Comments

- We used to have a course called “Survey of African American Art” – it was HistArt 3631 and it was formally withdrawn in 2017. We are reviving this course, at the 2000 level, now that we have two new faculty members who can teach it

Sept 5 2024 - Revised syllabus uploaded, addressing concerns from the feedback email sent 9/4/24

Sept 17 - syllabus revised and uploaded again, in accordance with conversations with the REGD committee chair. Everything should now be good to go (by Whittington, Karl Peter on 09/17/2024 09:34 AM)

Course description

This class argues that the history of African American Art offers us, in practice and theory, histories of “high” and “low” art, everyday objects, and ways of seeing. By conducting a chronological approach to African American Art, we will trace moments of historical continuity as well as emerging practices in order to better understand how the methods, materials, and meanings bracketed under the category of African American Art have been a site of innovation, experimentation, and avant-garde practice. We will spend this semester juxtaposing conventional approaches to art (painting, sculpting, line drawing, installation) with innovative approaches to visual culture (found objects, everyday materials, contemporary performance). Central to our approach is the role of visual, performing, and expressive arts as cultural objects that help us study how race, ethnicity, and gender diversity are formative to African American art and its histories.

Course expected learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

1. Students will analyze primary sources (objects, images, texts) relating to art history.

- Develop skills of visual and textual interpretation
 - Contextualize works in relation to global art histories and other relevant (cultural, social, political) histories
2. Students will use tools developed by art historians.
 - Write research papers using and citing sources appropriately
 - Give effective oral presentations of research-based arguments
 - Use museum and library resources effectively
 - Situate their own inquiries in relation to art historiography
 3. Students will develop arguments about art history
 - Build original ideas and demonstrate their originality by relating them to existing scholarly literature
 - Make claims persuasive by grounding them in interpretation of sources
 4. Students will undertake the intersectional study of race, ethnicity and gender as it applies to art objects, artist biographies, and art histories

This course is a part of the New General Education (GEN) curriculum.

General education goals and expected learning outcomes

As part of the LITERARY, VISUAL, AND PERFORMING ARTS category of the General Education curriculum, this course is designed to prepare students to be able to do the following:

Goals:

1. Successful students will analyze, interpret, and evaluate major forms of human thought, cultures, and expression, and demonstrate capacities for aesthetic and culturally informed understanding.
2. Successful students will experience the arts and reflect on that experience critically and creatively.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

Successful students are able to:

- 1.1. Analyze and interpret significant works of visual, spatial, literary, and/or performing arts and design.
- 1.2. Describe and explain how cultures identify, evaluate, shape, and value works of literature, art, and design.
- 1.3. Evaluate how artistic ideas influence and shape human beliefs and the interactions between the arts and human perceptions and behavior.

1.4. Evaluate social and ethical implications in literature, visual and performing arts, and design.

2.1. Engage in informed observation and/or active participation within the visual, spatial, literary, or performing arts and design.

2.2. Critically reflect on and share their own experience of observing or engaging in the visual, spatial, literary, or performing arts and design.

As part of the RACE, ETHNICITY, AND GENDER DIVERSITY category of the General Education curriculum, this course is designed to prepare students to be able to do the following:

Goals

1. Successful students will engage in a systematic assessment of how historically and socially constructed categories of race, ethnicity and gender, and possibly others, shape perceptions, individual outcomes and broader societal, political, economic and cultural systems.
2. Successful students will recognize and compare a range of lived experiences of race, gender and ethnicity.

Expected Learning Outcomes

Successful students are able to:

1.1 Describe and evaluate the social positions and representations of categories including race, gender and ethnicity, and possibly others.

1.2 Explain how categories including race, gender and ethnicity continue to function within complex systems of power to impact individual lived experiences and broader societal issues.

1.3 Analyze how the intersection of categories including race, gender and ethnicity combine to shape lived experiences.

1.4 Evaluate social and ethical implications of studying race, gender and ethnicity.

2.1 Demonstrate critical self-reflection and critique of their social positions and identities.

2.2 Recognize how perceptions of difference shape one's own attitudes, beliefs or behaviors.

2.3 Describe how the categories of race, gender and ethnicity influence the lived experiences of others.

We will implement the GE goals and outcomes through critical engagement with readings from a range of historical contexts, focusing primarily on a diverse range of experiences and frameworks. Lectures and discussions will focus on how African American art and art histories connect to the GE goals for the categories LITERARY, VISUAL, AND PERFORMING ARTS as well as the RACE, ETHNICITY, AND GENDER DIVERSITY foundation.

Using the readings and artworks as foundations, students will demonstrate command of course materials resulting in an annotated bibliography assignment that include a range of materials, including artworks, primary sources, archival ephemera, popular press essays, and peer-reviewed articles drawn from class. This assignment covers many of the GE expected learning outcomes, including (but not limited to) the ability to define and describe art objects and their relationship to the complex formations of power that impact race, ethnicity, and gender diversity; evaluate how artistic ideas influence and shape human beliefs and the interactions between the arts and human perceptions and behavior; and demonstrate critically reflect on and share an experience of observing or engaging in the visual, spatial, literary, or performing arts and design; and critical self-reflection and critique of their social positions and identities.

Weekly in-class worksheets track student comprehension by asking 2 focused questions specific to course reading materials. Students will also be asked the following question every week: Choose one art object discussed in the readings and comment on how the formal qualities of this work help us think expansively and critically on race, gender, and gender formation. The final exam will be an assessment on the skills we have been building throughout the class—the development of key terms from readings and lectures; visual description and analysis skills for art objects; the ability to critically evaluate the relationship between art to race, ethnicity, and gender diversity and formation in the U.S.

Course communication guidelines

Email Communication

Please check your email frequently because we will communicate with you via email often. I respond to emails within 48 hours, M-F. This means plan ahead and do not expect me to respond overnight. I recommend speaking/emailing one another first. Also, I do not read rough drafts over email. If you would like me to read a draft of your work, please bring a copy during office hours.

In- class Discussion

All students are expected to actively participate in course discussion whether in small group activities or all-class conversations. We will uphold a shared commitment to mutual respect and healthy disagreements, emphasizing the kinds of approaches to discussion that aim towards growth and collective learning. I expect you all to export this approach to your written modes of communication as well.

Writing style

Writing should be submitted with the highest degree of editorial review, including spelling, grammar, and voice. Students are encouraged to develop a tone like the articles we read together. This includes developing strong argumentative scaffolding via application of historical and theoretical frameworks, defining key concepts, and citing sources to the fullest degree. I expect this degree of review in email and Canvas correspondence as well.

Tone and civility

Students are expected to communicate with the highest level of respect demonstrated not only when we speak, but also how we listen. We will uphold a shared commitment to mutual respect and healthy disagreements, emphasizing the kinds of approaches to discussion that aim towards growth and collective learning.

Citing your sources

All citations for this course will be in Chicago style format. I recommend you visit both the Fine Arts Library Guide for History of Art as well as the Citing Sources Using Chicago Style for a comprehensive list of resources.

Protecting and saving your work

I encourage you to compose your work in documents or word processing tools outside of Carmen where you can ensure their work will be saved. This will ensure a backup in case you encounter any issues with browser time-outs, failed submission attempts, or lack of internet connectivity.

Course materials and technologies

Textbooks Required

All course readings are available as PDF files on Carmen.

Technology support

For help with your password, university email, Carmen, or any other technology issues, questions, or requests, contact the Ohio State IT Service Desk. Standard support hours are available at it.osu.edu/help, and support for urgent issues is available 24/7.

- Self-Service and Chat support: it.osu.edu/help
- Phone: 614-688-4357(HELP)
- Email: 8help@osu.edu
- TDD: 614-688-8743

Technology skills needed for this course

- Basic computer and web-browsing skills
- Navigating Carmen (go.osu.edu/canvasstudent)
- CarmenZoom virtual meetings (go.osu.edu/zoom-meetings)

Required Equipment

- Computer: current Mac (MacOs) or PC (Windows 10) with high-speed internet connection
- Other: a mobile device (smartphone or tablet) to use for BuckeyePass authentication

Required software

- Microsoft Office 365: All Ohio State students are now eligible for free Microsoft Office 365. Full instructions for downloading and installation can be found at go.osu.edu/office365help.

Carmen Access

You will need to use BuckeyePass (buckeyepass.osu.edu) multi-factor authentication to access your courses in Carmen. To ensure that you are able to connect to Carmen at all times, it is recommended that you take the following steps:

- Register multiple devices in case something happens to your primary device. Visit the BuckeyePass
- Request passcodes to keep as a backup authentication option. When you see the Duo login screen on your computer, click Enter a Passcode and then click the Text me new codes button that appears. This will text you ten passcodes good for 365 days that can each be used once.

- Download the Duo Mobile application to all of your registered devices for the ability to generate one-time codes in the event that you lose cell, data, or Wi-Fi service. If none of these options will meet the needs of your situation, you can contact the IT Service Desk at 614-688-4357(HELP) and IT support staff will work out a solution with you.

Grading and instructor response

How your grade is calculated

Assignment Category	Points and/or Percentage
Attendance	10%
In-Class Participation Assignment	20%

Annotated Bibliography	30% (Part I: 15%; Part II: 15%)
Final Examination	25%
Total	100%

Description of major course assignments

Attendance (10%)

- Students are required to do all required reading and be able to critically address the texts during lecture. Many of the qualifications for a passing grade detailed here are executed in lecture and discussion. It is in your best interest to show up to class prepared and ready to participate. On this note, perfect attendance with minimal participation does not qualify as “A” level participation. This means you are expected to critically engage in the readings, activities, and discussions we have in class.
- Many of the qualifications for a passing grade detailed here are executed in lecture and discussion. It is in your best interest to show up to class prepared and ready to participate. On this note, perfect attendance with minimal participation does not qualify as “A” level participation. This means you are expected to critically engage in the readings, activities, and discussions we have in class. Students will receive full credit if they actively participate in class discussions weekly and demonstrate engagement with lectures and discussions by grounding contributions in course readings.

In-Class Assignments (20%)

- The readings are the foundation of this course. Each week's readings foreground race, ethnicity, and gender diversity as constitutive elements in the history of Black American Art. These worksheets are open-book and will assess your reading comprehension. You will be asked to speak to how the author addresses race and ethnicity in their writing. These worksheets will be guides for the rest of the week and for course exams. You must answer all parts of each question to receive full credit.

Museum Visit + Formal Analysis (15%)

- Students will visit the Columbus Museum of Art to view a key work by a Black American artist. For this site visit, you are required to complete the "In The Field" worksheet posted on Canvas. Students are required to submit this worksheet with a selfie in front of the artwork of their choosing.
- Students will complete a 500-750 word analysis. Formal analysis is an explanation of visual structure of how certain visual elements have been arranged and function within a composition. You will discuss the formal qualities of a work in relation to how these formal qualities impact the object's meaning more broadly. Assignment guidelines and resource worksheet are available on Carmen.

Annotated Bibliography (30%)

- Part I Due: Week 7 (15% of total assignment grade) and Part II: Week 14 (15% of total assignment grade)
- An annotated bibliography is a resource that is invaluable for your intellectual and artistic practice. An annotated bibliography begins with a Chicago-style formatted complete citation of the text at the top of the page, and includes a critical summary, assessment, and evaluation of each source. Students will choose 20 readings from course materials.
 1. Summarize (3-5 sentences): Summarize the reading: What are the main arguments? What is the point of this book or article? What topics are covered? If someone asked what this article/book is about, what would you say? How does the author take up race, ethnicity, and gender diversity in their analysis?
 2. Assess (3 sentences): After summarizing a source, evaluate it: What intellectual genealogy is this source drawing from (hint: who is the author citing? who are they referencing in their writing)? What frameworks or disciplines is the author deploying (ie. philosophy, art history, economics, literary studies, etc.)?
 3. Reflect (5-7 sentences): Once you've summarized and assessed a source, you need to ask how it fits into your research interests: How was this source generative for your interests? What lines of thought, critical vocabularies, or frameworks does this reading open up for you? How does it help you shape your artistic-scholarship? Has it changed how you think about your topic?

Students will write a total of 30 annotated bibliography entries. Choose 12 readings from Weeks 1-7 and 18 from weeks 7-13. Guidelines are available on canvas.

All annotations (especially the summary phase) must have appropriate citations. Annotated bibliographies without citations will be considered plagiarized and are subject to academic dishonesty.

Final Examination (25%)

- Your final exam will be a cumulative examination of all course materials. The final exam will take place on the final day of class. The study guide is uploaded onto Carmen.
- Format
 - 30 Slide Identifications: Identify the artist, title, and date of the work presented. You will have 1.5 minutes per slide.
 - 10 Key Concept Definitions: Match each term with the corresponding definition.
 - 2 Short Answer Comparative Slide Questions: Students will respond to two intertextual prompts using images given to you from across multiple weeks. You will be required to respond in 2-3 paragraph answers.

Late assignments

Late work will be accepted on a case by case basis. Students with permission to submit late work can receive up to 75% of the total grade. Assignments will not be considered for credit if submitted after 7 days from the initial due date.

Grading Scale

93-100: A	87-89: B+	77-79: C+	69: D+	59-0: E
90-92: A-	84-86: B	71-76: C	68-61: D
	80-83: B-	70: C-	60: D-

Instructor feedback and response time

I will provide formative feedback on assignments within ten days of submission. Students who want feedback on drafts must make an appointment with me to discuss notes.

Grading and feedback

I will provide grades on assignments within ten days of submission.

Preferred contact method

I respond to emails within 48 hours, M-F. This means plan ahead and do not expect me to respond overnight.

Academic policies

Academic integrity policy

See Descriptions of major course assignments, above, for my specific guidelines around academic integrity.

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct: <http://studentlife.osu.edu/csc/>.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.

Other sources of information on academic misconduct (integrity) to which you can refer include:

- Committee on Academic Misconduct web page (go.osu.edu/coam)
- Ten Suggestions for Preserving Academic Integrity (go.osu.edu/ten-suggestions)

Copyright for instructional materials

The materials used in connection with this course may be subject to copyright protection and are only for the use of students officially enrolled in the course for the educational purposes associated with the course. Copyright law must be considered before copying, retaining, or disseminating materials outside of the course.

Statement on title IX

Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender are Civil Rights offenses subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories (e.g., race). If you or someone you know has been sexually harassed or assaulted, you may find the appropriate resources at <http://titleix.osu.edu> or by contacting the Ohio State Title IX Coordinator at titleix@osu.edu

Commitment to a diverse and inclusive learning environment

The Ohio State University affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. We are committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among each member of our community; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Land acknowledgement

We would like to acknowledge the land that The Ohio State University occupies is the ancestral and contemporary territory of the Shawnee, Potawatomi, Delaware, Miami, Peoria, Seneca, Wyandotte, Ojibwe and Cherokee peoples. Specifically, the university resides on land ceded in the 1795 Treaty of Greeneville and the forced removal of tribes through the Indian Removal Act of 1830. I/We want to honor the resiliency of these tribal nations and recognize the historical contexts that has and continues to affect the Indigenous peoples of this land.

More information on OSU's land acknowledgement can be found here:

<https://mcc.osu.edu/about-us/land-acknowledgement>

Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on-call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available 24/7 by dialing 988 to reach the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline.

Accessibility accommodations for students with disabilities

Requesting accommodations

The university strives to maintain a healthy and accessible environment to support student learning in and out of the classroom. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.

If you are ill and need to miss class, including if you are staying home and away from others while experiencing symptoms of a viral infection or fever, please let me know immediately. In cases where illness interacts with an underlying medical condition, please consult with Student Life Disability Services to request reasonable accommodations. You can connect with them at slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; or slds.osu.edu.

Religious accommodations

The following statement on religious accommodations:

Ohio State has had a longstanding practice of making reasonable academic accommodations for students' religious beliefs and practices in accordance with applicable law. In 2023, Ohio State updated its practice to align with new state legislation. Under this new provision, students must be in early communication with their instructors regarding any known accommodation requests for religious beliefs and practices, providing notice of specific dates for which they request alternative accommodations within 14 days after the first instructional day of the course.

Instructors in turn shall not question the sincerity of a student's religious or spiritual belief system in reviewing such requests and shall keep requests for accommodations confidential.

With sufficient notice, instructors will provide students with reasonable alternative accommodations with regard to examinations and other academic requirements with respect to students' sincerely held religious beliefs and practices by allowing up to three absences each semester for the student to attend or participate in religious activities. Examples of religious accommodations can include, but are not limited to, rescheduling an exam, altering the time of a student's presentation, allowing make-up assignments to substitute for missed class work, or flexibility in due dates or research responsibilities. If concerns arise about a requested accommodation, instructors are to consult their tenure initiating Week head for assistance.

A student's request for time off shall be provided if the student's sincerely held religious belief or practice severely affects the student's ability to take an exam or meet an academic requirement and the student has notified their instructor, in writing during the first 14 days after the course begins, of the date of each absence. Although students are required to provide notice within the first 14 days after a course begins, instructors are strongly encouraged to work with the student to provide a reasonable accommodation if a request is made outside the notice period. A student may not be penalized for an absence approved under this policy.

If students have questions or disputes related to academic accommodations, they should contact their course instructor, and then their department or college office. For questions or to report discrimination or harassment based on religion, individuals should contact the Office of Institutional Equity.

Policy: Religious Holidays, Holy Days and Observances

GE Foundation Courses

Overview

Courses that are accepted into the General Education (GE) Foundations provide introductory or foundational coverage of the subject of that category. Additionally, each course must meet a set of Expected Learning Outcomes (ELO). Courses may be accepted into more than one Foundation, but ELOs for each Foundation must be met. It may be helpful to consult your Director of Undergraduate Studies or appropriate support staff person as you develop and submit your course.

This form contains sections outlining the ELOs of each Foundation category. You can navigate between them using the Bookmarks function in Acrobat. Please enter text in the boxes to describe how your class meets the ELOs of the Foundation(s) to which it applies. Because this document will be used in the course review and approval process, you should use language that is clear and concise and that colleagues outside of your discipline will be able to follow. Please be as specific as possible, listing concrete activities, specific theories, names of scholars, titles of textbooks etc. Your answers will be evaluated in conjunction with the syllabus submitted for the course.

GE Rationale: Foundations: Race, Ethnicity, and Gender Diversity (3 credits)

Requesting a GE category for a course implies that the course fulfills all the expected learning outcomes (ELOs) of that GE category. To help the reviewing panel evaluate the appropriateness of your course for the Foundations: Race, Ethnicity, and Gender Diversity, please answer the following questions for each ELO.

A. Foundations

Please explain in 50-500 words why or how this course is introductory or foundational for the study of Race, Ethnicity and Gender Diversity.

Course Subject & Number: _____

B. Specific Goals of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender Diversity

GOAL 1: Successful students will engage in a systematic assessment of how historically and socially constructed categories of race, ethnicity, and gender, and possibly others, shape perceptions, individual outcomes, and broader societal, political, economic, and cultural systems.

Expected Learning Outcome 1.1: Successful students are able to describe and evaluate the social positions and representations of categories including race, gender, and ethnicity, and possibly others. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met. (50-700 words)

Expected Learning Outcome 1.2: Successful students are able to explain how categories including race, gender, and ethnicity continue to function within complex systems of power to impact individual lived experiences and broader societal issues. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met. (50-700 words)

Course Subject & Number: _____

Expected Learning Outcome 1.3: Successful students are able to analyze how the intersection of categories including race, gender, and ethnicity combine to shape lived experiences. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met. (50-700 words)

Expected Learning Outcome 1.4: Successful students are able to evaluate social and ethical implications of studying race, gender, and ethnicity. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met. (50-700 words)

Course Subject & Number: _____

GOAL 2: Successful students will recognize and compare a range of lived experiences of race, gender, and ethnicity.

Expected Learning Outcome 2.1: Successful students are able to demonstrate critical self- reflection and critique of their social positions and identities. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met. (50-700 words)

Expected Learning Outcome 2.2: Successful students are able to recognize how perceptions of difference shape one’s own attitudes, beliefs, or behaviors. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met. (50-700 words)

Course Subject & Number: _____

Expected Learning Outcome 2.3: Successful students are able to describe how the categories of race, gender, and ethnicity influence the lived experiences of others. Please link this ELO to the course goals and topics and indicate specific activities/assignments through which it will be met.

Course Subject & Number: _____

GE Rationale: Foundations: Literary, Visual, or Performing Arts (3 credits)
