Course Description

The purpose of this course is to assist students in developing an understanding of the historical relationship between African Americans and the professional sports industry in America. This chronological examination seeks to highlight and examine the impact African American athletes had on professional sports and in society during the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. We will explore the historical and contemporary influences that sports and entertainment media have on African American athletes and how those representations impact their identity and career aspirations. We will consider how intersections of race, gender, and sexuality function within the world of sports. We will analyze U.S. race relations in the context of sports. We will also investigate the cultural tendency to praise athletic achievements over educational or career ambitions.

Course Objectives

1. To introduce students to the theoretical, historical, social, and cultural conditions of African American athletes and their relationship to the professional sports industry.
2. To develop awareness of issues and concerns involving African American athletes and the sports industry.
3. To help students develop their critical and analytical thinking skills; and improve their writing and oratory skills.

Course Learning Outcomes

After completing this course, students will be able to:

1. Identify, describe, and analyze the historical and contemporary relationship between African American athletes and the professional sports industry
2. Identify, describe, and analyze the historical and contemporary relationship between African American athletes' participation in sports and their contributions to the sports industry and society
3. Identify, describe, and analyze how African American athletes are represented in the media

- Expected Learning Outcome 1.4: Successful students are able to evaluate social and ethical implications of studying race, gender, and ethnicity.

Goal 2: Successful students will recognize and compare a range of lived experiences of race, gender, and ethnicity.

- Expected Learning Outcome 2.1: Successful students are able to demonstrate critical self- reflection and critique of their social positions and identities.

- Expected Learning Outcome 2.3: Successful students are able to describe how the categories of race, gender, and ethnicity influence the lived experiences of others.

This course sets out to introduce students to the theoretical, historical, social, and cultural conditions of African American athletes and their relationship to the professional sports industry. To foster this goal, the course dedicates several weeks to studying contemporary texts that examine the ongoing power and relevance of ethnicity, race, and gender in human social life, and black American sports culture in particular. Significant time is devoted to examining the professional sports industry as a site where many of the social and cultural concerns relevant to issues of race, class, and gender in the United States are performed and contested. Topics covered range from the desegregation of sports, to sports during the Civil Rights Era, to the challenges faced by black women in sports. Students are asked to respond to these topics and issues in class discussions and a class presentation, based on their reading of required texts. Regular quizzes further reinforce student' engagement with these concerns. Finally, students are asked to synthesize their understandings of these interrelated issues in a short research paper on a relevant topic of their choice.

Grading/Assignments

1. Class Participation: Oral class participation is required. Every student is expected to participate in class discussions and is advised to follow the reading schedule. Each student is required to turn on their Zoom video for maximum classroom interaction. Students will be called on by raising their hands, the same as they would if we were having in-person class. As a part of class participation students will be required to give a presentation on one of the readings or part of one of the readings. That will be determined by professor and student. Worth (15%). The class presentation will be delivered at the start of class, lasting no more than 8 minutes. After the presentation is given, the floor will be open up to question and answer, lasting no more than 10 minutes. The presentation is to consist of a typed portion of no more than 1-page to be emailed to the professor the night before. The verbal presentation is to be given at the start of each class.

2. Four Quizzes will be given throughout the semester. Therefore, it is essential that students read assignments before class and take plenty of notes during class. Dates of quizzes will be determined upon consultation between students and professor. Students will determine on what dates quizzes will be taken. Quizzes will be take-home and turned in on the scheduled day. They are worth (40%)
3. Students will also be required to write a short paper ( words) before the end of the semester. (Worth 20%)
4. A Final examination will be given at the end of the semester. (Worth 25%)

Grades will not be posted, sent via email, or verbally reported over the telephone.

Course Format & Environment

In this course, we will use class lectures via Zoom to facilitate learning and to enhance critical thinking. The course takes a practical, hands-on approach to scholarship through the reading of good writing and participating in class discussions. Thus, it is important that everyone completes the assigned readings prior to each class and be prepared to discuss the materials. Students are required to provide positive, meaningful input to class discussions and to sustain respectful interaction with fellow classmates. Each student is expected to help create an environment that is free of discrimination, harassment, and intimidation.

Academic Dishonesty

Ethical conducted is expected at all times. Plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty will result in a final grade of an “F” for the course. University regulations on academic dishonesty are as follows:

Purdue prohibits “dishonesty in connection with any University activity. Cheating, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information to the University are examples of dishonesty.” [University Regulations, Part 5, Section III, B, 2, a] Furthermore, the University Senate has stipulated that “the commitment of acts of cheating, lying, and deceit in any of their diverse forms (such as the use of substitutes for taking examinations, the use of illegal cribs, plagiarism, and copying during examinations) is dishonest and must not be tolerated. Moreover, knowingly to aid and abet, directly or indirectly, other parties in committing dishonest acts is in itself dishonest.” [University Senate Document 72-18, December 15, 1972].

Class Attendance

Regular attendance and participation are mandatory since much of the work in this class is based on class discussions, presentations, films, and guest speakers. There are no excused or unexcused absences. Students are allowed two (2) absences, period. Each subsequent absence will lower class participation by half a letter grade. There is no distinction between excused and unexcused absences. If an emergency arises such as validated illnesses or professional obligations and students are unable to attend class for an extended period, arrangements must be made with the instructor immediately. Written excuses from doctors, parents, or coaches will not exempt students from the class attendance policy.

Punctuality and Deadlines

Anyone tardy on a regular basis will jeopardize their class participation. Tardiness on a regular basis is just cause for lowering a student's grade. Be courteous and respect others. Everyone is expected to turn in all assignments at the beginning of class on the day they are due. Late papers will be accepted. However, papers submitted after the due date will be marked down by a half-letter grade per day.

Academic Misconduct

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct (<http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>).

Disability Services

The university strives to maintain a healthy and accessible environment to support student learning in and out of the classroom. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.

If you are isolating while waiting for a COVID-19 test result, please let me know immediately. Those testing positive for COVID-19 should refer to the Safe and Healthy Buckeyes site for resources. Beyond five days of the required COVID-19 isolation period, I may rely on Student Life Disability Services to establish further reasonable accommodations. You can connect with them at slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; or slds.osu.edu.

Diversity

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Religious Accommodations

It is Ohio State's policy to reasonably accommodate the sincerely held religious beliefs and practices of all students. The policy permits a student to be absent for up to three days each academic semester for reasons of faith or religious or spiritual belief.

Students planning to use religious beliefs or practices accommodations for course requirements must inform the instructor in writing no later than 14 days after the course begins. The instructor is then responsible for scheduling an alternative time and date for the course requirement, which may be before or after the original time and date of the course requirement. These alternative accommodations will remain confidential. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that all course assignments are completed.

Land Acknowledgement

We acknowledge that the land The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greenville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. We want to honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that have and continue to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land.

GE Foundation Courses

Overview

Courses that are accepted into the General Education (GE) Foundations provide introductory or foundational coverage of the subject of that category. Additionally, each course must meet a set of Expected Learning Outcomes (ELO). Courses may be accepted into more than one Foundation, but ELOs for each Foundation must be met. It may be helpful to consult your Director of Undergraduate Studies or appropriate support staff person as you develop and submit your course.

This form contains sections outlining the ELOs of each Foundation category. You can navigate between them using the Bookmarks function in Acrobat. Please enter text in the boxes to describe how your class meets the ELOs of the Foundation(s) to which it applies. Because this document will be used in the course review and approval process, you should use language that is clear and concise and that colleagues outside of your discipline will be able to follow. Please be as specific as possible, listing concrete activities, specific theories, names of scholars, titles of textbooks etc. Your answers will be evaluated in conjunction with the syllabus submitted for the course.

Accessibility

If you have a disability and have trouble accessing this document or need to receive the document in another format, please reach out to Meg Daly at daly.66@osu.edu or call 614-247-8412.
