Good afternoon,

On Friday, April 29th, the Themes Panel of the ASC Curriculum Committee reviewed a new GE Theme: Sustainability and High Impact Practice: Interdisciplinary Team-Teaching proposal for Food Science and Technology/FABE 3400. Please see below for the feedback of the Panel.

- GE Theme: Sustainability was unanimously approved with one comment:
 - Comment: The reviewing faculty found this proposal to be well-crafted and well-organized and clearly suited for the GE Theme: Sustainability.
- High Impact Practice: Interdisciplinary Team-Teaching was not voted on as the Panel would like the following feedback items addressed:
 - The reviewing faculty request additional information on the team-teaching aspect of the course and how the different faculty members teaching bring a different perspective to the course that helps explain the interdisciplinary nature of the instruction.
 - The reviewing faculty ask that a cover letter be provided that details all changes made in response to the feedback of the Panel.

I will return Food Science and Technology/FABE 3400 to the departmental queue via curriculum.osu.edu in order to address the Panel's feedback.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to Jim Fredal, faculty Chair of the ASCC Themes Panel, Maria Conroy, faculty Chair of the Theme Advisory Group: Sustainability, or myself.

Best,
Michael

I acknowledge that the land that The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greeneville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. I honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that has and continues to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land.
