The Ohio State University occupies land that is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. The university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greenville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830.

The Ohio State University is a land grant institution. Land grants nationwide received funding through the 1862 Morrill Act, which gave so-called 'public' land taken from tribal nations to states to seed institutions of higher education. The Ohio State University was funded through the sale of 630,000 acres of 'public' land, carefully documented at <https://www.landgrabu.org/universities>

OK, I think this is all taken care of – I was able to email with the proposing faculty member, and she fixed it to say 2 and 4 instead of 1 and 2. I'll upload the new version to ASCNet.

I acknowledge that the land that The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greenville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. I honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that has and continues to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land.

Rachel

You're right. I've been in meetings all morning, and I see that Emily got a revision already based on my mistake. What should we do? Heading into a meeting again.

Mat-

Good morning! I think this was the class that was only in the 7-week session, so instead of 1 hour of direct instruction and 2 hours outside of class, I believe it needs to be 2 and 4 – correct?

Good morning,

The revision to ASC 1411 has been received and reviewed by Mat Coleman, faculty chair of the Social and Behavioral Sciences Panel of the ASCC, and he requests that additional information be provided before the revision is approved. Specifically, he asks:

- The language should read 1 hour of direct instruction and an additional 2 hours of indirect instruction; right now, it says 6 hours of time on direct instruction.

I will return the revision via curriculum.osu.edu in order to allow you address the Panel's concerns.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Best,
Emily

Subject: ASC 1411

Good morning,

On Tuesday, February 1, the Social and Behavioral Sciences Panel of the ASC Curriculum Committee reviewed the course proposal for ASC 1411. Please find below the Panel's feedback for this course. {N.B. Contingencies (bolded) require revision and resubmission to the Panel chair, while recommendations (italicized) or comments are suggestions from the Panel that an instructor can implement at their discretion when the course is taught.}

ASC 1411 | Unanimously approved with one (1) contingency and two (2) recommendations

- Contingency: The Panel requests that on page 2 of the syllabus the language regarding credit hours be adjusted to correspond with a 1-hour course, which for this half-term course should be approximately six hours of work per week.
- Recommendation: The Panel recommends further clarifying the way extra credit operates in the course by creating separate breakdowns for regular points and bonus points to prevent confusion.
- Recommendation: The Panel recommends providing a suggested guideline for how many modules a student might want to work through each week at minimum.

I will return ASC 1411 to the department queue via curriculum.osu.edu in order to address the Panel's requests.

Should you have any questions about the feedback of the Panel, please feel free to contact Mat Coleman (faculty Chair of the SBS Panel; cc'd on this e-mail) or me.

Best,
Emily
