RE: Response to concurrence obtained on 5/12/23

Although we recognize the concern from FAES with listing “food” in the title of the course, food is the primary source of nutrition. We consume foods to provide our body with what it needs to grow and repair and be healthy. There are several courses in Human Nutrition with “food” in the title; we can't really talk about nutrition without talking about food. Therefore, we would like to proceed with the course title as is: “Food is Function, Movement is Medicine.”

Subject: RE: Concurrence Request

Dear Aaron,

The new course request for KNHES 2995: ‘Food is Function, Movement is Medicine’ has been reviewed by the faculty in the Department of Food Science and Technology in the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences, and we are pleased to provide concurrence for this new course offering; however, the Academic Affairs Committee of the Department questions the use of ‘Food’ in the title since nutrition, diet and exercise, but not food per se, are the focus of the course.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,
