Dear Member of the Health and Wellbeing Theme Panel,

I thank the panel for their careful review of the syllabus for Anthropology 5602: Women's Health in Global perspective that I submitted for GE status under the theme Health and Wellbeing. I have addressed the panel's four contingencies on the submitted materials (syllabus and GE form). Specifically:

Contingency 1: The reviewing faculty would like some additional clarification from the department surrounding the prerequisites for this course. Currently, the course has the "intended rank" of Freshman and above in curriculum.osu.edu. However, the course also has a prerequisite of Anthropology 2200. Anthropology 2200, additionally, has a prerequisite of Biology 1101 or equivalent. General Education courses in the new GE program should have few to no prerequisites, per the Office of Academic Affairs, and the reviewing faculty worry that these prerequisites are too restrictive for a General Education course and would like some additional clarification about how the department views these prerequisites.

Response: These prerequisites have been dropped by the Undergraduate Studies Chair. Material mastered in these lower-level courses is not required for success in this course.

Contingency 2: The reviewing faculty are concerned that this course has additional "soft" prerequisites of Anthropology 2202, 3301 and 3302 as, in the GE submission forms under General GE ELO 2.1, there is mention that the course will "...build upon basic concepts taught in Anthropology 2200 (Introduction to Physical Anthropology), 2202 (Introduction to Cultural Anthropology), 3301 (Modern Human Physical Variation) and 3302 (Introduction to Medical Anthropology)". They ask the department to address how a student who does not have 2202, 3301 and 3302 completed will be successful within this course, as they are not prerequisites for the course and this course will be taken by students of all backgrounds and disciplines as a part of the GE Theme: Health and Well-being.

Response: This verbiage has been removed from the GE submission form. These courses are no prerequisites and are not needed into to perform well in 5602.

Contingency 3: The reviewing faculty ask that Theme-specific ELO 3.2 be updated in the course syllabus on page 3, as it has recently been updated. As a reminder, the GE Goals and ELOs can be found on the Office of Academic Affairs website at: <https://oaa.osu.edu/ohio-state-ge-program>.

Response: I made 2 changes to the syllabus to address the college-level change in verbiage. (1) the wording of the health and well-being theme goal (now goal 3) has been updated to reflect the changes the panel made to this goal. (2) On the revised syllabus the theme-specific ELO is now referred to as goal 3, as per the updated online instructions.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Contingency 4: The reviewing faculty request that a cover letter be provided that details all changes made as a result of the feedback above.

Response: I submit this letter to address contingency 4.

Sincerely,

Barbara Piperata, Ph.D.

Department of Anthropology

WOMEN'S HEALTH IN GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

TERM SPRING 2023

Course overview

This is a discussion-based course. In a typical week, you will complete assigned readings and associated questions sets. These assignments will help you prepare to engage in meaningful in-class student-led discussions. It is expected that you contribute to discussion on a regular basis. On at least one occasion, you will work with a peer to lead discussion, which will include preparing the question-set we all use to discuss the material. On two occasions you will work with a group of approximately 4 peers to evaluate groups/programs addressing key women's health issues covered in class.

Course description

This course examines critical health issues affecting women around the world over the life-course. We begin by reviewing theoretical perspectives from medical anthropology and other social sciences used to explain health disparities. We then combine biological and cultural approaches to build a bio-cultural framework that will allow us to appreciate the complexities of women's health. After solidifying our theoretical grounding, we explore women's health across the life-course beginning with issues surrounding the birth of female babies. We then explore health issues that affect females through the period of childhood, adolescence, and eventually adulthood, including pregnancy and breastfeeding, and, finally, issues that arise in older age. For each health issue covered we will contemplate meaningful approaches to addressing/solving women's health dilemmas.

Course learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

- Apply evolutionary theory and the social determinants of health to understand variation in women's health across the life course (i.e., biocultural perspective).
- Articulate and critically discuss major health challenges women face over the life-course, how they vary by geographic region and culture.
- Apply cultural relativism and an emic perspective in evaluating women's health challenges and potential solutions.
- Identify and critically evaluate global entities currently addressing issues of women's health (e.g., how they work and the reasons behind their successes/failures).
- Identify and explain the ways that women's biologies, cultural and social contexts interact to affect their health

General Education

GE Category: Health and Well-being

GE Expected Learning Outcomes:

Themes: General
GE Goal	Expected Learning Outcome (ELO)
GOAL 1: Successful students will analyze an important topic or idea at a more advanced and in-depth level than the foundations.	G1.1 Engage in critical and logical thinking about the topic or idea of the theme. G1.2 Engage in an advanced, in-depth, scholarly exploration of the topic or idea of the theme.
GOAL 2: Successful students will integrate approaches to the theme by making connections to out-of-classroom experiences with academic knowledge or across disciplines and/or to work they have done in previous classes and that they anticipate doing in future.	G2.1 Identify, describe, and synthesize approaches or experiences as they apply to the theme. G2.2 Demonstrate a developing sense of self as a learner through reflection, self-assessment, and creative work, building on prior experiences to respond to new and challenging contexts.
Theme: Health and Wellbeing
GOAL 3: Students will explore and analyze health and wellbeing through attention to at least two dimensions of wellbeing. (Ex: physical, mental, emotional, career, environmental, spiritual, intellectual, creative, financial, etc.)	G3.1 Explore and analyze health and wellbeing from theoretical, socio-economic, scientific, historical, cultural, technological, policy, and/or personal perspectives. G3.2 Identify, reflect on, or apply strategies for promoting health and wellbeing.

The course will satisfy these outcomes through: (1) In-depth readings/discussions that apply theory and methods from medical anthropology and related social and health sciences to understanding women's health over the life course (see course schedule). (2) Completion of question sets requires students to critically engage with the material (analyze and evaluate methods, theory), reflect on their views/positions regarding a range of women's health issues, and apply knowledge to their own lived experience and/or culture (as many readings focus on women in other geographic/cultural settings). (3) Leading class discussion on at least one occasion, which also includes preparing a question set. This allows students the opportunity to take a leading role in identifying theory and methods in academic writing, as well as interpret results and evaluate their broader significance. It also provides students the opportunity to practice public speaking. (4) Critical evaluation of programs/policies that address health issues covered in class and oral and written presentation of argument to peers. (5) A final exam that tests students' ability to synthesize data from multiple readings/films and apply that knowledge to understanding women's health over the life course.

Course materials

Required

1. Murray AF. 2013. From Outrage to Courage: The Unjust and Unhealthy Situation of Women in Poorer Countries and What They are Doing About It. Monroe: Common Courage Press. (Murray on course schedule) – available via the university bookstore.
2. Mojola SA. 2014. Love, Money, and HIV: Becoming a Modern African Woman in the Age of AIDS. Berkeley: University of California Press. (Mojola on course schedule) – available via the university bookstore.
3. Davis, DA. 2019. Reproductive Injustice: Racism, Pregnancy, and Premature Birth. New York: NYU Press. (Davis on course schedule) – electronic copy available free via the university library.
4. Articles (n=26) available in pdf format on Carmen in the folder "Articles". These will also appear in the modules section of Carmen. Note: at the end of the syllabus, you will find a numbered list of these articles. On the Course Schedule under Theme/Readings, the articles are referred to by these same numbers – electronic available via Carmen
5. Films (n=5) are also noted on the Course Schedule. All are available free via the OSU library system. Make sure you locate these in advance on-line. Sometime the OSU library changes the access site. Waiting until the last minute to discover this is an unnecessary source of stress!

Grading and instructor response

Grades

Assignment or category	% Grade
Attendance & Participation	15%
Question sets (n=20)	20%
Leading class discussion	10%
Group program evaluations/policy briefs (n=2)	30%
Final Exam	25%
Total	100

See course schedule, below, for due dates

Attendance & Participation (15%): Attendance will be taken during each class period (1 pt per class). Absences will be recorded as 0 pts. Each student is permitted 2 absences without penalty. I also expect you to be an active participant in class discussion on a regular basis. This means sharing your answer to the assigned discussion questions and to thoughtfully respond to answers given by your colleagues. Participation is evaluated on a weekly basis, to earn participation points (1 pt week), you must make a substantive contribution at least 1x a week.

Question-sets (20%): In-class discussion is an important part of the learning experience. It is critical that you (1) complete the assigned readings and (2) upload answers to the associated question set to Carmen BEFORE the scheduled in-class discussion session (see due dates/times on the Course Schedule below). Most question sets consist of ~8-10 questions. Responses are expected to be thorough and include specific data/information from the readings.

Academic Integrity: It is expected that the work you submit is your own. However, I have no problem with you meeting up with colleagues to discuss the material and your thoughts/answers.

Leading Class Discussion (10%): This part of your grade is based on your performance leading class discussion during the semester. You will work with a partner. Together, you will be responsible for guiding class discussion on selected articles or a book on one occasion. Below are guidelines for leading discussion:

1. Timeline: Preparing to lead class discussion takes time, effort, and organization.
  - a. Two weeks prior to your presentation data, you should devise a schedule and timeline to work with your partner to prepare ~8 well thought-out and engaging questions that will stimulate class discussion on the article(s)/book/film you are assigned. [Note: during the first week of class you will have the opportunity to select the week/topic you want to lead discussion on].

b. One week prior to your presentation date, you will submit to me your typed and carefully edited (no typos, grammatical errors etc.) question-set draft. You will then meet with me, and I will provide feedback. This meeting is Not Optional. You will have time to then make any needed edits.

c. I will post the final version of your question-set on Carmen for the class to use to prepare for discussion. Note: if you are presenting on a Tuesday, your question-set will need to be posted on the prior Friday. If presenting on Thursday, your question-set will need to be posted on Monday.

d. Overall, I expect that you work together as a team in the preparation of your questions rather than “divide and conquer”. In other words, I want to see that you worked together to critically think through the material you will present.

2. Question-set details: Your question-set should be well-organized. It should include (1) the date of your presentation, the name of all team members, and the citations of all materials your question set is based on (2) the ~8 discussion questions.

Academic Integrity: It is expected that you work as a team and that all team members share the workload evenly. Students who fail to contribute to the group effort will receive a “0” for this assignment. If you miss class on the day of the presentation you will receive a “0.”

Group program evaluations/policy briefs (n=2) (30%): With a small group of peers (~3-5) you will prepare 2 program evaluations. These will be 3-page assignments (1.5 spacing, 12 pt font, 1-inch margins). Each of these assignments will have 3 parts. Part 1: you will summarize the program’s goals, target population/reach, approach (i.e., specific initiatives), funding source(s) (approximately 1-page). Part 2: Drawing on class readings/discussion, you will evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the policy/program and make substantive suggestions for improving the policy/program (approximately 2 pages). This will be uploaded to Carmen and shared with the class at least two days prior to your presentation (see part 3). Part 3: your group will prepare a PowerPoint that summarizes parts 1 and 2, which you will present to the class. These should be 5-minute presentations followed by a 10-15 minute Q&A that your group will lead and where we will discuss the policy/program as a class. Additional details and guidance will be provided in class and posted to Carmen for reference.

Academic Integrity: It is expected that you work as a team and that all team members share the workload evenly. Students who fail to contribute to the group effort will receive a “0” for this assignment.

Final Exam (25%): The final exam will consist of short essays. The exam is taken open-line and is open book / open note and will be completed within Carmen. Details on length of individual responses and materials you should draw on to answer each question will be provided on the exam.

Academic Integrity: It is expected that you work alone on this assignment with no help from others.

Late assignments

Question sets: in-class question sets turned in within 24-hrs of the due date/time will receive 50% of the total point value. Assignments turned in later than 24-hrs past the due date will not be accepted without prior approval or a formal excuse (e.g., SLDS accommodation, doctor's note).

Leading Class Discussion: There will be no make-up opportunities. If you miss class on the day you are leading discussion, your grade will be recorded as a "0."

Group program evaluations/policy briefs: evaluation/policy briefs turned in within 24-hrs of the due date/time will receive 50% of the total point value. Assignments turned in later than 24-hrs past the due date will not be accepted. Any student missing the in-class presentation will receive "0" points for part 3 of this assignment.

Final Exam: There will be no make-up exams without prior approval or a formal excuse (e.g., doctor's note). Your grade for a missed exam will be recorded as a "0."

Instructor feedback and response time

I am providing the following list to give you an idea of my intended availability throughout the course.

Contact Preference

- E-mail is the best way to get in contact with me (piperata.1@osu.edu). I will reply within 24-hrs on weekdays.
- Of course, it would be great to see you in office hours as well!

Grading and feedback

- For all assignments (question sets, leading discussion, group program/policy evaluations, final exam) you can expect feedback within 7 days.
- Carmen Announcements: I will use Carmen Announcements to communicate as schedule changes, alert you to on-campus activities and opportunities related to this course and the anthropology department. It is critical that you check the Carmen page regularly and read all announcements. I also recommend you link Carmen announcements to your email so you can seamlessly receive these alerts.

E-mail

I will reply to e-mails within 24 hours on school days.

Attendance, participation, and discussions

Student participation requirements

Discussion and communication guidelines

While I do not expect you to make substantive comments every class period, I do expect that you are active in class discussion and make significant contributions on a regular basis. Contributing to discussion is an excellent way to test your knowledge of the subjects covered and share that with your peers.

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Informality (including an occasional emoticon) is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, use APA style. For online sources, include a link.)
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Other course policies

Academic integrity policy

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 33355487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct.

As defined in University Rule 3335-31-02, plagiarism is “the representation of another’s works or ideas as one’s own; it includes the unacknowledged word for word use and/or paraphrasing of another person’s work, and/or the inappropriate unacknowledged use of another person’s ideas.” It is the obligation of this department and its instructors to report all cases of suspected plagiarism to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. After the report is filed, a hearing takes place and if the student is found guilty, the possible sanctions range from failing the class to suspension or expulsion from the university. Although the existence of the Internet makes it relatively easy to plagiarize, it also makes it even easier for instructors to find evidence of plagiarism. It is obvious to most teachers when a student turns in work that is not his or her own and plagiarism search engines make documenting the offense very simple. Always cite your sources’ always ask questions before you turn in an assignment if you are uncertain about what constitutes plagiarism. To preserve the integrity of OSU as an institution of higher learning, to maintain your own integrity, and to avoid jeopardizing your future, DO NOT PLAGIARIZE!

Accommodations for accessibility

The University strives to make all learning experiences as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion. SLDS contact information: slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; slds.osu.edu; 098 Baker Hall, 113 W. 12th Avenue.

Student Support Policies and Resources

Diversity. The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Mental Health Services. As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available through the 24/7 National Suicide Prevention Hotline at 1-800-273-TALK or at suicidepreventionlifeline.org.

Title IX. Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator, Mollie Peirano, at titleix@osu.edu.

As an instructor, one of my responsibilities is to help create a safe learning environment on our campus. I also have a mandatory reporting responsibility related to my role as an instructor. It is my goal that you feel able to share information related to your life experiences in classroom discussions, in your written work, and in our one-on-one meetings. I will seek to keep information you share private to the greatest extent possible. However, I am required to share information regarding sexual misconduct or information about a crime that may have occurred on Ohio State's campus with the University. Students may speak to someone confidentially through the Ohio State Anonymous Reporting Line.

Recovery Support. The Collegiate Recovery Community (CRC) is a supportive peer community on campus for students in recovery from a substance use disorder or who may be currently struggling with substance use. The CRC is located in room 1230 of Lincoln Tower and meets regularly on Wednesdays at 5pm. Stop by or visit go.osu.edu/recovery or email recovery@osu.edu for more information.

Student Advocacy. The Student Advocacy Center can assist students with appeals, petitions and other needs when experiencing hardship during a semester. Learn more at <http://advocacy.osu.edu/>.

GE THEME COURSES

Overview

Courses that are accepted into the General Education (GE) Themes must meet two sets of Expected Learning Outcomes (ELOs): those common for all GE Themes and one set specific to the content of the Theme. This form begins with the criteria common to all themes and has expandable sections relating to each specific theme.

A course may be accepted into more than one Theme if the ELOs for each theme are met. Courses seeing approval for multiple Themes will complete a submission document for each theme. Courses seeking approval as a 4-credit, Integrative Practices course need to complete a similar submission form for the chosen practice. It may be helpful to consult your Director of Undergraduate Studies or appropriate support staff person as you develop and submit your course.

Please enter text in the boxes to describe how your class will meet the ELOs of the Theme to which it applies. Please use language that is clear and concise and that colleagues outside of your discipline will be able to follow. You are encouraged to refer specifically to the syllabus submitted for the course, since the reviewers will also have that document. Because this document will be used in the course review and approval process, you should be as specific as possible, listing concrete activities, specific theories, names of scholars, titles of textbooks etc.

Accessibility

If you have a disability and have trouble accessing this document or need to receive it in another format, please reach out to Meg Daly at daly.66@osu.edu or call 614-247-8412.
