Dear Nick,

Thank you and Dr. Kunimoto for working with the faculty in the School of Environment and Natural Resources in the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences. Dr. Lauren Pintor, Chair of the Academic Affairs committee in the School has informed me that she, Jeff Sharp (former AAC chair) and Natasha Myhal met with you both to talk about the concerns with the two Ethnic Studies courses we were being asked for concurrence on. The Center has identified instructors for the courses and also welcomed the opportunity to collaborate with Natasha Myhal on their courses and the courses she is developing. Dr. Pintor relayed the discussion to the AAC committee, and the School of Environment and Natural Resources no longer has concerns.

The College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences is pleased to offer concurrence for the course proposals for Ethnic Studies 2525 "Race, Gender, and Nature" and Ethnic Studies 3535 "Race, Ethnicity, and Environmental Justice: Theory and Practice". We look forward to these new courses, and for the opportunity to contribute. Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Best regards,

Jeanne

Dear Dean Osborne,

I hope this message finds you well. I write with a set of course concurrence requests on behalf of the Center for Ethnic Studies, part of the Humanities Institute here at OSU.

Please find attached proposals for two new courses: Ethnic Studies 2525 “Race, Gender, and Nature” and Ethnic Studies 3535 “Race, Ethnicity, and Environmental Justice: Theory and Practice”. Since these courses deal with the environment, per OAA policy, the Center is requesting concurrences from many academic units at the university. If you would please review the attached syllabi and let me know of your decision on concurrence, or whether you have any follow-up questions/concerns before granting concurrence, by close of business Friday, June 16, I would greatly appreciate it. Per our college’s SOP, concurrence will be assumed if no response is received within that two-week period.

Many thanks,

Dear all,

Please find attached proposals for two new courses: Ethnic Studies 2525 “Race, Gender, and Nature” and Ethnic Studies 3535 “Race, Ethnicity, and Environmental Justice: Theory and Practice”. Since these courses deal with the environment, per OAA policy, the Center for Ethnic Studies is requesting concurrences from many academic units at the university. Please email your responses/concurrences to Nick Spitulski (spitulski.1@osu.edu), Administrative Coordinator for the Humanities Institute, and cc me. *Responses are due by Monday, June 19, 2023. Concurrence will be assumed if no response is received within two weeks.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Many thanks,

Dear Dean Bisesi,

I hope this message finds you well. I write with a set of course concurrence requests on behalf of the Center for Ethnic Studies, part of the Humanities Institute here at OSU.

Please find attached proposals for two new courses: Ethnic Studies 2525 “Race, Gender, and Nature” and Ethnic Studies 3535 “Race, Ethnicity, and Environmental Justice: Theory and Practice”. Since these courses deal with the environment, per OAA policy, the Center is requesting concurrences from many academic units at the university. If you would please review the attached syllabi and let me know of your decision on concurrence on behalf of Public Health, or whether you have any follow-up questions/concerns before granting concurrence, by close of business Friday, June 16, I would greatly appreciate it. Per our college’s SOP, concurrence will be assumed if no response is received within that two-week period.

Many thanks,

Hi Jackson and Mytheli,

Many thanks for reviewing these proposals and for the helpful notes re: 2525. I've relayed them to Inés Valdez and Paloma Martinez-Cruz, who have been developing these in conjunction with a larger certificate proposal for Race, Ethnicity, and Environmental Justice that Jian Chen was also involved with, so hopefully, perhaps in further consultation with Jian, the description can be expanded relatively readily and in a way that alleviates any concerns about overlapping content. I'll be back in touch as soon as an updated doc is available!

Subject: WGSS concurrence review for ETHNSTDS courses

Good afternoon Nick and Dr. Kunimoto,

I'm writing on behalf of WGSS in response to the concurrence request for ETHNSTDS 2525 and 3535. WGSS is excited about both of these course and encourages the continued development of the Ethnic Studies curriculum. WGSS grants full concurrence to ETHNSTDS 3535. The faculty do have some concerns and feedback about ETHNSDS 2525. Please see the attached comments and WGSST 2260 syllabi for full feedback and continued discussion.

Please let me know if I can provide any additional information at this time.

Best,
Jackson

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces the study of the intersection of race, gender, and environmental justice. In addition to considering the origins, construction, and effects of racial and gender difference in society, the course will connect these categories to questions of environmental justice and injustice. In particular, the course will consider how the particular positionality of women of color exposes them to environmental harm and informs their community action and struggle for regenerative worlds. The course will also consider the racial and gendered character of fossil fuel extraction and use, and what “feminist energy systems” could look like.

As an introductory course, the goal of the material is to expose students to a wide range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary materials, highlighting how history, political theory, literature, and geography, among other fields, have tackled the problem of race and gender in relation to nature.

This course is thus distinct from the (highly recommended) WGSS 2260 (Queer Ecologies), which centers queer methodologies. On the one hand, ETHNSTD 2525 expands on the sources that WGSS 2260 assigns for the intersections between the environment and indigeneity, racism, colonialism, and settler colonialism, thus enriching the curriculum for students interested in these areas. On the other hand, this course engages systematically with different aspects of environmental problems and their intersection with race and gender, thus including topics such as adaptation, energy economics, oil, extraction, and deforestation.

REQUIREMENTS FULFILLED AND FORMAT

“Race, Gender, and Nature” is a 3-credit hour, lecture and discussion-based course that fulfills the General Education requirement for the Foundations category of Race, Ethnicity and Gender Diversity.

COURSE GOALS AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Successful students will recognize how the social construction and human interventions in and entanglements with nature entails has been conditioned by hierarchical constructions of racial and gender difference.
2. Successful students will assess how relations to nature proceeded along gendered and racialized social and political processes of housewifization, land dispossession, forced displacement, and the environmental and communal degradation of vulnerable communities.

COURSE GOALS – GE FOUNDATIONS: RACE, ETHNICITY AND GENDER DIVERSITY

1. Successful students will engage in a systematic assessment of how historically and socially constructed categories of race, ethnicity, and gender, and possibly others, shape perceptions, individual outcomes, and broader societal, political, economic, and cultural systems.

2. Successful students will recognize and compare a range of lived experiences of race, gender, and ethnicity.

EXPECTED LEARNING OUTCOMES – GE FOUNDATIONS: RACE, ETHNICITY AND GENDER DIVERSITY

Successful students will be able to:

- 1.1. Describe and evaluate the social positions and representations of categories including race, gender, and ethnicity, and nature.
- 1.2. Explain how categories including race, gender, and ethnicity continue to function within complex systems of power to impact individual lived experiences and environmental injustice.
- 1.3. Analyze how the intersection of categories including race, gender, ethnicity, and nature combine to shape lived experiences.
- 1.4. Evaluate social and ethical implications of studying how race, gender, ethnicity filter relations with nature.
- 2.1. Demonstrate critical self- reflection and critique of their social positions and identities.
- 2.2. Recognize how perceptions of difference shape one’s own attitudes, beliefs, or behaviors.
- 2.3. Describe how the categories of race, gender, and ethnicity influence the lived experiences of others.

To achieve the aforementioned goals students will be assigned readings that contain introductory material about race and gender, followed by critical race and gender approaches to the question of environmental justice. Based on these readings, in combination with lecture, assignments, and discussions, students will think, engage in dialogue, and write in critical, imaginative and reflective ways about the material dealt with in class. Keeping up to date with the readings and lectures and participating respectfully and responsibly in discussion boards are crucial components of the learning process.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The scholarly literature agrees that engaging with the course material in multiple ways promotes learning. The course requirements have been designed to promote this goal, by incentivizing students to be active readers, attentive listeners, and engaged discussants throughout the semester. I encourage you to consider the assignments not as simple “busy work” but as complementary pieces that facilitate learning through engagement with the material and your peers, despite the lack of a shared physical classroom, and thus crucial to your success (in other words, when you complete group work and quizzes proficiently you will obtain a good grade, but their completion will also deepen your learning and thus improve your performance in the midterm and final exams).

1. Readings quizzes (15%) ensure you keep up with readings and complete the lecture recordings;
2. Groupwork (10%) facilitates high level involvement with the material;
3. Lock & Key assignments (10%) facilitate a close reading of challenging texts (See Appendix B for instructions and prompts);
4. Midterm and final exams (40% total) test students’ understanding of basic concepts;
5. Response paper (15%) develops and sharpens analytic and writing skills (See Appendix D for prompt and Appendix E for grading criteria);
6. Participation (10%) deepens your learning. Participation includes attentive listening of the lectures, asking questions and offering comments in class, commenting in discussion fora and replying/engaging with other students’ comments in discussion fora, and being prompt and professional in dealing with coursework.
7. Extra credit (+ 5 points added to the final grade): details about the opportunities for extra credit are posted on the “Extra Credit” module at the bottom of the Carmen page.

Further, your participation grade will include your participation in group work (i.e., your participation grade will reflect negatively if you do not complete group work assignments with your group), the timely submission of ungraded assignments, of which you should think as tools to prepare you for and improve your performance in graded assignments. Ungraded assignments include:

(a) Syllabus Statement: review this syllabus and the course book carefully—especially course policies, assignments, and expectations – and reflect on your impressions after the introductory session. Write one or two paragraphs about how you expect to do in this course. What assignments or activities do you think you will do well on and why? What assignments or activities do you think will be difficult for you and why? What parts of your reading and writing history make you confident about some parts and hesitant about others? The point of this exercise is to reflect on your own intellectual practice, and a good practice at interpreting texts and examining evidence from your own life. This exercise provides useful information so that I can think about how best to support your intellectual development.

(b) Consistent participation in the discussion fora you are assigned to: discussion fora ask you to reflect and comment on newspaper pieces that related to scholarly topics covered in class. This assignment helps you find the connections between what you study and the world in which we live, as well as your position in it and the actions that you can take in response to what you learn. In this for a I require that you follow these clear ground rules: 1. Read the whole thread before you comment (you don't want to repeat a question asked earlier or respond to a question already addressed); 2. Stay on topic; 3. Don't type in ALL CAPS (it looks like you're screaming); 4. Don't write angry or sarcastic posts (jokes that work in person may misfire online); 5. Be kind (say please and thank you); 6. Respect the opinions of others (even if you disagree, acknowledge valid points and everyone's entitlement to well-reasoned, democratic, and respectful opinions); 7. Before you reply to a classmate, make sure your claims are accurate; 8. If many people respond to your comment, summarize the main points and post it for the benefit of the whole class; 9. Be brief; 10. Don't badmouth or call others names, disagreement is about ideas; 11. If you refer to an earlier portion, quote the relevant portion; 12. Before asking a question, check the syllabus, the FAQs forum, and the News items; 13. Be forgiving of others' mistakes; 14. Run a spelling grammar before posting. Source (and more on each of these rules): <http://blogs.onlineeducation.touro.edu/15-rules-netiquette-online-discussion-boards/>

(c) Peer review of essays: before submission of their final project, students will work in pairs to provide feedback on each other's papers (see Appendix F).

* All due dates for assignments are listed in the course schedule below and on Carmen***

* All assignments will be automatically scanned with turnitin, a plagiarism-detection software***

FAQS FORUM

A separate running forum for “Frequently Asked Questions” is available for students to post questions about course content or assignments in the second module on the home page. The instructor will address these questions every 48 hours during weekdays, and both questions and answers will be available to the whole class. This system makes information that students would otherwise obtain “privately” over email publicly available. If you submit a question of this sort to the instructor or the teaching assistants, they will redirect you to post it in the forum. As always, check the syllabus, previous FAQs, and the news section before posting a question.

DISABILITY SERVICES

The university strives to maintain a healthy and accessible environment to support student learning in and out of the classroom. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.

If you are isolating while waiting for a COVID-19 test result, please let me know immediately. Those testing positive for COVID-19 should refer to the Safe and Healthy Buckeyes site for resources. Beyond five days of the required COVID-19 isolation period, I may rely on Student Life Disability Services to establish further reasonable accommodations. You can connect with them at slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; or slds.osu.edu.

MENTAL HEALTH STATEMENT

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available 24/7 by dialing 988 to reach the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT/RELATIONSHIP VIOLENCE

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator at titleix@osu.edu

THE VALUE OF DIVERSITY

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

RELIGIOUS ACCOMMODATIONS

It is Ohio State's policy to reasonably accommodate the sincerely held religious beliefs and practices of all students. The policy permits a student to be absent for up to three days each academic semester for reasons of faith or religious or spiritual belief.

Students planning to use religious beliefs or practices accommodations for course requirements must inform the instructor in writing no later than 14 days after the course begins. The instructor is then responsible for scheduling an alternative time and date for the course requirement, which may be before or after the original time and date of the course requirement. These alternative accommodations will remain confidential. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that all course assignments are completed.

ACADEMIC ETHICS/MISCONDUCT

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

* All assignments submitted will be analyzed by a plagiarism-detection software (turnitin)***

YOUR COURSE GRADE WILL BE BASED ON THE FOLLOWING WEIGHTS FOR EACH OF THE ASSIGNMENTS

Lock & Key assignments	10%
Reading Quizzes	10%
Post-lecture Quizzes	5%
Participation (includes ungraded assignments and discussion fora)	10%
Group Work	10%
Midterm Exam^	20%
Final Exam^ (non-cumulative)	20%
Final Project	15%

^ Exams are closed book. You will be asked to answer 30 multiple choice questions in 45 minutes. The best way to prepare for both exams is to rely on the “Reading/Discussion_Qs.docx” document available on Carmen, you can use it to explain the answers to other study group members and quizzing each other

* All assignments submitted will be analyzed by a plagiarism-detection software (turnitin)***

YOUR COURSE GRADE WILL BE BASED ON THE FOLLOWING DEFINITIONS

Letter grade	Numerical equivalence	Definition
A	A 93-100 A- 90-92	Highest level of attainment. The A grade states clearly that the student has shown outstanding promise in the topic under study.
B	B+ 87-89 B 83-86 B- 80-82	Strong performance demonstrating a high level of attainment. The B grade states that the student has shown solid promise in the aspect of the discipline under study.

C	C+ 77-79 C 73-76 C- 70-72	A totally acceptable performance demonstrating an adequate level of attainment. The C grade states that, while not yet showing unusual promise, the student may continue to study in the discipline with reasonable hope of intellectual development.
D	D+ 67-69 D 60-66	A marginal performance in the required exercises demonstrating a minimal passing level of attainment.
E	0-59	Failed, unacceptable performance.

* All assignments submitted will be analyzed by a plagiarism-detection software (turnitin)***

- If the notice above has now appeared four times, it's because of its importance.
- Turnitin is extremely effective: be wise and invest your time doing original work.

REQUIRED READING

(1) Readings available on Carmen: All readings are available on Carmen and organized by module and (at the bottom) alphabetically.

IMPORTANT NOTE: All assignments must be submitted in PDF format only through Carmen folders set up for that purpose.

NO RECORDING OR TRANSMISSION OF COURSE MATERIAL IS ALLOWED

No form of distribution of class material is permitted. Your personal class notes, to the extent to which they are transcriptions of the class, are for your own individual use, though they may be shared with other students in the class. Transcriptions of the class lectures, as they are intellectual property, however, may not be sold, posted on the web, and/or transmitted to individuals who are not registered for the course, in any fashion.

CLASS ETIQUETTE (see also discussion forum etiquette on page 3)

- Before class starts, put away all of your devices
- Take handwritten notes, which has been proven to enhance learning (“The case for Banning Laptops” and “The reading Brain in the Digital Age”).
- There will be a break mid-way through the class, when you can check your phone but also consider talking to your classmates ☺

EMAIL ETIQUETTE

- Check the syllabus, FAQs Forum, and Carmen News Items for an answer before writing an email to the instructor or TAs;
- If the question is a general clarificatory question that might be of general interest, post the question on the FAQs forum;
- If you’ve gone through the first and second points, and you’ve decided you need to write an email, direct your question to the Teaching Assistant in charge of that matter first (contact information and tasks for each TA are on the heading of the syllabus). This is particularly the case for grading inquiries, which they’ll answer directly. For other logistical issues they’ll either respond or consult with me and then get back to you;
- Start your email with an appropriate greeting and end it with a signature;
- Include a short but definitive subject line, and include the course in which you are enrolled;
- Do not expect an answer outside of business hours (Monday to Friday 9am to 5pm).

COURSE SCHEDULE AND READINGS

IMPORTANT NOTES:

The assignments for this course are either due 45 minutes before our class starts (in the case of reading quizzes, Lock & Key assignments, and discussion posts), at the end of class (in the case of group work performed in class), or on the dates specified in schedule below. I recommend that you pace your work ahead of that deadline rather than attempting to complete all assignments due on the day they are due.

APPENDIX A: PARTICIPATORY LEARNING GROUP WORK

You will sign up for a group slot on the first week of classes and one choose a role (see roles' description in the next page).

Group work presents some general challenges associated with the distribution of work and some particular ones in the online setting. For this reason, group members that do not attend the meeting will not be listed in the submitted assignment and will have to complete the assignment on their own.

The pedagogical benefits of engaging in a group discussion are significant. Research demonstrates that this works better than lecture for developing students' higher-level reasoning, increasing comprehension, and fostering relationships. Explaining answers, restating information, and formulating questions in your own words engage critical thinking faculties and embed information and insights in memory. In a group, students become active participants in a collective that will jointly make sense of the readings, their arguments, and their implications. It should be noted that these benefits apply even if a member of the group is shirking (they don't apply to the shirker, though), and will improve your performance in other course assignments.

Note: the skills you learn during structured learning group-work are skills that you will use again and again in the workplace, including the logistical tasks of setting up meetings and shared workspaces and the organizational task of establishing agendas and leading short and productive meetings.

Structured learning group or groupwork. Learning groups will consist of 5 students and—given set up costs—they will last for the whole semester. All students are required to do the readings in advance and contribute to articulating and writing the response, but they will also be primarily responsible for one role within the group. You will feel silly and artificial at first, but I want you to make a sincere effort to perform these roles. This practice is designed to encourage both group interdependence (you are responsible for one another's learning) and individual accountability.

These learning groups will consist of 4-5 students, and for several class periods. At the beginning of a class period, each group will decide which member will be primarily responsible for each role. The required roles are the following. (1) Reader: This person will be responsible for reading aloud the question/project, and for helping the group stay on task (watch the time, etc.). (2) Encourager: This person is responsible for encouraging all members to participate, and making sure all participation is shared. (3) Checker: This involves checking to make sure that all members of the group can explain the group's analysis, or how the group arrived at a conclusion. Periodically asking members of the group to summarize or articulate the group's analysis or conclusion will lead to higher levels of comprehension for everyone. It also provides a pause for participants to ask further questions. (4) Recorder: This person is responsible for writing down the group's analysis in a clear and detailed manner, and for turning this report into me. Once I return the report, the recorder should share it with the other members.

The point of having these explicit roles is to ensure that all group members contribute to the group's work. Each day that we meet in groups, you should think about helping with all of these roles. However, you will be primarily responsible for one. Please take a different primary role in each class meeting. You will feel silly and artificial at first, but I want you to make a sincere effort to perform these roles. When we have larger class discussions, I will call randomly on group members to explain their group's analysis, share insights, and respond to the reports of other groups. This is designed to encourage both group interdependence (being responsible for one another's learning) and individual accountability.

APPENDIX B: LOCK AND KEY ASSIGNMENTS

Evaluation criteria

The point of these assignments is for you to clarify some aspects of your understanding of the readings including what it is that you don't understand. Obviously, this is not the kind of assignment where there are "right" and "wrong" answers. I will not, then, be grading you on what you do and don't understand; I will just be evaluating the effort you put into the assignment. I'll use the following criteria to identify "effort":

- . Care with text: are you accurately quoting what Luxemburg/Daggett said? This is a matter of careful reading and proofreading.
- . Clarity of form: in explaining your key and your lock, do you use correct grammar and syntax and avoid clichés?
- . Thoughtfulness: this is a more subjective criterion than the above two, and I intend to be very generous in attributing thoughtfulness to you! Any effort to explain why you selected the passages you did will count as thoughtfulness.

Lock & Key Assignment #1

The general idea: As you do the Luxemburg reading, you should keep track of textual locks and keys. "Locks" are those parts of the text that somehow block your understanding; you can tell they're important, but you can't quite understand how or why. "Keys" are their counterparts – passages or incidents in a text that somehow help to explain or clarify what is going on in the writing. Factual questions like about an event described in the text don't count. You're trying instead to identify passages of significance to the themes of the work. You do NOT have to match "locks" with "keys"; the goal isn't to find the answer to every question, but to understand what it is you don't understand (and what you do).

The specific assignment: Record one lock and one key (i.e., transcribe the passage) and write one paragraph of at least 5 lines explaining why the particular passage is a lock or a key (as defined above).

Lock & Key Assignment #2

The general idea: As you do the second Daggett reading on petromasculinity, you should keep track of textual locks and keys. "Locks" are those parts of the text that somehow block your understanding; you can tell they're important, but you can't quite understand how or why. "Keys" are their counterparts – passages or incidents in a text that somehow help to explain or clarify what is going on in the writing. Factual questions like, "who the heck is Sherilyn MacGregor?" don't count. You're trying instead to identify passages of significance to the themes of the work. You do NOT have to match "locks" with "keys"; the goal isn't to find the answer to every question, but to understand what it is you don't understand (and what you do).

The specific assignment: Record one lock and one key (i.e., transcribe the passage) and write one paragraph of at least 5 lines explaining why the particular passage is a lock or a key (as defined above).

APPENDIX D: FINAL ESSAY: ENVIRONMENTAL REPORTS, CALLS FOR ACTION, AND THE HUMANITIES (SUBMIT THROUGH CARMEN FOLDER ONLY)

As a final assignment, you will write a final project that critically examines a scientific report from a humanities perspective that centers the connections between race, gender, and nature.

1. INSTRUCTIONS

We routinely read natural science articles or reports from public and non-governmental institutions alerting us to the latest environmental developments while warning that lack of action will lead to catastrophic results.

In this final paper, you are expected to write a three-page (single-spaced, 12 font) response to the IPBES (2021) “Synopsis,” in Biodiversity and Climate Change Workshop (Bonn: IPCC and IPBES):14-23.

Your project will offer a reasoned explanation, grounded on course readings and two external scholarly sources, about how the humanities approaches toward gender and race covered in this course can contribute to understanding what precisely needs to change for the material processes that cause global warming to change.

In the report, choose one of the conclusions listed in the synopsis and explore what insights from environmental history you could add to explain how the problem arose, what insights from the environmental/feminist/racial justice movement could you add regarding the parties that are mainly affected by this problem, and what insights from discussions about violence, colonialism, and environmental justice could you add regarding what attitudes, narratives, and institutions would have to change in order for change to ensue.

In concluding, write an “executive summary” of your proposal that could be added to this report. This should be a succinct expression of what policy interventions in what areas might be necessary to counter some of the trends the report describes.

(USE SYLLABUS READINGS IN RESPECTIVE TOPIC AND 2 EXTERNAL SCHOLARLY SOURCES)

2. FORMATTING

The essay should be three pages long (not including bibliography), 1.5-spaced, with 1-inch margins on both sides and a minimum font size of 11 points (Note: this is not the default setting for most programs; you’ll probably need to adjust). Be sure the pages are numbered in the lower right-hand corner and that your first and last name are on every page. Be sure to read Appendix C for detailed instructions on how I will evaluate your work before starting to write your paper.

Additionally, consider taking advantage of the resources at the Writing Center, which provides advice on your written work, in person and online. Before submitting the final version of your paper, be sure to look at the proofreader checklist on their website (<http://cstw.osu.edu/files/cstw/handouts/editing.pps>).

APPENDIX E: GRADING POLICY FOR PAPERS

I grade essays along five dimensions:

(1) Argument:

- After reading the first paragraph, is the argument clear?
- Is the thesis coherent and precise? Does it make an argument, or mostly summarize?
- Does the thesis suggest a structure for the paper? Is the paper organized according to the thesis?
- Is each paragraph relevant to the argument?
- How much evidence is provided in support of the argument? How good is the evidence?
- Does the argument offer a convincing reading of the texts? Is a counter-argument considered?

(2) Comprehension:

- Is each theorist's position presented accurately?
- Are all relevant examples used? Do they need to be?
- Are quotations clearly linked to the argument?
- How well are quotations explained? Are quotations unpacked?
- Does the use of the quotation demonstrate understanding of the text?
- Are complexities within the theorist's arguments addressed? Are they mentioned?

(3) Coherence:

- Does each paragraph develop a single point?
- Does each sentence communicate a complete thought?
- Are thoughts fully explained, or do they sit alone?
- How well is each quotation introduced? Is it placed in relevant context? Is it unpacked?
- Does each paragraph logically follow the preceding one?
- Is the writing choppy? That is, do sentences make sense next to one another?

(4) Writing:

- Has spellchecker been used?
- How many sentences use active voice?
- Does each sentence follow relevant grammatical rules?
- Are there any run-ons or fragments?
- Are words missing from sentences? Does it look like the paper was proofread?
- Do indefinite articles and pronouns have clear antecedents?

(5) Miscellaneous/Technical:

- Did the writer obviously try to fill space (large font, excessive space between lines, etc.)?
- Are the margins 1" on each side?
- Was the paper turned in on time? How many days late was the paper?
- Is the paper the appropriate length?

While I always strive for objectivity in my grading process and certainly take measures to ensure that my reading of your work is as objective as possible, there are no "right" or "wrong" answers when writing an essay. I am not, however, likely to be swayed by your personal position on a topic or the degree to which you "agree" with me, so do not waste time trying to figure out my own opinion or position on a topic. I look for convincing arguments, which may rely on a number of different strategies and kinds of evidence. This all means that grading essays is both an objective and a subjective process.

Please note that not complying with all required deadlines for the essay will result in a deduction, regardless of the quality of the essay.

APPENDIX F: PEER REVIEW

You will meet with your group on the date in the course schedule and will choose pairs or groups of three (if the number of group members is not even) to read each other's draft papers and give critical comments.

About 40-45 minutes of time should suffice for both of you to read the short essays and to take turns providing comments.

Proceed by following the instructions below:

1. Use the first 5 minutes to read the essay question that your partner chose and Appendix D of the syllabus (included below for your convenience) to understand the expectations for this essay.
2. In the next 10-15 minutes, the partners should read each other's papers, take abundant notes and go back and forth between the essay question and the expectations set up on the Appendix, on the one hand, and the paper, on the other hand. In reviewing your peer/s' paper, fill the following form:

REVIEW FORM

The portions on _____ (complete with paragraph #, page#) are unclear

The arguments on _____ (complete with paragraph #, page#) are unclear

The arguments on _____ (complete with paragraph #, page#) are not backed up

The main strength of the paper is _____ and its main weakness is

_____

Here summarize which changes you suggest the author should make to the paper and say why

3. The next 20 minutes should be used for both partners to discuss the suggestions included in the form, with the reviser explaining her or his comments and the beneficiary of the comments asking clarification questions when necessary. Each partner should use about 10 minutes to express the comments and questions about the other's paper.

Once you are done with the meeting, it's most efficient to start working right away on your revisions, while the conversation is fresh in your head and then upload the revised paper (this is not yet the final version, just your draft) to Carmen.

GE Foundation Courses

Overview

Courses that are accepted into the General Education (GE) Foundations provide introductory or foundational coverage of the subject of that category. Additionally, each course must meet a set of Expected Learning Outcomes (ELO). Courses may be accepted into more than one Foundation, but ELOs for each Foundation must be met. It may be helpful to consult your Director of Undergraduate Studies or appropriate support staff person as you develop and submit your course.

This form contains sections outlining the ELOs of each Foundation category. You can navigate between them using the Bookmarks function in Acrobat. Please enter text in the boxes to describe how your class meets the ELOs of the Foundation(s) to which it applies. Because this document will be used in the course review and approval process, you should use language that is clear and concise and that colleagues outside of your discipline will be able to follow. Please be as specific as possible, listing concrete activities, specific theories, names of scholars, titles of textbooks etc. Your answers will be evaluated in conjunction with the syllabus submitted for the course.

Accessibility

If you have a disability and have trouble accessing this document or need to receive the document in another format, please reach out to Meg Daly at daly.66@osu.edu or call 614-247-8412.

GE Rationale: Foundations: Race, Ethnicity, and Gender Diversity (3 credits)

Requesting a GE category for a course implies that the course fulfills all the expected learning outcomes (ELOs) of that GE category.
