pressing issues in landscape architecture today? What are people in the profession talking and arguing about?

GOALS

By the end of the course, all students should:

- gain a working overview of the contemporary landscape profession, including a variety of types of practices, projects, and theories
- cultivate the ability to critically evaluate landscapes for environmental, social, and aesthetic value
- learn techniques for thinking critically about the creation of landscape
- understand typical processes for designing and building landscapes
- know a group of representative landscape architecture projects for use as reference points

The course depends upon all members of the class being able to hold an equal conversation about the material. To make this possible, you must complete all readings and assignments and come to class prepared to discuss them in a well-informed and respectful manner.

GE STATEMENT

Visual and Performing Arts

Goals

Students evaluate significant works of art in order to develop capacities for aesthetic and historical response and judgment; interpretation and evaluation; critical listening, reading, seeing, thinking, and writing; and experiencing the arts and reflecting on that experience.

Expected Learning Outcomes

1. Students analyze, appreciate, and interpret significant works of art.
2. Students engage in informed observation and/or active participation in a discipline within the visual, spatial, and performing arts.

COURSE STRUCTURE

The main part of the course consists of two 80 minute lecture sessions every week. These sessions will involve lectures I give, along with in-class collaborative activities. Lecture sessions feature content that will not be available from readings and lecture slides, and will be necessary to attend for a good grade. Several materials will be necessary for in-class participation, including plenty of paper and a pen or pencil. I recommend keeping a dedicated notebook. A mobile device will also be helpful.

For undergraduate students, an online recitation session is required every week, moderated by graduate teaching assistants. (I will moderate the undergraduate honors recitation.) Recitations will take the form of a discussion around a given question prompt. Each student must leave one reply to the prompt and three substantial responses to other students' replies for full credit. For each week, this will be done between 6pm on Thursday and 9pm on Monday.

Graduate students in landscape architecture in the class will not take part in this online recitation. Instead, they will take part in an in-person recitation with me after class on Tuesday. For each recitation, they will submit a 1-2 page (200-300 word) response paper quickly summarizing and responding to the readings and activities of the previous week. For example, the response paper turned in for Recitation 2 must respond to the readings for both the Week 2A and 2B classes. This paper must be submitted by 7am on Thursday before the recitation. No credit will be given for attending recitation without submitting this response; late submittals will not be accepted, but one response can be missed without losing credit.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

Course content (syllabus, required readings, assignments) is posted on its Carmen site (carmen.osu.edu). There is no textbook to buy for the course; required readings will be provided as PDFs. For help with using Carmen, use the University's Office of Distance Education and eLearning support website: <https://resourcecenter.odee.osu.edu/canvas/getting-started-canvas-students>

Readings

Readings will generally focus on specific issues, from which we will generalize in class and discussions back to more general themes. They should be read by the time of the class they are listed under. They will be necessary for participating in recitations and completing activities and exams. They will generally alternate between more scholarly papers and popular or journalistic articles; look ahead to get a sense of how challenging each one will be.

Project 1

A 500-750 word critical review of a designed Columbus landscape with supporting photographs.

Project 2

A visual essay analyzing the making and performance of a landscape project. (Honors undergraduate students will receive a special version of this assignment.)

Activity

Your knowledge of the material will be tested by two collaborative activities in class. Content will not be based on small facts, but on general concepts and comprehension. Your grade will be averaged between the two activities.

Exam (undergraduate students ONLY)

This will be a take-home, open-book test covering the material of the entire course.

Project 3 (graduate students ONLY)

Project 3 will be a collaborative resource and reference guide for landscape architecture.

Response Papers (graduate students ONLY)

200-300 word response to readings and class activities; see above for more detail.

PARTICIPATION CREDIT

100 points total are possible for participation.

-For each class with an in-class session (25 in all after the first class), you will receive 1 participation point just for attending. Attendance means being present at the beginning and end of class; the attendance procedure will be explained in class.

-For each undergraduate recitation (10 in all), you will be able to receive a maximum of 5 points. Students will receive 2 points for an initial response and 1 point each for 3 replies to others. These recitations are graded by the graduate assistants, who may use their discretion to withhold credit for improper or insufficient contributions.

This means that there are still 25 points to make up for the full 100 points. There are two ways to do this.

Speaking in Lecture: After the first class, you will receive 5 points for speaking in lecture (asking or answering a question having to do with the course topic). You can only receive 5 points per class session, and you can receive up to 30 points total for speaking, up to a maximum of 100 for your participation grade. I reserve the right to withhold credit for frivolous or minor questions (such as "What time is it?").

Talk Report: You can receive credit for viewing and writing about an approved public lecture on landscape architecture. Two landscape architects will be coming to Knowlton to speak this semester on Wednesday nights. There is also an archive of past landscape lectures online; a list of approved lectures will be posted on Carmen. To receive credit, you can write a talk report: a 250-300 word response paper briefly summarizing the lecture and detailing your own thoughts about it. You can write up to three talk reports at 10 points each for a maximum of 30 points added to your final participation grade, up to a maximum of 100 for your participation grade. Please contact Sarah Coleman (coleman.908) with questions and requests on talk reports.

-Graduate students will receive up to 40 points based on my discretion for their participation in in-class discussion. This will combine with 25 points for lecture attendance and 10 points for in-person graduate recitation attendance; they will still need to make up 25 points through speaking in lecture or talk reports.

Be aware that a student's grade will drop one letter grade after the third and fourth unexcused absences; a student with five unexcused absences can be dropped from the course and given an "E". This is standard policy for the landscape architecture section. For more information on excused absences, see below under the Attendance policy.

CRITERIA FOR EVALUATION

Grades are based on the following point system:

100 points – participation
100 points – average of Activity I and Activity 2
100 points – Project 1
100 points – Project 2
100 points – Exam (for undergraduates) OR Project 3 (for graduates)

500 points - total

Upon midterm evaluations, I will send letters to students whose performance is deemed unsatisfactory. This letter is to alert the student that his/her performance is lacking and offer suggestions on how to improve working method and outcomes. It should be followed up by a meeting with a graduate assistant or myself. Letter grades are assigned based on a standard scheme:

A	93-100
A-	90-92
B+	87-89
B	83-86
B-	80-82
C+	77-79
C	73-76
C-	70-72
D+	67-69
D	60-66
E	<60

For an A, the student must satisfy the course objectives excellently; for a B, meet expectations very well; for a C, meet expectations; for a D, meet expectations in the lowest acceptable manner. An E is considered a failing grade and denotes that the student has not satisfied the course objectives. An EN is a failing grade due to non-attendance. An I indicates that the student has completed a major portion of the work in the course in a satisfactory manner, but for reasons judged by the instructor to be legitimate, a portion of the course requirements remains to be completed. In this event the student and instructor must agree upon a plan and deadline for the student to complete the course. If the work is not made up by the due date, the I mark will be changed to an alternate grade that the instructor reported at the time the I was assigned.

Students should be aware that grade records are not required to be kept longer than two terms beyond the course offering. Any issues about grades should be reported to the instructor as soon as possible, and no later than the next active term (autumn term for spring or summer courses, spring for autumn courses.)

Be aware that the "final" grades given on Carmen are meaningless – I do not use it as my central tool for grading.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN THIS CLASS

- Attend every class, enter and leave on time, and participate in in-class activities.
- When you have a question, ask it – in lecture, in recitation, during office hours or an appointment.
- Sit up front and minimize distractions.
- Keep large amounts of well-organized notes, including simple sketches of images. Many students find that keeping devices off and taking notes by hand improves academic performance.

You will need to put in consistent effort throughout the semester; it will not be possible to do everything at the end. If you are having difficulty, speak with me or a teaching assistant and we will do everything possible to help you.

SCHEDULE

I. Crash Course: How Do We Define Landscape Architecture?

WEEK 1

Tu 8/20 INTRODUCTION

Th 8/22

ELEMENTS OF LANDSCAPE-MAKING

concepts and physical features, and how the two interact

Amidon, Jane. Radical Landscapes. Thames & Hudson, 2001, pp. 6-37, 56-77.

Read syllabus thoroughly by this point.

Recitation 1: 8/22-8/26

WEEK 2

Tu 8/27 ACCOUNTING FOR TASTE

cultural frames and values as applied to landscapes

Lewis, Peirce. "American Landscape Tastes." Modern Landscape Architecture: A Critical Review, edited by Marc Treib, MIT Press, 1993, pp. 2-17.

Th 8/29 MAKING IDEAS IN LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE processes of drawing, modeling, and analysis; representations as tools for ideation and selling

Corner, James. "Drawing and Making in the Landscape Medium." Word & Image vol. 8, no. 3, 1992, pp. 243-275.

Recitation 2: 8/29-9/2

WEEK 3

Tu 9/3 MATERIAL AND MESSAGE

gardens, native plants, and habitat; sustainability and resilience; material choice and sourcing

Nassauer, Joan Iverson. "Messy Ecosystems, Orderly Frames." Landscape Journal vol. 14, no. 2, 1995, pp. 161-170.

Project 1 assigned. Project 3 assigned (for graduate students).

Th 9/5 TOUR OF INSPECTION: MIRROR LAKE

A selection of articles on Ohio State's Mirror Lake have been posted to Carmen in the Week 3 folder. Choose at least three to read for today.

Recitation 3: 9/5-9/9

WEEK 4

Tu 9/10 A BRIEF HISTORY OF LANDSCAPE-MAKING

prehistory to 1850; cultural infrastructures and gardens; estates and royal gardens; emergence of professional landscape designers

Giroto, Christophe. The Course of Landscape Architecture. Thames & Hudson, 2016, pp. 15-43.

9/11: Public lecture by landscape architect Michelle Delk, in Knowlton 250 at 5:30.

Th 9/12 A BRIEF HISTORY OF LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE

1850 to 1970; Frederick Law Olmsted and his followers; modernist landscapes; environmentalism and research

Howett, Catherine. "Ecological Values in Twentieth-Century Landscape Design: A History and Hermeneutics." Landscape Journal vol. 17, Special Issue, 1998, pp. 80-98.

II. Country and Community: How Does Landscape Architecture Plan the Environment?

WEEK 5

Tu 9/17 ACTIVITY I

Th 9/19 PLANNING FOR LANDSCAPE

regional landscape planning and analysis; environmental planning; urban planning; top-down and bottom-up processes

Ndubisi, Forster. "Landscape Ecological Planning." Ecological Design and Planning, edited by George F. Thompson and Frederick R. Steiner, John Wiley and Sons, 1997, 9-39.

Recitation 4: 9/19-9/23

WEEK 6

Tu 9/24 PARK SERVICE

landscape architecture and the United States' National Parks

Lerner, Jonathan. "Surge Time." Landscape Architecture Magazine vol. 106, no. 8, 2016, pp. 92-105.

Th 9/26 LANDSCAPE IS OUR BRAND

corporate landscapes; theme parks

Jost, Daniel. "Designing Disney." Landscape Architecture vol. 99, no. 5, 2009, pp. 54-65.

Recitation 5: 9/26-9/30

WEEK 7

Tu 10/1

DESIGNING COMMUNITY

subdivision and town design; New Urbanism vs. landscape urbanism

Kelbaugh, Doug. "Landscape Urbanism, New Urbanism and the Environmental Paradox of Cities." Landscape Urbanism and its Discontents, edited by Andrés Duany and Emily Talen, New Society, 2013, pp. 57-86.

Project 1 due; Project 2 assigned.

Th 10/3 CAMPUS LIFE

The Ohio State University; educational landscapes

Turner, Paul Venable. Campus. MIT Press, 1984, selections.

Recitation 6: 10/3-10/7

III. Reinventing Space: How Does Landscape Architecture Design Sites for Human Activity?

WEEK 8

12/3-12/10 EXAM

12/13 PROJECT 3 DEADLINE (FOR PARTICIPANTS ONLY)

COURSE POLICIES

ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to attend all scheduled class meeting times and related events as outlined in the course syllabus. Attendance at lecture sessions will be taken by two means, one at the beginning and one at the end of each session: a sign-up sheet and a short writing assignment. Any foreseen medical absence must be documented prior to the start of the scheduled class meeting. Any absence related to other course commitments or activities must be brought to the attention of the instructor or a graduate assistant at least one week in advance. There are five situations which justify an “excused absence.” They are:

Personal illness. Students who are too ill or injured to participate in class must provide written documentation from a physician stating that the student cannot participate in class, as soon as possible after the event in question.

Death of a member of the student’s immediate family. Students who have missed class due to a death in the family must provide documentation of the death (death certificate, obituary, etc.) as soon as possible after the event in question.

Military or government duty. Please notify me prior to service, as soon as you are aware of any possible conflicts.

University/Knowlton School sanctioned events. Students who will be participating in University/Knowlton School sanctioned events must provide me with a copy of the scheduled events and those classes of which will be missed, as soon as you are aware of any possible conflicts.

Major religious holiday. Students who will be observing a religious holiday must provide a written notification to me within the first two weeks of the semester.

One of these reasons must be documented for an absence to be excused or a quiz rescheduled.

Please contact Tyler Cloud (cloud.70) with general questions and requests related to attendance.

DEADLINES

Late work for projects will be accepted with a penalty. Grades will go down 20% for every day (24 hour period) they are late, beginning immediately after the due time. Incomplete projects will be evaluated in relation to their degree of completion. Students should be aware that grade records are not required to be kept longer than two terms beyond the course offering. Any issues about grades should be reported to the instructor as soon as possible, and no later than the next active term (autumn term for spring or summer courses, spring for autumn courses.) If a student wishes to have a grade reviewed, they should first contact the instructor they have worked with to discuss the grade. A reviewed grade can go down.

Please contact Lulu Aguiar (aguiar.14) with questions and requests on deadlines.

COURSE EVALUATIONS

Students are highly encouraged to fill out a Student Evaluation of Instructor (SEI) at the end of the semester. Feedback from SEIs greatly helps in improving my teaching and this course over time. To encourage you all to fill out an SEI, time will be set aside in class to complete the form.

TECHNOLOGY

You may use whatever technology you need in class to follow along – audio recording, taking photographs, checking sources or readings. However, be aware that your cell phone/mobile device is a rabbit hole and you are likely to lose time inside of it.

COMMUNICATION

Students must check their university email daily. In return, I (or a teaching assistant) will return all emails within 24 hours.

At midterm, I will send a letter to students whose performance is deemed unsatisfactory. This letter is to alert the student that his/her performance is lacking and offer suggestions on how to improve working method and outcomes. For landscape architecture majors and graduate students, a copy of this letter will be sent to the student's advisor, the Chair of Undergraduate/Graduate Studies, and the Landscape Architecture Section Head.

OFFICE HOURS

Regular office hours are scheduled throughout the semester so that students may consult with me about specific questions and/or issues they have related to course work, academic performance, or professional development. It is appreciated, although not required, that students arrange for individual meetings ahead of time. If a student drops in without notice, they should be prepared to defer to those students with prearranged meeting times.

CAVEAT

The schedule and assignments of this course are subject to change. Any adjustments will be made known in class and/or through a revised statement or syllabus. Students are responsible for learning of these changes if they miss class time.

GENERAL POLICIES

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the University's Code of Student Conduct, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the University's Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute "Academic Misconduct."

OSU's Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: "Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process." Examples include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University's Code of Student Conduct is never considered an "excuse" for academic misconduct, so it is recommended that you review the Code of Student Conduct.

If a faculty member suspects that a student has committed academic misconduct in a course, they are obligated by University Rules to report suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. If COAM determines that a student has violated the University's Code of Student Conduct, the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University.

Office of Student Life Student Conduct: <https://studentconduct.osu.edu/>

Code of Student Conduct: <https://trustees.osu.edu/bylaws-and-rules/code>

Committee on Academic Misconduct: oaa.osu.edu/coam.html

Academic Misconduct Information for Students: <https://oaa.osu.edu/academic-integrity-and-misconduct/student-misconduct>

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is one of the most serious forms of academic misconduct. Plagiarism is simply using the words, ideas, and images of other people without giving them credit. When you are using someone else's words, ideas, or images, take the time to attribute them by specifying your source and setting them apart from your own work.

This concept can be confusing in practice. I encourage you to contact me or a graduate assistant if you have any confusion about what constitutes plagiarism.

GRIEVANCES

According to University Policies, if you have a problem with this class, you should seek to resolve the grievance concerning a grade or academic practice by speaking first with the instructor. Then, if necessary, take your case to the graduate or undergraduate studies chair, section head, school director, college dean or associate dean, and to the provost, in that order. Specific procedures are outlined in Faculty Rule 3335-7-23. Grievances against graduate, research, and teaching associates should be submitted first to the supervising instructor, then to the head of the associate's section.

SEXUAL HARRASSMENT

No forms of sexual harassment or intimidation will be tolerated. Sexual harassment includes lewd remarks and inappropriate comments made in the studio environment, classroom, and computer labs as well as the "display of inappropriate sexually oriented materials in a location where others can see it." Sexual harassment includes inappropriate behavior among two or more students; between students and/or faculty and/or staff; and within those groups. The actions can take place in physical, verbal, or written forms.

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator at titleix@osu.edu or (614) 247-5838. Also, refer to University's Code of Student Conduct 3335-23-04 (C) for additional information.

DIVERSITY

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body and the greater university community. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

The Knowlton School also values the intellectual diversity of its faculty and students, and supports diverse approaches to instruction and learning. A respect for individual rights is the foundation of an intellectual community, and all members of the community are expected to conduct themselves with the highest ethical principles and regard for others.

COUNSELING AND MENTAL HEALTH

As a student you may experience mental health concerns or stressful events such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation, etc., that cause barriers to learning, participation and performance. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of these concerns, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner and to abide by the provisions in the Code of Student Conduct. Students should represent themselves in a professional manner in forums that have public access. This includes information posted on social networking sites. Information on these sites is often screened by potential employers, and unprofessional material can have a negative impact on job or graduate school prospects.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately to privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I will request that you register with Student Life Disability Services if you have not done so already. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS may be contacted through slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner and to abide by the provisions in the Code of Student Conduct. Students should appreciate diversity, and they should conduct themselves professionally with members of the same or opposite gender and/or from different ethnicities and cultures. Students should represent themselves in a professional manner in forums that have public access. This includes information posted on social networking sites such as Facebook and Twitter. Information on these pages is often screened by potential employers, and unprofessional material can have a negative impact on job or graduate school prospects.

PROHIBITED ITEMS AND ACTIONS

The following items are prohibited: Non-Knowlton School furniture, alcohol, cigarettes, weapons, bicycles, skateboards, rollerblades, pets, spray paints, foam cutter wands, welding devices, glaives, guisarmes, heat guns, and any flame or gaseous liquid device. The following safety compliances must be observed: electrical power cords cannot be connected in a series or extend over traffic areas; fire extinguishers must remain accessible and in full view; access to stairwells, corridors, and aisles must maintain a 44" clear width and handrails must be unobstructed. Building surfaces cannot be marked, anchored to, or penetrated. Installations may not occur in any part of the building except by permission of the Knowlton School Building Coordinator. Power tools are restricted to the shop except when permission is granted by the Knowlton School Building Coordinator. Loud noise is forbidden. Graffiti and vandalism are grounds for disciplinary action.

Distance Learning Course Component Technical Review Checklist

Course: LARCH 2600

Instructor: Justin Scherma Parscher / Judith Bunham-Borst (requestor)

Summary: There are two major goals for this course: to give students an overview of the contemporary practice of landscape architecture, and to give them tools for appreciating and evaluating designed landscapes. In addition to exploring landscape architecture as an artistic discipline, I will introduce landscape architecture as a profession that addresses environmental and social issues.
