Course description

This course develops the critical tools of inquiry and quantitative analytical methods needed to approach data informed by feminist, racial, and social justice perspectives. In today's world, data is power. Thus, to be empowered, feminists need a foundation in data analytics. As modes and methods of data collection expand, we see new mechanisms for exposing injustice but also new pathways through which inherent biases in data can exacerbate historical systems of discrimination and oppression. We utilize intersectional feminist theory to identify power differentials in data science and opportunities for greater equity and inclusion. Class meetings will be split between discussions of theoretical readings and explorations of quantitative methods using Excel.

Course learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

- Interrogate the intersections of gender, race/ethnicity, class, sexual orientation and/or gender identity with the process of collecting, cleanings, sorting, and analyzing data.
- Develop skills in effectively communicating the ubiquity of data in all aspects of life and understand how data-driven processes reproduce social inequities.
- Critique data visualizations that obscure the conditions under which the data are produced and create data visualizations that foreground their arguments and the contexts of their production.
- Analyze data documentation to understand the perspectives embedded in the data and the definitions shaping its output.
- Evaluate the consequences of manual and programmatic human classification schemes.
- Cultivate ethics, responsibility, respect, and empathy through the interrogation of the hidden labor in automated data processes.

General education goals and expected learning outcomes

As part of the Race, Ethnicity and Gender Diversity category of the General Education curriculum, this course is designed to prepare students to be able to do the following:

 - Explain how categories including race, gender and ethnicity continue to function within complex systems of power to impact individual lived experiences and broader societal issues.
 - Analyze how the intersection of categories including race, gender and ethnicity combine to shape lived experiences.
 - Evaluate social and ethical implications of studying race, gender and ethnicity.
- Successful students will recognize and compare a range of lived experiences of race, gender and ethnicity.
 - Demonstrate critical self-reflection and critique of their social positions and identities.
 - Recognize how perceptions of difference shape one's own attitudes, beliefs or behaviors.
 - Describe how the categories of race, gender and ethnicity influence the lived experiences of others.

As part of the Social Sciences category of the General Education curriculum, this course is designed to prepare students to be able to do the following:

- Successful students will critically analyze and apply theoretical and empirical approaches within the social and behavioral sciences, including modern principles, theories, methods and modes of inquiry.
 - Explain basic facts, principles, theories and methods of social and behavioral science.
 - Explain and evaluate differences, similarities and disparities among institutions, organizations, cultures, societies and/or individuals using social and behavioral science.

This course develops the critical tools of inquiry and quantitative analytical methods needed to approach data informed by feminist, racial, and social justice perspectives.

HOW THIS IN PERSON/HYBRID COURSE WORKS

Mode of delivery: This course is in person and hybrid as needed. There are no additional required sessions when you must be logged in to Carmen at a scheduled time.

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy (go.osu.edu/credithours), students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average.

Attendance and participation requirements: Because this is an in-person/hybrid course, your attendance is based on both your in-class and online activity and participation. The following is a summary of students' expected participation:

- Participating in in-person/virtual activities for attendance: TWICE PER WEEK
You are expected to attend each class meeting either in-person or synchronously via Zoom. If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.
- Participating in discussion forums: ONCE PER WEEK
As part of your participation, each week you can expect to post at least once as part of our substantive class discussion on the week's topics.

Discussion Posts

Description: Each student will be assigned to submit one discussion post on either Monday/Tuesday or Wednesday/Thursday of each week. These posts will be shared (anonymously) in class meetings for additional discussion.

Academic integrity and collaboration: Outside sources and collaboration are permitted without restriction.

Data Visualizations (2)

Description: Select one dataset from the provided list to dive into for the semester. Identify one (of two) issues you would like to explore using these data. Create a visualization (or multiple visualizations) that illustrate(s) ONE of your selected issues. Provide a narrative to explain the visualization and how it should be interpreted. Submitted papers should be no more than 3 pages double-spaced. Additional details on grading rubric will be provided.

Academic integrity and collaboration: Outside sources are permitted without restriction. Discussion with peers is permitted but all writing should be original or cited appropriately.

Research Paper

Description: Continuing your focus on the selected dataset, describe key characteristics of the data source, including target population; sample and/or sampling methodology; scope (respondents, topics, time period). Reproduce the two data visualizations from prior assignments, along with at least one additional data visualization that illustrates how the biases/limitations of the data affect our interpretation. This visualization may be something you generate on your own, or drawn (with appropriate citation) from an external source, either academic or from the popular press. Submitted papers should be no more than 10 pages double-spaced. Additional details on grading rubric will be provided.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. A more conversational tone is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Commented [ODEE5]: To instructor: The text in the following section is provided just as a suggestion. Fill in with your own policies. These expectations are appropriate for classes where discussion occurs in Carmen. Suggested language for Zoom-based classes: <https://go.osu.edu/odee-syllabus-discussion>

Academic integrity policy

See Descriptions of major course assignments, above, for my specific guidelines about collaboration and academic integrity in the context of this online class.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

- Committee on Academic Misconduct web page (go.osu.edu/coam)
- Ten Suggestions for Preserving Academic Integrity (go.osu.edu/ten-suggestions)

Religious Accommodations

It is Ohio State's policy to reasonably accommodate the sincerely held religious beliefs and practices of all students. The policy permits a student to be absent for up to three days each academic semester for reasons of faith or religious or spiritual belief.

Students planning to use religious beliefs or practices accommodations for course requirements must inform the instructor in writing no later than 14 days after the course begins. The instructor is then responsible for scheduling an alternative time and date for the course requirement, which may be before or after the original time and date of the course requirement. These alternative accommodations will remain confidential. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that all course assignments are completed.

Statement on Title IX

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator at titleix@osu.edu.

Mandatory reporting

As an instructor, one of my responsibilities is to help create a safe learning environment on our campus. I also have a mandatory reporting responsibility related to my role as an instructor. It is my goal that you feel able to share information related to your life experiences in classroom discussions, in your written work, and in our one-on-one meetings. I will seek to keep information you share private to the greatest extent possible. However, I am required to share information regarding sexual misconduct or information about a crime that may have occurred on Ohio State's campus with the University. Students may speak to someone confidentially by calling 1-866-294-9350 or through the Ohio State Anonymous Reporting Line.

Commitment to a diverse and inclusive learning environment

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Land Acknowledgement

We would like to acknowledge the land that The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greenville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. I/We want to honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that has and continues to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land.

More information on OSU's land acknowledgement can be found here: <https://mcc.osu.edu/about-us/land-acknowledgement>

Trigger warning

Some contents of this course may involve media that may be triggering to some students due to descriptions of and/or scenes depicting acts of violence, acts of war, or sexual violence and its aftermath. If needed, please take care of yourself while watching/reading this material (leaving classroom to take a water/bathroom break, debriefing with a friend, contacting Counseling and Consultation Services at 614-292-5766, and contacting the instructor if needed). Expectations are that we all will be respectful of our classmates while consuming this media and that we will create a safe space for each other. Failure to show respect to each other may result in dismissal from the class.

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614--292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614--292--5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available 24/7 by dialing 988 to reach the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline.

ACCESSIBILITY ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Requesting accommodations

The university strives to maintain a healthy and accessible environment to support student learning in and out of the classroom. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.

If you are isolating while waiting for a COVID-19 test result, please let me know immediately. Those testing positive for COVID-19 should refer to the Safe and Healthy Buckeyes site for resources. Beyond five days of the required COVID-19 isolation period, I may rely on Student Life Disability Services to establish further reasonable accommodations. You can connect with them at slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; or slds.osu.edu.

GE Foundation Courses

Overview

Courses that are accepted into the General Education (GE) Foundations provide introductory or foundational coverage of the subject of that category. Additionally, each course must meet a set of Expected Learning Outcomes (ELO). Courses may be accepted into more than one Foundation, but ELOs for each Foundation must be met. It may be helpful to consult your Director of Undergraduate Studies or appropriate support staff person as you develop and submit your course.

This form contains sections outlining the ELOs of each Foundation category. You can navigate between them using the Bookmarks function in Acrobat. Please enter text in the boxes to describe how your class meets the ELOs of the Foundation(s) to which it applies. Because this document will be used in the course review and approval process, you should use language that is clear and concise and that colleagues outside of your discipline will be able to follow. Please be as specific as possible, listing concrete activities, specific theories, names of scholars, titles of textbooks etc. Your answers will be evaluated in conjunction with the syllabus submitted for the course.

If you have a disability and have trouble accessing this document or need to receive the document in another format, please reach out to Meg Daly at daly.66@osu.edu or call 614-247-8412.
