- 3315-DLSyllabus Revised responds to the committees two contingencies: (1) page range amounts for readings, (2) schedule indicating when lectures take place and when students must view them. Course description

In recent times, domestic and international terrorism has become a distressing feature of social life for the world's people. Between 1968 and 2015 there were nearly 107,000 separate acts of terrorism around the globe, which resulted in over half a million deaths and injuries. While these numbers are relatively small in comparison to other forms of political violence (e.g., full-scale war), the economic, political, and social-psychological impact of terrorism should not be underestimated. For instance, the economic costs of the 9/11 attacks ran into the hundreds of billions of dollars. For these reasons and others, terrorism has become a critical area of study for the social sciences.

Course learning outcomes

The purpose of this course is to provide a broad review of the definitions, histories, types, and theories of terrorism, with a special focus on sociological approaches (e.g., social movements theory and ideology). Moreover, we will be exploring the consequences of terrorism in terms of social responses to terrorism (e.g., homeland security), the economic and political costs of such responses (e.g., civil rights), and the possibility of preventing terrorism in the future.

HOW THIS ONLINE COURSE WORKS

Mode of delivery: This course is 100% online. There are no required sessions when you must be logged in to Carmen at a scheduled time.

Pace of online activities: This course is divided into weekly modules that are released one week ahead of time. Students are expected to keep pace with weekly deadlines but may schedule their efforts freely within that time frame.

Classes are asynchronous. Students are expected to view instructor posted videos for each week by the end of the week (Sunday midnight). Students will watch a series of short instructor lectures posted on Carmen. A typical week will consist of four 30-minute videos (for a total of two hours per week) along with additional curriculum related videos and activities (about one hour per week).

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average.

Attendance and participation requirements: Because this is an online course, your attendance is based on your online activity and participation. The following is a summary of students' expected participation:

- Participating in online activities for attendance: AT LEAST ONCE PER WEEK
You are expected to log in to the course in Carmen every week. (During most weeks you will probably log in many times.) If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.
- Office hours and live sessions: OPTIONAL
All live, scheduled events for the course, including my office hours, are optional.

Descriptions of major course assignments

Quizzes

Description:

I will administer three (3) quizzes over the readings and films in this course. You will have two (2) days to complete each and submit them to the appropriate “assignments” tab in Carmen. Formats will vary (some multiple choice, some short answer). The point of these quizzes is to encourage you to keep up with the readings/films and augment your learning in sync with my lectures.

Academic integrity and collaboration: YOU HAVE PERMISSION TO ACCESS LECTURES, TEXTS, AND FILMS ON ALL QUIZZES AND EXAMS, BUT COLLABORATION WITH OTHER STUDENTS ON THESE EXAMS/QUIZZES IS FORBIDDEN.

Exams

Description: There will be two exams in this class: the midterm due on October 15th, 2021 and the final exam due on December 11th, 2021 (all exams and quizzes are due by 5 p.m. that day in the appropriate “assignments” tab). Each exam will be distributed about four (4) days before they are due. These exams will consist entirely of essay questions that will require you to synthesize the knowledge you have gained from lectures, reading materials and films. It will also give you practice writing technical essays. Exams will be graded mostly on thoroughness and coherence, and both exam and quiz grades will be posted on CARMEN as soon as I finish grading them (typically about a week).

Academic integrity and collaboration: YOU HAVE PERMISSION TO ACCESS LECTURES, TEXTS, AND FILMS ON ALL QUIZZES AND EXAMS, BUT COLLABORATION WITH OTHER STUDENTS ON THESE EXAMS/QUIZZES IS FORBIDDEN.

Late assignments

My policy on tardy assignments, make-ups and incompletes is very rigid. Tardy assignments will be assessed 10% of that assignment’s grade per day unless I have approved the delay. Make-up exams/quizzes will only be allowed with a legitimate, verifiable and approved excuse. MAKE-UP EXAMS AND QUIZZES MAY DIFFER FROM THE ORIGINAL. Incompletes will be granted as course grades only in the direst (and verifiable) emergency situations.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Academic integrity policy

See Descriptions of major course assignments, above, for my specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learn, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. No matter where you are engaged in distance learning, The Ohio State University's Student Life Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) is here to support you. If you find yourself feeling isolated, anxious or overwhelmed, on-demand resources are available at go.osu.edu/ccsondemand. INTRODUCTION

In recent times, domestic and international terrorism has become a distressing feature of social life for the world's people. Between 1968 and 2015 there were nearly 107,000 separate acts of terrorism around the globe, which resulted in over half a million deaths and injuries. While these numbers are relatively small in comparison to other forms of political violence (e.g., full-scale war), the economic, political, and social-psychological impact of terrorism should not be underestimated. For instance, the social and economic costs of the 9/11 attacks ran into the hundreds of billions of dollars. For these reasons and others, terrorism has become a critical area of study for the social sciences.

The purpose of this course is to provide a broad review of the definitions, histories, types, and theories of terrorism, with a special focus on sociological approaches (e.g., social movements theory and ideology). Moreover, we will be discussing the consequences of terrorism in terms of social responses to terrorism (e.g., homeland security), the economic and political costs of such responses (e.g., civil rights), and the possibility of preventing terrorism in the future.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Jonathan R. White. 2016. Terrorism and Homeland Security, 9th ed. Wadsworth/Centgage

The electronic reading is on reserve in CANVAS/CARMEN.

REQUIREMENTS:

Exams: There will be three exams in this class: exam 1 (September 24, 2019), exam 2 (November 5, 2019), and the final (December 11, 2019). These exams will consist of a mixture of multiple-choice, fill-in-the-blank, and essay questions. Each exam will be worth 100 points (for a total of 300 points for the course). No extra-credit assignments will be available in this course.

>>>PLEASE NOTE: Academic Misconduct will not be tolerated. It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct: http://oaa.osu.edu/assets/files/documents/csc_12-31-07.pdf

GRADING POLICY (Exam Weighting)

Exam 1:	100 pts.	33.3% of grade
Exam 2:	100 pts.	33.3% of grade
Final Exam:	100 pts.	33.4% of grade
Total Points:	300 pts.	100%

I will calculate final grades on a kind of curve, with the highest number of total points becoming the new ceiling I use to adjust grades. Regardless, if you score above 270 points you are guaranteed an A- or better, 240 a B- or better, 210 a C- or better, with 180 or better constituting passing on an absolute scale. If past history in the course is any guide, this adjusted curve will constitute about a half-grade boost in final marks (although this cannot be guaranteed – the curve varies from class to class).

MAKE-UPS AND INCOMPLETES

My policy on make-ups and incompletes is very rigid. I will allow make-up exams only if you have given 24-hour notice ahead of time that you will miss the exam and a legitimate (and verifiable) reason for doing so. THIS MEANS YOU MUST CONTACT ME PRIOR TO MISSING A SCHEDULED EXAM. ALL MAKE-UP EXAMS WILL DIFFER FROM IN-CLASS EXAMS. Incompletes will be granted as course grades only in the direst (and verifiable) emergency situations.

ATTENDANCE

While no formal penalty will be assessed for missing class, the lectures and films in this course are a critical part of exams, so it is in your best interest to attend each and every class (you will actually believe this after the first exam). Also, on occasion I distribute an attendance sheet that I use to assess students bordering on higher grades. Good attendance could benefit you in more ways than one, in other words. This is your education – make the most of it.
