Good morning,

On Thursday, April 25th, the Themes II Subcommittee of the ASC Curriculum Committee reviewed a GEN Theme: Citizenship for a Diverse and Just World request for German 3250.

I am pleased to report that the Subcommittee has unanimously approved the request with one comment:

- Comment: The reviewing faculty appreciate the edits provided to the course syllabus as a result of their feedback and find this course to be a model proposal for the GEN Theme: Citizenship for a Diverse and Just World.

To this end, they would like to ask the course proposer and department if the proposal could be utilized as a model syllabus for the GEN Theme: Citizenship for a Diverse and Just World category on the ASC Curriculum and Assessment Services website. If this is something the department is interested in doing, all I require is permission of the course proposer and the department (which generally takes the form of Director of Undergraduate Studies, faculty GE administrator, or other such role). Once we have the appropriate permissions, I would be happy to post this to the website.

German 3250 will continue through the approval process. My office will advance the course to OAA.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to Birgitte Søland, faculty Chair of the Theme Advisory Group: Citizenship for a Diverse and Just World, Ila Nagar, faculty Chair of the Themes II Subcommittee, or me.

All my best,
Michael

I acknowledge that the land that The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greenville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. I honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that has and continues to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land.
