1. Provide the rationale for proposing this course:

This course will neatly complement other OSU classes that address issues of difference and diversity. An issue of historical and contemporary concern, this course will fill a gap in our offerings in world and Jewish history and will provide a useful sequence with students who enroll in History 331 (History of the Holocaust). Similar courses taught at other prestigious research universities such as the University of Michigan and UCLA consistently attract full enrollment.

2. Please list Majors/Minors affected by the creation of this new course. Attach revisions of all affected programs.
This course is (check one): ☐ Required on major(s)/minor(s) ☐ A choice on major(s)/minors(s)
☐ An elective within major(s)/minor(s) ☒ A general elective:

3. Indicate the nature of the program adjustments, new funding, and/or withdrawals that make possible the implementation of this new course.

With the hiring of new faculty in European history, Professor Judd will not have to teach both History 112 and History 398 annually. This will allow her greater flexibility to teach an additional course in Modern Jewish history. Furthermore, Professor Beyerchen will now begin teaching History 331 with greater regularity, which also will give Professor Judd greater flexibility to teach additional courses in modern Jewish history.

4. Is the approval of this request contingent upon the approval of other course requests or curricular requests?

Yes ☐ No ☒ List:

5. If this course is part of a sequence, list the number of the other course(s) in the sequence: _____

6. Expected section size: 60-90 Proposed number of sections per year: 1

7. Do you want prerequisites enforced electronically (see OAA manual for what can be enforced)? Yes ☐ No ☒

8. This course has been discussed with and has the concurrence of the following academic units needing this course or with academic units having directly related interests (List units and attach letters and/or forms):
Not Applicable ☒

9. Attach a course syllabus that includes a topical outline of the course, student learning outcomes and/or course objectives, off-campus field experience, methods of evaluation, and other items as stated in the OAA curriculum manual and e-mail to ascurofc@osu.edu.
